O'Quinn, 2013 Through thoughtful analysis of girls historical literacy experiences their contemporary reading and writing lives and trends in young adult literature this book sheds new light on how teachers can better understand and create classroom experiences that make girls visible both to themselves and to others Historically the status of girls has evoked much less research than that of boys Recently emerging scholastic and strategic study concerning the vulnerability of girls is adding a vital missing component to this continually emerging discourse Looking at many aspects of girls gendered lives this text considers the specific perspectives of the social and cultural constructions that script gender particularly as they apply to girls in our classrooms Prominent scholars in their respective fields examine the myriad forces that shape the lives of American girls from the earliest didactic records of manuals and books of conduct to current artifacts of contemporary culture By investigating both the scholarly literature on girls as well as the primary sources of a material culture the authors seek to unravel how adolescent girls learn and seek to compose identities By closely examining girls practices in which are embedded issues of class race ethnicity immigrant status and sexuality the text considers some of the values structures and trajectories that have come to define teenage girlhood Its distinctive contribution is to unpack some of the assumptions of girls in English classrooms and to critically examine their experiences as they try to fit preconceived norms while forming their own personhood Provided by publisher voice combines a wry wit and vulnerability as she navigates the road between reality and fiction Dora named after Eudora Welty is an indiscriminate book junkie whose life has fallen apart her career her marriage and finally her self esteem All she has left is her love of literature and the book benders she relied on as a child Ever since her larger than life father wandered away and her book loving alcoholic mother was left with two young daughters Dora and her sister Virginia have clung to each other enduring a childhood filled with literary pilgrimages instead of summer vacations Somewhere along the way Virginia made the leap into the real world But Dora isn't quite there yet Now she's coping with a painful separation from her husband scraping the bottom of a dwindling inheritance and attracted to a seductive book seller who seems to embody all that literature has to offer intelligent ideas romance and an escape from her problems Joining Dora in her odyssey is an elderly society hair brusher a heartbroken young girl a hilarious off the wall female teamster and Dora's mother now on the wagon trying to make amends Along the way Dora faces some powerful choices Between two irresistible men Between idleness and work And most of all between the joy of well chosen words and the untidiness of real people and real life The School Executive ,1921
