The Sun, the Genome & the Internet Freeman J. Dyson, 1999 In this visionary look into the future Freeman Dyson argues that technological changes fundamentally alter our ethical and social arrangements and that three rapidly advancing new technologies solar energy genetic engineering and world wide communication together have the potential to create a more equal distribution of the world's wealth Dyson begins by rejecting the idea that scientific revolutions are primarily concept driven He shows rather that new tools are more often the sparks that ignite scientific discovery Such tool driven revolutions have profound social consequences the invention of the telescope turning the Medieval world view upside down the widespread use of household appliances in the 1950s replacing servants to cite just two examples In looking ahead Dyson suggests that solar energy genetics and the Internet will have similarly transformative effects with the potential to produce a more just and equitable society Solar power could bring electricity to even the poorest most remote areas of third world nations allowing everyone access to the vast stores of information on the Internet and effectively ending the cultural isolation of the poorest countries Similarly breakthroughs in genetics may well enable us to give our children healthier lives and grow more efficient crops thus restoring the economic and human vitality of village cultures devalued and dislocated by the global market Written with passionate conviction about the ethical uses of science The Sun the Genome and the Internet is both a brilliant reinterpretation of the scientific process and a challenge to use new technologies to close rather than widen the gap between rich and poor The Sun, The Genome, and The Internet : Tools of Scientific Revolution Freeman J.

The Spike Damien Broderick, 2001-02-10 The rate at which technology is changing our world not just on a global level like space travel and instant worldwide communications but on the level of what we choose to wear where we live and what we eat is staggeringly fast and getting faster all the time The rate of change has become so fast that a concept that started off sounding like science fiction has become a widely expected outcome in the near future a singularity referred to as The Spike At that point of singularity the cumulative changes on all fronts will affect the existence of humanity as a species and cause a leap of evolution into a new state of being On the other side of that divide intelligence will be freed from the constraints of the flesh machines will achieve a level of intelligence in excess of our own and boundless in its ultimate potential engineering will take place at the level of molecular reconstruction which will allow everything from food to building materials to be assembled as needed from microscopic components rather than grown or manufactured we'll all become effectively immortal by either digitizing and uploading our minds into organic machines or by transforming our bodies into illness free undecaying exemplars of permanent health and vitality The results of all these changes will be unimaginable social dislocation a complete restructuring of human society and a great leap
