The Blue Wall Street Cops In Canada:

The Blue Wall Carsten Stroud, 1983      Jailed for Possession Catherine Carstairs, 2006-12-15 As rates of illegal drug use increase the debates over drug policy heat up While some believe penalties should be harsher others advocate complete decriminalisation Certainly debate over the war on drugs is not new In the early 1920s as the drive for Chinese Exclusion gathered steam Canadians blamed the Chinese for the growing use of opium and other drugs and parliamentarians passed extremely harsh drug laws to counter this use These laws remained in place until the 1960s In Jailed for Possession Catherine Carstairs examines the impact of these drug laws on users health work lives and relationships In the middle of the century drug users regularly went to jail for up to two years for possession of even the smallest amount of opium morphine heroin or cocaine often spending more time incarcerated than on the street As enforcement increased and drugs became harder to obtain drug use became an increasingly central preoccupation making it almost impossible for users to hold down steady jobs support families or maintain solid relationships Jailed for Possession is the first social history of drug use in Canada and provides a careful examination of drug users and their regulators including doctors social workers and police officers

Racialized Policing Elizabeth Comack, 2012-03-01T00:00:00Z Policing is a controversial subject generating considerable debate One issue of concern has been racial profiling by police that is the alleged practice of targeting individuals and groups on the basis of race Racialized Policing argues that the debate has been limited by its individualized frame As well the concentration on police relations with people of colour means that Aboriginal people's encounters with police receive far less scrutiny Going beyond the interpersonal level and broadening our gaze to explore how race and racism play out in institutional practices and systemic processes this book exposes the ways in which policing is racialized Situating the police in their role as reproducers of order Elizabeth Comack draws on the historical record and contemporary cases of Aboriginal police relations the shooting of J J Harper by a Winnipeg police officer in 1988 the Starlight Tours in Saskatoon and the shooting of Matthew Dumas by a Winnipeg police officer in 2005 as well as interviews conducted with Aboriginal people in Winnipeg's inner city communities to explore how race and racism inform the routine practices of police officers and define the cultural frames of reference that officers adopt in their encounters with Aboriginal people In short having defined Aboriginal people as troublesome police respond with troublesome practices of their own Arguing that resolution requires a fundamental transformation in the structure and organization of policing Racialized Policing makes suggestions for re framing the role of police and the order they reproduce

Cowboys and Indians Gordon Sinclair, 1999 When J J Harper of the Island Lake Tribal Council was fatally shot on a wintry Winnipeg street in 1988 the city police department was quick to absolve the officer involved from all blame Less than a day after the shooting Police Chief Herb Stephen announced that Harper had died during a struggle for Constable Robert Cross's gun But the truth was not so cut and dried Far from closing the case Stephen's remarks were just the start of this dramatic tale of sex death threats flimsy charges and a police force so out of control that a prominent lawyer a senior Crown attorney and a respected journalist all had reason to suspect they were being watched by the police Pursued doggedly by Winnipeg Free Press columnist Gordon Sinclair Jr the stranger than fiction story of the shooting of J J Harper points a finger at the growing disaster of race relations and policing in Canada's inner cities The Canadian forum ,1982-04 Police, Firefighter, and Paramedic Stress John J.

Miletich,1990-01-16 Public safety professionals work together in life and death situations During natural or transportation disasters industrial accidents shootings suicides or dozens of other instances police officers firefighters and paramedics are called upon to assist both injured and uninjured people Although often romanticized in television series and in films the real life tasks of public safety professionals are usually unpleasant restraining violent individuals and removing accident homicide and suicide victims from death scenes and always highly stressful They are frequently subjected to additional stress when their efforts are criticized by family members of the injured or deceased Although stress can be harmful even fatal police officers firefighters and paramedics can have more productive and satisfying lives when they learn to positively control stress rather than be controlled by it This English language bibliography consisting of more than 700 references covering the time period 1945 to early 1989 can help these and other professionals manage stress more effectively Source publications all of which are annotated include books articles conference proceedings theses government publications and dissertations The bibliography section is composed of six chapters addressing psychological and physiological factors the family substance abuse accidents and suicide with references arranged alphabetically by author surname A list of acronyms and author and subject indexes complete the work Of paramount importance to police officers firefighters and paramedics as well as their families this bibliography will provide legislators physicians nurses social workers psychiatrists psychologists and sociologists with extensive and substantial documentation on the stress filled work lives of these public safety professionals

The Vigilant Eye Greg Marquis,2017-01-19T00:00:00Z In The Vigilant Eye Greg Marquis combines the narrative and chronological approach of traditional institutional history with the critical approaches of social history legal history and criminology The book begins with the English and Irish roots of nineteenth century British North American policing and traces the development of the three models of law enforcement that would shape the future the local rural constable the municipal police department and the paramilitary territorial constabulary Marquis examines the development of provincial police services whose expansion coincided with the rise of mass automobile ownership and controversies over alcohol prohibition and control and their eventual absorption into the RCMP In terms of political policing the vigilant eye has monitored harassed and disrupted various social and political movements ranging from Fenians to communists to Quebec separatists and environmentalists Marquis argues that the style of community policing in vogue during the 1970s and 1980s lacked confidence and had a limited impact Canada's simplistic crime fighting model undermines genuine reform including curbs on the use of deadly force on citizens and justifies the increased militarization of policing Marquis argues that it is time for citizens to turn their vigilant eye towards police and policing in their own communities      Police Officer Claude L. Vincent,1990-01-01 This insightful study provides a look at policing in Canada from the viewpoint of rank and file members of the police community This revised edition of the landmark Policeman 1979 examines police officers as an occupational culture and the way they become socialized into this stressful and often isolated community      The Canadian Forum Charles Bruce Sissons,Richard De Brisay,1983 Includes critical reviews      The Canadian Abridgment ,1981      Canadian Books in Print ,1990      Canadiana ,1984      A Reporter's Guide to Canada's Criminal Justice System Harold J. Levy,Canadian Bar Foundation,1986      Canadian Book Review Annual ,1984      Yearbook of American and Canadian Churches ,1924      The Blue Wall Carsten Stroud,1984      Canadian Selection Alvan Bregman,Ontario.
