The Krobo People Of Ghana To 1892 A Political And Social History:

The Krobo People of Ghana to 1892 Louis Edward Wilson, 1991 This book presents a broad analytical framework for the history of southeastern Ghana within the context of a representative study of one of the country's most important political and economic forces The 150 000 Krobo are the most numerous of the Adangme speaking peoples They are located in the mountains just inland from the coast and are the fourth largest ethnic group in the country During the nineteenth century they were one of the small states of the Gold Coast in the formative stages of political and cultural development After the middle of the nineteenth century they became economically and politically one of the most important groups in the country because of their dominant role in commercial production of export crops Historical research on Ghana has produced mostly case studies of the large centralized Akan states Wilson's study is an account of one of the smaller societies without which a history of Ghana would be incomplete Historical Dictionary of Ghana Edmund Abaka, David Owusu-Ansah, 2024-02-27

Ghana the former British West African colony of the Gold Coast is known for its rich agricultural mineral and petroleum resources Ghana has made tremendous strides in all areas of life and has become the gateway to West Africa if not all of Africa Observers now cite the country's achievement of economic recovery political stability and democratized governance as an example worthy of emulation by other African countries Historical Dictionary of Ghana Fifth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ghana Historical Dictionary of Ghana David Owusu-Ansah, 2014-02-27 Ghana the former British colony of the Gold Coast is historically known for being the first country to the south of the Sahara to attain political independence from colonial rule It is known for its exports of cocoa and a variety of minerals especially gold and it is now an oil exporting country But Ghana's importance to the African continent is not only seen in its natural resources or its potential to expand its agricultural output Rather the nation's political history of nationalism the history of military engagement in politics record of economic depression and the ability to rise from the ashes of political and economic decay is the most unique character of the country This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Ghana covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ghana History and the Testimony of Language Christopher Ehret, 2011 This book is about history and the practical power of language to reveal historical change Christopher Ehret offers a methodological guide to applying language evidence in historical studies He demonstrates how these methods allow us not only to recover the histories of time periods and places poorly served by written documentation but also to enrich our understanding of well documented regions and eras

A leading historian as well as historical linguist of Africa Ehret provides in depth examples from the language phyla of Africa arguing that his comprehensive treatment can be applied by linguistically trained historians and historical linguists working with any language and in any area of the world Culture and Customs of Ghana Steven J. Salm, Toyin Falola, 2002-03-30 The decades of independence in Ghana have strengthened the idea of a national Ghanaian culture The culture and customs of Ghana today are a product of diversity in traditional forms influenced by a long history of Islamic and European contact Culture and Customs of Ghana is the first book to concisely provide an up to date narrative on the most significant elements of the established cultural life and institutions as well as the most recent changes in the cultural landscape Written expressly for students and the general reader it belongs in every library supporting multicultural and African studies curricula Ghana seeks to cultivate the philosophy of the African personality to revive maintain and promote Ghanaian ways of life and integrate them into political and social institutions Ghanaians also recognize their relationship to the rest of the world and continue to develop with the forces of globalization Culture and Customs of Ghana authoritatively discusses the vibrant and adaptable people from their religions to music and dance A chronology glossary and numerous photos complement the text

Norbert Elias's African Processes of Civilisation Dieter Reicher, Adrian Jitschin, Arjan Post, Behrouz Alikhani, 2023-01-11 In 1962 Norbert Elias was invited as a temporary professor at the University of Ghana in Legon Accra He taught employed fieldwork travelled and met many people in postcolonial Africa When Elias left Ghana in 1964 he had laid the basic groundwork for a fundamental sociological argument on human societies The volume on hand is a selection of his unpublished writings based on these experiences Together they touch upon not only the well known criticism of Eurocentrism and a developmental perspective but also what could be considered the core of Elias's work the concept of civilisation In a foreword Dieter Reicher and Adrian Jitschin have endeavoured to explain and break down the relations of Elias's African experience to the rest of his work and biography They also clarified some misleading interpretations of Elias's time in Africa Finally Arjan Post has uncovered the previously unknown fascinating story of Elias's encounter with Malcolm X in an epilogue The History of Ghana Roger S. Gocking, 2005-06-30 Gocking provides a historical overview of Ghana from the emergence of precolonial states through increasing contact with Europeans that led to the establishment of formal colonial rule by Great Britain at the end of the 19th century Colonial rule transformed what was known as the Gold Coast economically socially and politically but it contained the seeds of its own demise After World War II an increasingly more effective nationalist movement challenged British rule and in 1957 Ghana became independent Independence brought its own challenges the most important of which was the inability to maintain political stability Within the space of 24 years there were four military coups and the collapse of three republics Ghana's Fourth Republic established in 1993 has dealt with the legacy of instability inherited from the past as it moves towards a more stable future A timeline photographs maps and an appendix of biographies of notable figures in the history of Ghana are included Students and adults alike will find this book to be highly effective in describing the often turbulent and tumultuous history of this country The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America The Trouble with Empire Antoinette M. Burton, 2015 While imperial blockbusters fly off the shelves there is no comprehensive history dedicated to resistance in the 19th and 20th century British Empire The Trouble with Empire is the first volume to fill this gap offering a brief but thorough introduction to the nature and consequences of resistance to British imperialism Historian Antoinette Burton's study spans the 19th and 20th centuries when discontented subjects of empire made their unhappiness felt from Ireland to Canada to India to Africa to Australasia in direct response to incursions of military might and imperial capitalism The Trouble with Empire offers the first thoroughgoing account of what British imperialism looked like from below and of how tenuous its hold on alien populations was throughout its long unstable life By taking the long view moving across a variety of geopolitical sites and spanning the whole of the period 1840-1955 Burton examines the commonalities between different forms of resistance and unveils the structural weaknesses of the British Empire 0 The Recovery of the West African Past Paul Jenkins, 1998 Betr den f r die Basler Mission t tigen Euro Afrikaner Carl Christian Reindorf und die Geschichte der Basler Mission an der Goldk ste im 19 Jahrhundert A History of the Church in Africa Bengt Sundkler, Christopher Stead, 2000-05-04 Bengt Sundkler's long awaited book on African Christian churches will become the standard reference for the subject Africa and the Africans in the Nineteenth Century: A Turbulent History Catherine Coquery-Vidrovitch, Mary Baker, 2015-02-12 Most histories seek to understand modern Africa as a troubled outcome of nineteenth century European colonialism but that is only a small part of the story In this celebrated book beautifully translated from the French edition the history of Africa in the nineteenth century unfolds from the perspective of Africans themselves rather than the European powers It was above all a time of tremendous internal change on the African continent Great jihads of Muslim conquest and conversion swept over West Africa In the interior warlords competed to control the internal slave trade In the east the sultanate of Zanzibar extended its reach via coastal and interior trade routes In the north Egypt began to modernize while Algeria was colonized In the south a series of forced migrations accelerated spurred by the progression of white settlement Through much of the century African societies assimilated and adapted to the changes generated by these diverse forces In the end the West's technological advantage prevailed and most of Africa fell under European control and lost its independence Yet only by taking into account the rich complexity of this tumultuous past can we fully understand modern Africa from the colonial period to independence and the difficulties of today Boundaries of Self and Other in Ghanaian Popular Culture Joseph K. Adjaye, 2004-03-31 Rituals are among the most enduring aspects of the African cultural landscape They appear to exist outside of time eternal and unchanging Joseph Adjaye argues that while rituals may seem to be static in reality they are dynamic and changing

Through intense analysis of child naming ceremonies libations puberty initiation rights funerals and two major Ghanaian festivals Adjaye explores the interplay between ritual and audience interaction and participation By so doing he shows the many ways rituals have provided Ghanaians with a means to conceptualize and change their present and shape their future In other words rituals help individuals escape the boundaries of self by promoting a sense of collective purpose and agency This book will appeal to not only Africanists but to readers interested in the roles rituals play in their own lives and the ways that rituals encourage socially transforming initiatives Identity in the Shadow of Slavery Paul E. Lovejoy, 2000-09-13

Addresses issues relating to the gender ethnic and cultural factors through which enslaved Africans and their descendents interpreted their lives under slavery thereby creating communities with a shared sense of identity The focus of the book is on the ways in which identities were formulated under slavery and the ways in which the struggle to escape slavery and its legacy continued to affect the lives of descendents of slaves The introductory essay explores an approach to the study of the African diaspora that looks outward from Africa and places the following chapters written by leading authorities from Europe and North and South America in the context of the theoretical literature The Migrant Cocoa-farmers of Southern Ghana Polly Hill, 1997 The economic and social organisation of Ghanaian cocoa farming is very complex reflecting differences in population density land tenure accessibility soil fertility and other factors The small peasant with his two or three acre farms is one type of farmer and it has always been supposed that it was he who created the world's largest cocoa growing industry The migration of southern Ghanaian cocoa farmers which has been proceeding since the 1890s was not known to have occurred and this study shows that it was the migrant not the peasant who was the real innovator This migrant has scarcely been mentioned in the literature Author Polly Hill now gives a full account of his migration one of the great events in the recent economic history of Africa south of the Sahara The migrant farmer who rather resembles a capitalist than a peasant buys land or inherits it from those who bought before him and conventionally uses the proceeds from one cocoa land to purchase others It is now possible with the aid of farm maps to study the whole migratory process with its changing pattern of land ownership over more than half a century The results are revealing The conventional notion that it was only recently that West Africans began to engage in large scale economic enterprises is shown to be false One of the main contentions of this book is that the migrant farmer has been remarkably responsive to economic ends It is further shown that there is no incompatibility between this kind of enterprise and the continuance of traditional forms of social organisation nor is there evidence that the enterprising individual found himself hampered by the demands made on him by members of his lineage In analysing and recording the details of the migratory process Dr Hill has made an important contribution to the economic history of West Africa Besides the economists and economic historians for whom the book is primarily intended it should be studied by lawyers geographers social anthropologists and all concerned with problems of underdevelopment Boundaries, Communities and State-Making in West Africa Paul Nugent, 2019-06-06 By examining three centuries of history this book shows how vital border regions have been in shaping states and social contracts Commerce and Economic Change in West Africa Martin Lynn,2002-05-02 An authoritative and comprehensive study of the palm oil trade Africa, Empire and World Disorder A. G. Hopkins,2020-09-24 This volume brings together important articles from the Cambridge historian A G Hopkins and reflect the enlargement and evolution of historical studies during the last half century The essays cover four of the principal historiographical developments of the period the extraordinary revolution that has led to the writing of non Western indigenous history the revitalization of new types of imperial history the now ubiquitous engagement with global history including a reinterpretation of American Empire and the current revival of economic history after several decades of neglect From Slave Trade to 'Legitimate' Commerce Robin Law,2002-08-08 This edited collection written by eleven leading specialists examines the nineteenth century commercial transition in West Africa the ending of the Atlantic slave trade and the development of alternative forms of legitimate trade mainly in vegetable products Approaching the subject from an African rather than a European or American perspective the case studies consider the effects of transition on the African societies involved They offer significant insights into the history of pre colonial Africa and the slave trade the origins of European imperialism and longer term issues of economic development in Africa Commercial Transitions and Abolition in West Africa 1630-1860 Angus E. Dalrymple-Smith,2019-12-09 Commercial Transitions and Abolition in West Africa 1630 1860 offers a fresh perspective on why in the nineteenth century the most important West African states and merchants who traded with Atlantic markets became exporters of commodities instead of exporters of slaves This study takes a long term comparative approach and makes of use of new quantitative data It argues that the timing and nature of the change from slave exports to so called legitimate commerce in the Gold Coast the Bight of Biafra and the Bight of Benin can be predicted by patterns of trade established in previous centuries by a range of African and European actors responding to the changing political and economic environments of the Atlantic world
