The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape Robert Layton, Peter Ucko, 2003-09-02 The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape contributes to the development of theory in archaeology and anthropology provides new and varied case studies of landscape and environment from five continents and raises important policy issues concerning development and the management of heritage

The Hoo Peninsula Landscape Sarah Newsome, Edward Carpenter, Peter Kendall, 2015-11-15 The Hoo Peninsula is located on the north Kent coast 30 miles east of Central London This book raises awareness of the positive contribution that the historic environment makes to the Hoo Peninsula by describing how changing patterns of land use and maritime activity over time have given this landscape and seascape its distinctive character It uses new information which involved historic landscape seascape and farmstead characterisation aerial photographic mapping and analysis area assessment of the buildings detailed survey of key sites and other desk based research It takes a thematic view of the major influences on the history and development of the Hoo Peninsula and demonstrates the role that the Peninsula plays in the national story The book is an important step towards changing the perception that the Hoo Peninsula is an out of the way area scarred by past development where the landscape has no heritage value and major infrastructure can be developed with minimum objection

Landscapes of Neolithic Ireland Gabriel Cooney, 2012-12-06 Landscapes of Neolithic Ireland is the first volume to be devoted solely to the Irish Neolithic using an innovative landscape and anthropological perspective to provide significant new insights on the period Gabriel Cooney argues that the archaeological evidence demonstrates a much more complex picture than the current orthodoxy on Neolithic Europe with its assumption of mobile lifestyles suggests He integrates the study of landscape settlement agriculture material culture and burial practice to offer a rounded realistic picture of the complexities and the realities of Neolithic lives and societies in Ireland

Landscape and Community in England Alan Everitt, 1985-07-01 England is an old country more deeply conditioned by its past than perhaps any of us realise It is also a varied country particularly in relation to its size this fact too has left its imprint on our past Antiquity and diversity are the hallmarks of English landscape and society with evidences of the logic of history evident everywhere we look In this collection of essays Alan Everitt looks at the interconnections between landscape and community demonstrating how places localities counties and regions all shed light on English society and history as a whole Covering topics such as regional evolution lost towns of England the agrarian landscape in Kent the English urban inn and dynasty and community since the 17th century Everitts essays capture the wealth of experience and local idiosyncracies that constitute Englands rich history and culture

Regions and Designed Landscapes in Georgian England Sarah Spooner, 2015-06-26 Garden design evolved hugely during the Georgian period as symbols of wealth and stature the landed aristocracy had been using gardens for decades Yet during the eighteenth century society began to homogenise and the urban elite also started demanding landscapes that would reflect their positions The gardens of the aristocracy and the gentry were different in appearance use and meaning despite broad similarities in form Underlying this was the importance of place of the landscape itself and its raw material Contemporaries often referred to the need to consult the genius of the place when creating a new designed landscape as the place where the garden was located was critical in determining its appearance Genius loci soil type topography water supply all influenced landscape design in this period The approach taken in this book blends landscape and garden history to make new insights into landscape and design in the eighteenth century Spooner's own research presents little known sites alongside those which are more well known and explores the complexity of the story of landscape design in the Georgian period which is usually oversimplified and reduced to the story of a few great men The Farmers' Advocate and Home Magazine, 1909 The Cultural Landscape & Heritage Paradox Tom Bloemers, Henk Kars, Arnold Van der Valk, 2010 The basic problem is to what extent we can know past and mainly invisible landscapes and how we can use this still hidden knowledge for actual sustainable management of landscape's cultural and historical values It has also been acknowledged that heritage management is increasingly about the management of future change rather than simply protection This presents us with a paradox to preserve our historic environment we have to collaborate with those who wish to transform it and in order to apply our expert knowledge we have to make it suitable for policy and society The answer presented by the Protection and Development of the Dutch Archaeological Historical Landscape programme pdl bbo is an integrative landscape approach which applies inter and transdisciplinarity establishing links between archaeological historical heritage and planning and between research and policy A Landscape of Architecture, History and Fiction Jonathan Hill, 2015-12-22 Architecture can be analogous to a history a fiction and a landscape We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be cast in concrete or seeded in soil The catalyst to this tradition was the simultaneous and interdependent emergence in the eighteenth century of new art forms the picturesque landscape the analytical history and the English novel Each of them instigated a creative and questioning response to empiricism's detailed investigation of subjective experience and the natural world and together they stimulated a design practice and lyrical environmentalism that profoundly influenced subsequent centuries Associating the changing natural world with journeys in self understanding and the design process with a visual and spatial autobiography this book describes journeys between London and the North Sea in successive centuries analysing an enduring and evolving tradition from the picturesque and romanticism to modernism Creative architects have often looked to the past to understand the present and imagine the future Twenty first century architects need to appreciate the shock of the old as well as the shock of the new

Experiential Landscape Kevin Thwaites, Ian Simkins, 2006-12-05 Incorporating a review of key philosophical and theoretical themes and offering a socially responsive design vocabulary Kevin Thwaites and Ian M Simkins provide the reader with a greater understanding of the human environment relationship Neo-Romantic Landscapes Stella Hockenhull, 2009-03-26 Neo Romantic Landscapes offers a reappraisal of the 1940s films of Powell and Pressburger focusing on their use of landscape Questioning the established notion that the two film makers owing to their non British personal roots are located as un British and other Stella Hockenhull draws a correlation between the two media of film and painting to suggest otherwise Emphasising the spiritual aspects of landscape and nature at a time when the experience and imagery of the war years generated a particular kind of affect arising from the aftermath of destruction she locates Powell and Pressburger s wartime films in their historical and cultural context notably Neo Romanticism By offering a close analysis of films such as A Canterbury Tale I Know Where I m Going Black Narcissus and Gone to Earth she finds similar aesthetic qualities in a number of British landscape paintings executed contemporaneously Drawing on press reviews for contemporary spectator response Neo Romantic Landscapes offers a redirection of Film Studies foregrounding the aesthetic pleasures of cinema in excess of narrative plausibility thus resituating Powell and Pressburger in the British cultural traditions of the visual arts

Landscapes and Landforms of England and Wales Andrew Goudie,Piotr Migoń,2020-05-10 This book presents the geomorphological diversity of England and Wales These regions are characterised by an extraordinary range of landforms and landscapes reflecting both the occurrence of many different rock types and drastic climatic changes over the last few million years including ice sheet expansion and decay The book begins by providing the geological and geomorphological context needed in order to understand this diversity in a relatively small area In turn it presents nearly thirty case studies on specific landscapes and landforms all of which are landmarks in the territory discussed These include the famous coastal cliffs and landslides granite tors of Dartmoor formerly glaciated mountains of Snowdonia and the Lake District karst of Yorkshire and many others The geomorphology of London and the Thames is also included Providing a unique reference guide to the geomorphology of England and Wales the book is lavishly illustrated with diagrams colour maps and photos and written in an easy to read style The contributing authors are distinguished geomorphologists with extensive experience in research writing and communicating science to the public The book will not only be of interest to geoscientists but will also benefit specialists in landscape research geoconservation tourism and environmental protection

The English Landscape Garden Tim Richardson,2024-10-22 Smooth lawns glassy pools cool garden temples mysterious woodland glades evocative statuary the 18th century English landscape garden offers a transcendent vision of Arcadia a world of rich escapism peopled by gods and goddesses young lovers and dairymaids poets and philosophers This sumptuous beautifully photographed volume celebrates this quintessentially British creation arguably its greatest artform taking you on a tour of 20 of the finest surviving gardens including Studley Royal Yorkshire a dreamy valley garden which culminates with a view down and across the ruins of a Cistercian abbey Stowe Buckinghamshire the great politically motivated garden of its day boasting the ensemble masterpiece that is William Kent s Elysian Fields Chiswick House London Lord Burlington s experiment in neoclassical architecture Petworth Sussex of Capability Brown who eschewed the symbolism of earlier generations but created instead his own powerful vision of pastoral Arcadia Hawkstone Park Shropshire designed to elicit a thrill of fear in visitors as they traverse rocky precipices and encounter live hermits Including much new research and specially commissioned photographs this is a book to dive into and be transported to an idyllic dream realm Relating Architecture to Landscape Jan Birksted,2004-03-09 These essays make a unique contribution to the documentation of twentieth century landscape architecture They address key moments in history that have sometimes been overlooked or forgotten emerging moments and potential moments of leverage The essays present contemporary examples in architecture landscape architecture and garden design that offer new models Relating Architecture to Landscape will challenge accepted assumptions about the nature of landscape architecture Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David,Julian Thomas,2016-06-03 Over 80 archaeologists from four continents create a benchmark volume of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework The Powhatan Landscape Martin D. Gallivan,2018-09-17 Southern Anthropological Society James Mooney Award As Native American history is primarily studied through the lens of European contact the story of Virginia s Powhatans has traditionally focused on the English arrival in the Chesapeake This has left a deeper indigenous history largely unexplored a longer narrative beginning with the Algonquians construction of places communities and the connections in between The Powhatan Landscape breaks new ground by tracing Native placemaking in the Chesapeake from the Algonquian arrival to the Powhatan s clashes with the English Martin Gallivan details how Virginia Algonquians constructed riverine communities alongside fishing grounds and collective burials and later within horticultural towns Ceremonial spaces including earthwork enclosures within the center place of Werowocomoco gathered people for centuries prior to 1607 Even after the violent ruptures of the colonial era Native people returned to riverine towns for pilgrimages commemorating the enduring power of place For today s American Indian communities in the Chesapeake this reexamination of landscape and history represents a powerful basis from which to contest narratives and policies that have previously denied their existence A volume in the series Society and Ecology in Island and Coastal Archaeology edited by Victor D Thompson English Landscapes and Identities Chris Gosden,Chris Green,Anwen Cooper,Miranda Creswell,Victoria Donnelly,Tyler Franconi,Roger Glyde,Zena Kamash,Sarah Mallet,Laura Morley,Daniel Stansbie,Letty ten Harkel,2021-05-06 Long before the Norman Conquest of 1066 England saw periods of profound change that transformed the landscape and the identities of those who occupied it The Bronze and Iron Ages saw the introduction of now familiar animals and plants such as sheep horses wheat and oats as well as new forms of production and exchange and the first laying out of substantial fields and trackways which continued into the earliest Romano British landscapes The Anglo Saxon period saw the creation of new villages based around church and manor with ridge and furrow cultivation strips still preserved today The basis for this volume is The English Landscapes and Identities project which synthesised all the major available sources of information on English archaeology to examine this crucial period of landscape history from the middle Bronze Age c 1500 BC to the

Domesday survey c 1086 AD It looks at the nature of archaeological work undertaken across England to assess its strengths and weaknesses when writing long term histories Among many other topics it examines the interaction of ecology and human action in shaping the landscape issues of movement across the landscape in various periods changing forms of food over time an understanding of spatial scale and questions of enclosing and naming the landscape culminating in a discussion of the links between landscape and identity The result is the first comprehensive account of the English landscape over a crucial 2500 year period It also offers a celebration of many centuries of archaeological work especially the intensive large scale investigations that have taken place since the 1960s and transformed our understanding of England s past The Historic Landscape of Devon Lucy Ryder,2013-04-30 The 19th century historic landscape of Devon developed from earlier patterns of landholdings and settlement that are today not always easily discernible on the ground The study of Tithe Survey landholdings field names and associated documentary evidence together with the physical evidence of change and development through field and settlement pattern can be used to elucidate the relationship between field and settlement morphologies and patterns of 19th century landholding The combined evidence for three case study areas the Blackdown Hills Hartland Moors and the South Hams is examined in detail though the creation manipulation and querying of a Geographical Information Systems GIS database Key issues addressed include how far back patterns of 19th century landholding can be traced or projected back into the medieval period the occurrence and extent of open field farming in Devon and the spread of nucleated and dispersed settlements Looking beyond the physical aspects of landscapes the idea of landscape pays and the identification of regional differences in the study of the historic landscape are investigating revealing how closely entwined are the physical and social landscapes of this historic county Park and Cemetery and Landscape Gardening ,1906 Landscape and Vision in Nineteenth-Century Britain and France Michael Charlesworth,2017-07-05 A study of the ways landscape was perceived in nineteenth century Britain and France this book draws on evidence from poetry landscape gardens spectacular public entertainments novels and scientific works as well as paintings in order to develop its basic premise that landscape and the processes of perceiving it cannot be separated Vision embraces panoramic seeing from high places but also the seeing of ghosts and spectres when madness and hallucination impinge upon landscape The rise of geology and the spread of empires upset the existing comfortable orders of comprehension of landscape Reverie and imagination produced powerful interpretive actions while landscape in French culture proved central to the rejection of conservative classicism in favour of perceptual questioning of experience The experience of subjectivity proved central to the perception of landscape while the visual culture of landscape became of paramount importance to modernity during the period in question Early and Middle Woodland Landscapes of the Southeast Alice P. Wright,Edward R. Henry,2019-10-01 Fourteen in depth case studies incorporate empirical data with theoretical concepts such as ritual aggregation and place making highlighting the variability and common themes in the relationships between people landscapes and the built environment that characterize this period of North American native life in the Southeast
