The Kid Who Ran for President Dan Gutman,2012-06-01 Just in time for election season Dan Gutman s hugely popular THE KID WHO RAN FOR PRESIDENT is back Humor adventure and excitement will draw kids into the world of elections and politics Hi My name is Judson Moon I m 12 years old and I m running for President of the YOU nited States So begins this fast paced funny and surprising account of a boy s run for the Oval Office in the year 2000 Under the tutelage of Lane his brainy friend and self appointed campaign manager the affable sixth grader from Madison Wisconsin takes on the Democrats and Republicans as a Third Party candidate who can make waves Grown ups have had the last one thousand years to mess up the world Judd tells a reporter Now it s our turn

The Presidents We Imagine Jeff Smith,2009-03-19 In The Presidents We Imagine Jeff Smith examines the presidency s ever changing place in the American imagination Ranging across different media and analyzing works of many kinds some familiar and some never before studied he explores the evolution of presidential fictions their central themes the impact on them of new and emerging media and their largely unexamined role in the nation s real politics

Cold Case: Billy the Kid W.C. Jameson,2018-05-01 In this series private investigators pick up where the historians left off taking on a series of major cold cases in history starting with the mishandling of evidence relating to the life and times of Billy the Kid Cold Case Billy the Kid tackles the myths and legends about the notorious outlaw one by one considering the evidence from contemporary sources and looking at the physical evidence still extant today to consider the veracity of historical claims and considering the evidence through the lens of a legal investigation In this first book the writers tackle the evolution of an outlaw in myth and lore claiming that Billy the Kid as a notorious outlaw is a manufactured concept They offer evidence that the Kid was little more than one of several small time cattle and horse thieves whose rustling netted him only a small amount of intermittent income He killed no fewer and probably no more than four or five men For the most part he worked on ranches notably those of John Chisum and John Henry Tunstall The Kid as a cattle thief was known to many in southern New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle along with a number of other troublesome rustlers

The Men in Blue Larry R. Gerlach,1994-01-01 The philosopher Jacques Barzun thought that whoever wants to know the heart and mind of America had better learn baseball And whoever wants to know baseball had better learn about umpires As Larry Gerlach points out in The Men in Blue these arbiters transform competitive chaos into organized sport They make it possible to play ball but nobody loves them Considering the abuse meted out by fans and players why would any sane person want to be an umpire Many reasons emerge in conversations with a dozen former major league arbiters While nobody loves them they love the game Gerlach has elicited entertaining stories from these figures under fire about their lonely travels their dealings with umpire baiters battles for unionization breaking through the color line and much more From Beans Reardon who came up to the National League in 1926 to Ed Sudol who retired in 1977 here is a witty and telling portrait of baseball from the boisterous Golden Age to the Jet Age of Instant Replay District of Columbia Youth Act United States.
