The Black Hole Pradip Choudhuri, 1990 The Rise of the Memoir Alex Zwerdling, 2017 The Rise of the Memoir traces the growth and extraordinarily wide appeal of the memoir Its territory is private rather than public life shame guilt and embarrassment not the achievements celebrated in the public record What accounts for the sharp need writers like Rousseau Woolf Orwell Nabokov Primo Levi and Maxine Hong Kingston felt to write and to publish such works when they might more easily have chosen to remain silent Alex Zwerdling explores why each of these writers felt compelled to write them as that story can be reconstructed from personal materials available in archival collections what internal conflicts they encountered while trying and how each of them resisted the private and public pressures to stop themselves rather than pursuing this confessional route against their own doubts without a reasonable expectation that such works would be welcome in print and eventually find an empathetic audience Reconstructing this process in which a dubious project eventually becomes a compelling product a memoir that will last illuminates both what was at stake and why this serially invented open form has reshaped the expectations of readers who welcomed a vital alternative to the official story New and Collected Poems 1964-2007 Ishmael Reed, 2007-07-26 First poetry collection in nearly twenty years In language that is pointed innovative and profoundly optimistic Reed weaves politics and war with Nigerian poetry and jazz all in the service of his continual redefinition of American culture International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets The Anthology of Black Mountain College Poetry Blake Hobby, Alessandro Porco, Joseph Bathanti, 2025-02-05 Founded in 1933 near Asheville North Carolina Black Mountain College fostered experimentation and interdisciplinary learning placing the arts at the heart of its curriculum As such the college was home to and served as inspiration for many modern and postmodern American poets Some of them including Charles Olson Robert Creeley and Denise Levertov appeared in Donald Allen s groundbreaking New American Poetry anthology published in 1960 later becoming part of the American poetry canon However many writers affiliated with Black Mountain College have been overlooked The Anthology of Black Mountain College Poetry features over fifty poets selected with an expansive historical and critical lens including those not typically considered as poets such as composer John Cage architect Buckminster Fuller and visual artist Josef Albers Many years in the making this book presents the clearest picture of the poetry and poetics of Black Mountain College yet *Black Holes / J. Wave Forms James H. Bunn, 2002 In this daring book the author proposes that artistic and literary forms can be understood as modulations of wave forms in the physical world By the phrase natural syntax he means that physical nature enters human communication literally by way of a transmitting wave frequency This premise addresses a central question about symbolism in this century How are our ideas symbolically related to physical reality The author outlines a theory of communication in which nature is not reached by reference to an object rather nature is part of the message known only tacitly as the wavy carrier of a sign or signal One doesn't refer to nature even though one might be aiming to one refers with nature as carrier vehicle The author demonstrates that a natural language of transmission has an inherent physical syntax of patterned wave forms which can also be described as certain laws of form a phrase used by D Arcy Thompson L L Whyte Noam Chomsky and Stephen Jay Gould He describes a syntax inherent in natural languages that derives from the rhythmic form of a propelling wave Instead of the laws of a wave's form however the author speaks of its elements of rhythmic composition because rythmos means wave in Greek and because composition describes the creative process across the arts In pursuing a philosophy of rhythmic composition the author draws on cognitive science and semiotics But he chiefly employs symmetry theory to describe the forms of art and especially the patterns of poetry as structures built upon the natural syntax of wave forms Natural syntax it turns out follows a fascinating group of symmetry transformations that derive from wave forms
