Melanie Klein and Critical Social Theory C. Fred

Alford,1989-01-11 In this thoughtful and lucid book C Fred Alford shows how the psychoanalytic theory of Melanie Klein can be extended to groups and culture and thus can illuminate issues of social theory and moral philosophy of the sort considered by the Frankfurt School He then applies this expanded theory to the politics of large groups the appeal of works of art and the psychological sources of reason Alford s ideas are interesting and well worked out The book is good reading for the intelligent layman as well as for the Freudian psychoanalyst Elise W Snyder M D Yale Medical School Regularly consigned to the backwaters of psychoanalysis Melanie Klein has never received the recognition she deserves for the magnitude of her contributions to the mainstream of psychoanalytic thought Alford s comprehensive study goes far in redressing this historical injustice not only demonstrating that Klein s formulations provide the undergirding for many of the new directions in psychoanalysis but also persuasively demonstrating the importance of her contributions to social and political theory Jerrold M Post M D Professor of Psychiatry Political Psychology and International Affairs The George Washington University Alford s is an attractive Panglossian formulation argued with considerable panache Alford s book performs a valuable service Martin Stanton Times Higher Education Supplement The Social Engagement of Social Science, a Tavistock Anthology, Volume 1

With reference to primary research, it aims to help practitioners and students to develop further research by making the mechanics of the research process explicit and transparent. Intercultural Arts Therapies Research will appeal to arts therapists, psychological therapy practitioners, postgraduate students, and other health and social care professionals. Knowing and Not Knowing Claudia Lapping, Tamara Bibby, 2018-02-02. The social world is saturated with powerful formations of knowledge that colonise individual and institutional identities. Some knowledge emerges as legitimised and authoritative; other knowledge is resisted or repressed. Psychosocial approaches highlight the unstable basis of knowledge learning and research of knowing and not knowing. How do we come to formulate knowledge in the ways that we do? Are there other possible ways of knowing that are too difficult or unsettling for us to begin to explore? Do we need the authority of legitimised institutions and regularized methods to build secure knowledge? What might it mean to build insecure edifices of knowledge? How might we trouble notions of knowledge in processes of teaching, learning, and research? This collection addresses these questions, drawing on a range of psychoanalytic and social theory from Bion, Freud, and Lacan to Derrida, Kristeva, and Žižek. Showcasing work from North America, Europe, and Japan, contributors explore writing as a practice that can stabilise or unsettle subjectivities, the unconscious relations between school practices, subjectivities, educational spaces, and ideologies, implications of the productive energies and the deadening inwardness associated with mourning and melancholia for formal and informal learning, and the authority we invest in apparently rigid or ephemeral institutional spaces. Strongly empirical as well as theoretical in approach, this collection will be of interest to students and academics seeking ways to resist normative orders of legitimacy and coherence in education and research. This book was originally published as a special issue of Pedagogy Culture Society.

Dramatherapy Sue Jennings, 2014-04-23. Dramatherapy Theory and Practice 1 introduces the reader to the basic issues of dramatherapy and offers a highly authoritative guide to the clinical practitioner or teacher who wishes to use role play and enactment in the context of therapeutic work. With its companion volume Dramatherapy Theory and Practice 2, it provides an invaluable resource for all those whose work can benefit from the use of dramatherapy, including counsellors, nurses, and occupational therapists.
