The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Charles F. Horne,2018-03-16 Excerpt from The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East With Historical Surveys of the Chief Writings of Each Nation For many centuries the acquaintance which the majority of Europeans possessed of Muhammadanism was based almost entirely on distorted reports of fanatical Christians which led to the dissemination of a multitude of gross calumnies What was good in Muhammadanism was entirely ignored and what was not good in the eyes of Europe was exaggerated or misinterpreted It must not however be forgotten that the central doctrine preached by Muhammad to his contemporaries in Arabia who worshipped the Stars to the Persians who acknowledged Ormuz and Ahriman the Indians who worshipped idols and the Turks who had no particular worship was the unity of God and that the simplicity of his creed was probably a more potent factor in the spread of Islam than the sword of the Ghazis Islam although seriously affecting the Christian world brought a Spiritual religion to one half of Asia and it is an amazing circumstance that the Turks who on several occasions let loose their Central Asian hordes over India and the Middle East though irresistible in the onslaught of their arms were all conquered in their turn by the Faith of Islam and founded Muhammadan dynasties About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      The Koran: Translated Into English

Elimam,Alysia S. Fletcher,2021-08-19 This book aims to identify how the Qur'an is narrated in and by the press media through the use of translation featuring examples from a corpus of newspaper articles from the UK and Europe across two decades Drawing on work at the intersection of narrative theory and translation studies the volume highlights the ways in which press media play an integral role in the construction promotion and circulation of narratives about events and communities shedding light specifically on translations of Qur'anic verses across British Italian and Spanish newspapers between 2001 and 2019. Elimam and Fletcher examine how such translations have been used to create and disseminate narratives about the Qur'an and in turn Islam and Muslims unpacking the kinds of narratives evoked personal public conceptual and meta narratives and narrative strategies employed selective appropriation temporality causal emplotment and relationality toward framing readers understanding of the Qur'an. The book will be of particular interest to scholars working at the intersection of translation studies and such areas as media studies religion politics and sociology. Marked Word Order in the Qurān and its English Translations Dr Ahmed Saleh Elimam, 2013-10-28. The literature on Balaghah the art of Arabic eloquence and commentaries on the Qur'an stress that the style of the Qur'an is beautiful eloquent and inimitable. This literature identifies word order as one of the most distinctive aspects of Qur'anic style. One of the main reasons for this is that compared to English Arabic has fewer restrictions on word order thanks to its elaborate verb inflection system and case marking. This flexibility allows for the foregrounding of some elements within the sentence resulting in a marked or non canonical word order and fulfilling certain discursive functions including specification restriction emphasis amplification glorification and denial. Marked word order is used to highlight or downplay certain elements in speech or writing. It constitutes one way of delivering meanings to the addressee as these meanings are ordered in the mind of the speaker in terms of their importance making the style a precise reflection of the speaker's mind and feelings. This book is a descriptive study which attempts to examine how translations of the Qur'an have handled various verses of the Qur'an that feature lexical foregrounding focusing on ten published translations into English carried out by translators from different ideological and linguistic backgrounds. It offers a systematic comparison of the ways in which the selected translators deal with the linguistic feature of word order variation and examines issues relating to the translator's style. Specifically the book identifies and examines the following instances of marked word order discussed by commentators on the Qur'an and the function served by each case of lexical foregrounding: secondly the options and/or patterns employed by translators to render the different functions of marked word order; thirdly the recurrent options and/or patterns for rendering different types of word order variation. Finally the book explores the factors which may have influenced the choice of particular strategies by different translators including the translators' motivations and the various historical contexts in which the translations were made.

Exploring the Qur'an Muhammad Abdel Haleem, 2017-04-21 The teachings style and impact of the Qur'an have always been matters of controversy among both Muslims and non-Muslims But in a modern context of intercultural sensitivity what the Qur'an says and means are perhaps more urgent questions than ever before This major new book by one of the world's finest Islamic scholars responds to that urgency Building on his earlier groundbreaking work the author challenges misinterpretations of particular Qur'anic verses from whatever quarter He addresses the infamous sword verse frequently cited as a justification for jihad He also questions the tribute verse associated with the Muslim state subjugating Jews and Christians and the idea of Paradise in the Qur'an often viewed by the West as emphasising merely physical pleasures or used by Islamic fighters as their just reward for holy war The author argues that wrenching the verses out of the context of the whole has led to dangerous ideologies being built on isolated phrases which have then assumed afterlives of their own This nuanced holistic reading has vital interfaith ramifications

Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum Palaestinae (CIAP). Moše Šārôn, 1997 Western Palestine is extremely rich in Arabic inscriptions whose dates range from as early as CE 150 until modern times Most of the inscriptions date from the Islamic period for under Islam the country gained particular religious and strategic importance even though it made up only part of the larger province of Syria This historical importance is clearly reflected in the hundreds of inscriptions the texts of which cover a variety of topics construction dedication religious endowments epitaphs Qur'anic texts prayers and invocations all now assembled in the Corpus Inscriptionum Arabicarum Palaestinae CIAP The CIAP follows the method established at the end of last century by Max van Berchem namely the studying of the Arabic inscriptions in context Van Berchem managed to publish two volumes of the inscriptions from Jerusalem the CIAP covers the entire country The inscriptions are arranged according to site and are studied in their respective topographical historical and cultural context In this way the CIAP offers more than a survey of inscriptions it represents the epigraphical angle of the geographical history of the Holy Land

Religious Language of a Belarusian Tatar Kitab Shirin Akiner, 2009 Tatars from the Golden Horde settled in the Grand Duchy of Lithuania in the 15th 16th centuries By descent they were Turco Mongols by religion Muslim Within a few generations they lost their native language s and spoke only Belarusian and Polish In order to record and hand on the essentials of their faith they translated essential religious works into Belarusian Polish These languages were normally written in the Latin and Cyrillic alphabets Christian scripts and so unsuitable for Islamic texts The Tatars therefore devised their own system of orthography using Arabic letters to convey the phonology of the Slav languages They also created a religious vocabulary that was suited to the expression of Islamic ideas For general ethical concepts they drew on Belarusian and Polish but for terms relating to Islamic doctrine and practice they used Arabic loanwords Slavicising them morphologically and phonetically This linguistic fusion represents a remarkable cultural monument of Islam in Europe The first part of the present work traces the six hundred year history of the Tatars in the Grand Duchy of Lithuania a territory now divided between Belarus Lithuania and Poland It draws on a wide range of sources including contemporary accounts in Latin Old Russian medieval French Polish Italian and Turkish The second part consists of a detailed study of a Tatar manuscript Kitab held in the British Library Extracts of such manuscripts have previously appeared in print but this is the first full length examination of a Tatar text The main language is Belarusian mixed standard and dialect forms and in places heavily Polonized A CD ROM with a Latin script transliteration of the entire Belarusian Polish British Library Kitab is included in the sleeve of the book
