Situation Ethics Joseph F. Fletcher, 1966 A manifesto of individual freedom and individual responsibility elaborated within an ethic of love which extricates modern man from rigid archaic rules and codes Proclaiming that any moral system is too shallow and petty to provide answers the author outlines a methodology for decision making which presupposes individual responsibility and declares that every man must decide for himself what is right Rising above any creed this renewed morality of loving concern is based on agape the love of which only God is capable but which every man must endeavor to emulate Cover notes Handbook of Moral Behavior and Development William M. observation does not mean that the older generation is necessarily wrong but what it indisputably does show is that they attach high importance to morality and moral education But what characterises a moral person What influences people to behave morally What should moral education involve Which inter disciplinary contributions are relevant to improving moral education These questions continuously deserve the attention of academics students and professional educators This book is divided into four parts The first part focuses on interdisciplinary empirical research about the reasons why people act morally and the consequences for moral education The primarily philosophical chapters of the second part address the question what it means to be a moral person and the implication of this elucidation for moral education The third part contains five chapters that deal with moral aspects of sex education and civic education The fourth part consists of one chapter that looks at the moral education of students who will work in a pedagogical or educational environment arguing that one s moral development requires a lifetime commitment This book is written for a wide academic audience The collection of chapters will be of interest to pedagogues educational scientists moral philosophers and moral psychologists and to both newcomers and experts in the field
