arpiata singh - Picture Postcard, Clothing as Devotion in Contemporary Hinduism Urmila Mohan, 2019-09-02 In Clothing as Devotion in Contemporary Hinduism Urmila Mohan explores the materiality and visuality of cloth and clothing as devotional media in contemporary Hinduism Drawing upon ethnographic research into the global missionizing group International Society for Krishna Consciousness ISKCON she studies translocal spaces of worship service education and daily life in the group's headquarters in Mayapur and other parts of India Focusing on the actions and values of deity dressmaking devotee clothing and paraphernalia Mohan shows how activities such as embroidery and chanting can be understood as techniques of spirituality reverence allegiance and she proposes the new term efficacious intimacy to help understand these complex processes The monograph brings theoretical advances in Anglo European material culture and material religion studies into a conversation with South Asian anthropology sociology art history and religion Ultimately it demonstrates how embodied interactions as well as representations shape ISKCON's practitioners as devout subjects while connecting them with the divine and the wider community

Postcards from Mysore Somdatta Ghosh, 2003 Mysore famous for its silks handicrafts and magnificent palaces and as the source of inspiration for the celebrated author R K Narayan is the royal jewel in the crown of the southern state of Karnataka Postcards from Mysore is a freewheeling account of travel through the city made famous by its indomitable ruler Tipu Sultan The travelogue is the ultimate companion that can accompany a traveller on his/her sojourns to Mysore and its beautiful surroundings

Indian Architecture in Postcards Éléonore Muhidine, 2023-07-06 Focusing on a private collection of 60 postcards of modern architecture in Mumbai New Delhi Kolkata Chennai and Agra the contributors to this volume explore the many dimensions of modern architecture in India from the 1890s to the 1970s and share their own perspective on these objects Experts on architectural history and visual studies as well as postcard collectors provide new insights into a territory and its architectural heritage which is still largely unknown in Europe and reflect on the postcard as a medium for historical research

Postcards from the Road Jonathan Day, 2014-05-01 Walker Evans said in his 1958 introduction to Robert Frank's The Americans For the thousandth time it must be said that pictures speak for themselves wordlessly visually or they fail The images revolutionized post-war American photography With their candid images of men and women from all classes and walks of life the photographs presented a very different story than that portrayed by the wholesome caricature of mid-century prosperity pervading American photography at the time Although initially dismissed by his peers for his pioneering work Frank was ultimately credited with changing the course of the art form and his photography holds a secure status in the history of twentieth-century art And he did all this without words It seems appropriate then and not a little overdue that Jonathan Day has created a book that expounds explores and examines Frank's work pictorially Taking Frank's iconic images as his point of reference Day shot new photographs that commented on the road and contemporary America Here these images are paired with critical commentary that details the aspects of the work that are visually expounded and explained in Day's complementary images A visual entryway to the photographs and themes of this iconic book in the history of photography Postcards from the Road represents an innovative carefully considered departure from standard photographic textbooks Indian Art Worlds in Contention Helle Bundgaard, 2013-11-05 This beautifully illustrated book explores the opinions of artists critics and others involved with arts or crafts arguing for a theory that considers the different discursive formations and related strategic practices of an art world Focusing on Orissan patta paintings in India the author examines the local regional and national discourses involved In so doing the text demonstrates that while painters local discourses are characterised by pragmatism the discourses of regional and especially national elites are concerned with the exegesis of local paintings and their association with the great Sanskrit tradition A central theme of the study focuses on the awards given for skill in craft making and their changing significance as they pass from national and regional elites to local painters It is shown how certain key actions by local painters result from a clash between local discourses on the one hand and regional and national discourses on the other Postcards from Stanland David H. Mould, 2016-01-31 Central Asia has long stood at the crossroads of history It was the staging ground for the armies of the Mongol Empire for the nineteenth century struggle between the Russian and British empires and for the NATO campaign in Afghanistan Today multinationals and nations compete for the oil and gas reserves of the Caspian Sea and for control of the pipelines Yet Stanland is still to many a terra incognita a geographical blank Beginning in the mid 1990s academic and journalist David Mould's career took him to the region on Fulbright Fellowships and contracts as a media trainer and consultant for UNESCO and USAID among others In Postcards from Stanland he takes readers along with him on his encounters with the people landscapes and customs of the diverse countries Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Uzbekistan he came to love He talks with teachers students politicians environmental activists bloggers cab drivers merchants Peace Corps volunteers and more Until now few books for a nonspecialist readership have been written on the region and while Mould brings his own considerable expertise to bear on his account for example he is one of the few scholars to have conducted research on post Soviet media in the region the book is above all a tapestry of place and a valuable contribution to our understanding of the post Soviet world The Bookman, 1904 Chase Around the World Tiara Fay, 2007 Anthropology of the Arts Gretchen Bakke, Marina Peterson, 2024-11-01 A comprehensive introduction to the anthropology of the arts this is the first textbook to go beyond visual art to cover the arts more broadly Drawing together media such as painting sound performance video and film it presents a clear overview of the cross cultural human experience of art Introducing students to the basics as well as the latest scholarship the book features 45 chapters which combine classic texts from anthropologists such as Pierre Bourdieu Claude Lévi Strauss Margaret Mead Bronislaw Malinowski Alfred Gell Franz Boas and Mary Douglas with recent scholarship by George Marcus Tim Ingold Roger Sansi Christopher Pinney Georgina Born and others Both theoretical and ethnographic readings with coverage ranging from Bali Papua New Guinea Egypt sub Saharan Africa Eastern Europe and Australia to the United States Introductory materials ethnographic exercises further reading ideas and alternative suggestions for navigating the content based on medium geography theory or ethnography Designed for classroom use Anthropology of the Arts is invaluable for teaching and learning Engaging and accessible it is essential reading for students in anthropology of art anthropology of design anthropology of performance and related courses Homosexuality in Art James Smalls, 2015-09-15 This book is not a panegyric of homosexuality It is a scientific study led by Professor James Smalls who teaches art history in the prestigious University of Maryland Baltimore Abandoning all classical clichés and sociological approaches the author highlights the sensibility particular to homosexuals This book examines the process of creation and allows one to comprehend the contribution of homosexuality to the evolution of emotional perception In a time when all barriers have been overcome this analysis offers a new understanding of our civilisation's masterpieces The Artists of Nathadwara Tryna Lyons, 2004 A richly illustrated look at the lives and careers of North Indian artists Kabir, 2011-08-01 Originally published in 1976 with more than 75 000 copies in print this collection of poems by fifteenth century ecstatic poet Kabir is full of fun and full of thought Columbia University professor of religion John Stratton Hawley has contributed an introduction that makes clear Kabir's immense importance to the contemporary reader and praises Bly's intuitive translations By making every reader consider anew their religious thinking the poems of Kabir seem as relevant today as when they were first written

India, a Reference Annual, 1969 India Aline Dobbie, 2006 Follows the author's 2 500km journey through Southern India This work has elements of the travelog but is infused with perspicacious insights into the people and culture of India It also captures the contradictions of India and its long history the embracing of the modern in the landscape of the past

Tree and Serpent: Early Buddhist Art in India John S. Guy, 2023-07-17 A pioneering study of the emergence of Buddhist art in southern India featuring vibrant photography of rare works many published here for the first time Named for two primary motifs in Buddhist art the sacred bodhi tree and the protective snake Tree Serpent Early Buddhist Art in India is the first publication to foreground devotional works produced in the Deccan from 200 BCE to 400 CE Unlike traditional narratives which focus on northern India where the Buddha was born taught and died this groundbreaking book presents Buddhist art from monastic sites in the south Long neglected this is among the earliest surviving bodies of Buddhist art and among the most sublimely beautiful An international team of researchers contributes new scholarship on the sculptural and devotional art associated with Buddhism and masterpieces from recently excavated Buddhist sites are published here for the first time including Kanaganahalli and Phanigiri the most important new discoveries in a generation With its exploration of

Buddhism's emergence in southern India as well as of India's deep commercial and cultural engagement with the Hellenized and Roman worlds this definitive study expands our understanding of the origins of Buddhist art itself Arts and Aesthetics in a Globalizing World Raminder Kaur, Parul Dave-Mukherji, 2020-05-21 This is an investigation of arts and aesthetics in their widest senses and experiences presenting a variety of perspectives which range from the metaphysical to the political Moving beyond art as an expression of the inner mind and invention of the individual self the volume bridges the gap between changing perceptions of contemporary art and aesthetics and maps globalizing currents in a number of contexts and regions The volume includes an impressive variety of case studies offered by established leaders in the field and original and emerging scholarly talent covering areas in India Nepal Indonesia Iran Russia Rwanda and Germany as well as providing transnational or diasporic perspectives From the contradictory demands made on successful artists from the south in the global art world such as Anish Kapoor to images of war and puppetry created by female political prisoners the volume compels creative and political interpretations of the ever changing and globalizing terrain of arts and aesthetics
