Sumatra Island Of Adventure:

Sumatra Eric Oey, 1994 Violence and Serenity Natasha Reichle, 2007-07-26 The mention of Buddhism in Indonesia calls to mind for many people the Central Javanese monument of Borobudur one of the largest Buddhist monuments in the world and the subject of extensive scholarly scrutiny The neglect of scholarship on Buddhist art from later periods might lead one to assume that after the tenth century Buddhism had been completely eclipsed by the predominantly Hindu Eastern Javanese dynasties Yet as the works discussed here illustrate extraordinary Buddhist images were still being produced as late as the fourteenth century Violence and Serenity offers a close examination of some of the impressive works from East Java and Sumatra and explores their political and religious roles The number of clearly identifiable Buddhist works from the Singasari and Majapahit dynasties 1222 ca 1520 is limited yet existing examples are impressive They demonstrate a remarkable level of craftsmanship and are exceptionally expressive exhibiting a range of emotions from the ferocious to the serene Following a brief discussion of the early history of Buddhism in Indonesia Natasha Reichle focuses each chapter on a specific statue or group of statues and considers the larger issues evoked by the images Through a rarely examined depiction of the last Singasari king she explores the nature of religion in Java in the late thirteenth century and what we know about tantric practices and the syncretism of Hinduism and Buddhism She reassesses the question of portraiture in ancient Javanese art while contemplating the famous Prajaparamita from Singasari Notions of kingship are discussed in light of a number of statues depicting the Buddhist deity Amoghapasa and his attendants and the meanings of the Amoghapasamala The final chapter examines the origins and significance of one of Indonesia's most spectacular sculptures a four meter high Buddhist bhairava demon discovered in West Sumatra Adventures in Cryptozoology Volume 1 Richard

Immediately after the disaster the second World Conference on Disaster Reduction was held in Kobe Japan and formulated the Hyogo Framework for Action HFA 2005. 2015 HFA provided a platform and framework for changes and innovations many of which were part of the recovery programs in the different countries affected by the 2004 disaster. This book is a modest attempt to review the lessons learned through the recovery process in the affected region. The book has 31 chapters drawing lessons from four countries: India, Indonesia, Sri Lanka, and Thailand. There are five sections: Overview (10 chapters), Indonesia (8 chapters), India (6 chapters), Sri Lanka (5 chapters), and Thailand (2 chapters). The primary target groups for this book are students and researchers in the fields of disaster risk reduction, environment, and development. The book provides them with a good idea of the current research trends and lessons over the past decade of recovery initiatives. Another target group comprises practitioners and policy makers who will be able to apply the knowledge collected here to establishing policy and making decisions. The Adventure travel guide for Indonesia, 2025-09-25
