Disease management and health workforce management are two major subjects that involve positive psychology that have been widely investigated in the past few years. Therefore, by combining positive psychology and health management, this topic aims to facilitate cutting edge ideas and research to explore multidisciplinary approaches of positive psychology in disease management and health workforce management. Our specific aim is to explore how the construct of positive psychology mitigates the negative consequences on patients or family with disease burden and healthcare workers under job related stress. Furthermore, we hope to recognize the distinct adaptive trajectories of these areas on which positive psychological resources may have an effect. Based on these, we want to highlight the efficacy, effectiveness, and implementation of positive psychology based intervention for patients or healthcare workers to promote resiliency. Through the achievement of these aims, we also hope to develop new theories and instruments which are culturally sensitive and contextually innovative.
