So Human An Animal How We Are Shaped By Surroundings And Events:

So Human an Animal René Jules Dubos, 1968 At least until cloning becomes the order of the day Rene Dubos contends that each human being is unique unprecedented unrepeatable However today each person faces the critical danger of losing this very humanness to his mechanized surroundings Most people spend their days in a confusion of concrete and steel trapped in the midst of noise dirt ugliness and absurdity So begins the essential message of the work of one of the great figures in microbiology and experimental pathology of this century Is the human species becoming dehumanized by the condition of his environment So Human an Animal is an attempt to address this broad concern and explain why so little is being done to address this issue The book sounds both an urgent warning and offers important policy insights into how this trend towards dehumanization can be halted and finally reversed Dubos asserts that we are as much the product of our total environment as of our genetic endowment In fact the environment we live in can greatly enhance or severely Hmit the development of human potential Yet we are deplorably ignorant of the effects of our surroundings on human life We create conditions which can only thwart human nature So Human an Animal is a book with hope no less than alarm As Joseph Wood Krutch noted at the time Dubos shows convincingly why science is indispensable not omnipotent Science can change our suicidal course by learning to deal analytically with the living experience of human beings by supplementing the knowledge of things and of the body machine with a science of human life Only then can we give larger scope to human freedom by providing a rational basis for option and action Timely eloquent and guided by a deep humanistic spirit this new edition is graced by a succinct and careful outline of the life and work of the author Provided by publisher

C. H. Waddington, Rene Dubos, 2017-09-20 At least until cloning becomes the order of the day Rene Dubos contends that each human being is unique unprecedented unrepeatable However today each person faces the critical danger of losing this very humanness to his mechanized surroundings Most people spend their days in a confusion of concrete and steel trapped in the midst of noise dirt ugliness and absurdity So begins the essential message of the work of one of the great figures in microbiology and experimental pathology of this century Is the human species becoming dehumanized by the condition of his environment So Human an Animal is an attempt to address this broad concern and explain why so little is being done to address this issue The book sounds both an urgent warning and offers important policy insights into how this trend towards dehumanization can be halted and finally reversed Dubos asserts that we are as much the product of our total environment as of our genetic endowment In fact the environment we live in can greatly enhance or severely Hmit the development of human potential Yet we are deplorably ignorant of the effects of our surroundings on human life We create conditions which can only thwart human nature So Human an Animal is a book with hope no less than alarm As Joseph Wood Krutch noted at the time Dubos shows convincingly why science is indispensable not omnipotent Science can change our suicidal course by learning to deal analytically with the living experience of human beings by supplementing the knowledge of things and of the body machine with a science of human life Only then can we give larger scope to human freedom by providing a rational basis for option and action Timely eloquent and guided by a deep humanistic spirit this new edition is graced by a succinct and careful outline of the life and work of the author So Human an Animal , Is the human species becoming dehumanized by the condition of his environment So Human an Animal is an attempt to address this broad concern and explain why so little is being done to address this issue The book sounds both an urgent warning and offers important policy insights into how this trend toward dehumanization can be halted and finally reversed So Human an Animal C. Hammond,George Macinko,Wilma B. Fairchild,1978-05 Literature survey providing a guide to selected aspects of the environment covers environmental protection ecology quality of life urban development environmental modifications relating to water quality nature conservation transport etc and includes a chronology of relevant laws a directory of organizations and bibliographies Ocean Country Liz Cunningham,2015-09-08 Ocean Country is an adventure story a call to action and a poetic meditation on the state of the seas But most importantly it is the story of finding true hope in the midst of one of the greatest crises to face humankind the rapidly degrading state of our environment After a near drowning accident in which she was temporarily paralyzed Liz Cunningham crisscrosses the globe in an effort to understand the threats to our dazzling but endangered oceans This intimate account charts her thrilling journey through unexpected encounters with conservationists fishermen sea nomads and scientists in the Mediterranean Sulawesi the Turks and Caicos Islands and Papua New Guinea

Geographies of Health, Disease and Well-being Mei-Po Kwan, 2016-03-23 This book is a collection of papers reflecting the latest advances in geographic research on health disease and well being It spans a wide range of topics theoretical perspectives and methodologies including anti racism post colonialism spatial statistics spatiotemporal modeling political ecology and social network analysis Health issues in various regions of the world are addressed by interdisciplinary authors who include scholars from epidemiology medicine public health demography and community studies The book covers the major themes in this field such as health inequalities environmental health spatial analysis and modeling of disease health care provision access and utilization health and wellbeing and global transnational health and health issues in the global south There is also a specially commissioned book review in addition to the chapters included in these six sections Together these chapters show cogently how geographic perspectives and methods can contribute in significant ways to advancing our understanding of the complex interactions between social and physical environments and health behaviors and outcomes This book was published as a special issue of Annals of the Association of American Geographers

In the Valleys of the Noble Beyond John Zada, 2019-07-02 A journalist travels through British Columbia exploring one of the world's most baffling mysteries the existence of the Sasquatch On the central and north coast of British Columbia the Great Bear Rainforest is the largest intact temperate rainforest in the world containing more organic matter than any other terrestrial ecosystem on the planet The area plays host to a wide range of species from thousand year old western cedars to humpback whales to iconic white Spirit bears According to local residents another giant is said to live in these woods For centuries people have reported encounters with the Sasquatch a species of hairy bipedal man apes said to inhabit the deepest recesses of this pristine wilderness Driven by his own childhood obsession with the creatures John Zada decides to seek out the diverse inhabitants of this rugged and far flung coast where nearly everyone has a story to tell from a scientist who dedicated his life to researching the Sasquatch to members of the area's First Nations to a former grizzly bear hunter turned nature tour guide With each tale Zada discovers that his search for the Sasquatch is a quest for something infinitely more complex cutting across questions of human perception scientific inquiry indigenous traditions the environment and the power and desire of the human imagination to believe in or reject something largely unseen Teeming with gorgeous nature writing and a driving narrative that takes us through the forests and into the valleys of a remote and seldom visited region In the Valleys of the Noble Beyond sheds light on what our decades long pursuit of the Sasquatch can tell us about ourselves and invites us to welcome wonder for the unknown back into our lives Praise for In the

Valleys of the Noble Beyond Books on supernatural phenomena typically steer one of two courses tabloid gullibility or mean spirited debunkery Zada deftly tightropes between the two In the Valleys of the Noble Beyond is not really about sasquatch It is about how we see what we want to see and don't see what we're not prepared to see A quirky and oddly captivating tale Eric Weiner Washington Post An adventure story in the tradition of Paul Theroux and in parts Jon Krakauer Zada is a latter day Henry David Thoreau or John Muir Searching for an elusive ape Zada has a knack for meeting unforgettable humans Peter Kuitenbrouwer Globe and Mail If people can believe in God why not Sasquatch Zada takes us through the temperate rainforest of British Columbia looking for both the hairy bipedal and the mythology and landscape surrounding it Terrific nature writing with a furry twist Kerri Arsenault Orion

Talking to the Shaman Within Manfred F. R. Kets de Vries, 2014-06-16 Everything about hunting leads inexorably to death the challenge for all hunters is how to justify the kill But the hunter's emotional response to the kill is immensely complex Hunters respect and even love the animals they kill Talking to the Shaman Within Musings on Hunting addresses this paradox head on dissecting the emotional and psychological response of the hunter to his quarry and more broadly his surroundings The climax of the chase brings the hunter closer to realizing the nature intelligence that modern civilization has suppressed Through his investigation of the instinct that lies beneath the urge to hunt author Manfred F R Kets de Vries reveals something basic and fundamental about human behavior The hunting instinct is hardwired into the human psyche and for all our sophistication and urbanization it exerts a powerful influence over the way we conduct our lives even to this day Talking to the Shaman Within draws on depictions of hunting in art and literature throughout the ages exploring changing trends in human social norms with frequent reference to literature art film television and music It unites a dispassionate academic hypothesis with an engaging and colourful narrative into which Kets de Vries weaves stories from his own life as both an academic and a hunter

Creative Engagements with Ecologies of Place Mary Modeen, Iain Biggs, 2020-12-28 This book explores an exciting range of creative engagements with ecologies of place using geopoetics deep mapping and slow residency to propose broadly based collaborations in a form of disciplinary agnosticism Providing a radical alternative to current notions of interdisciplinarity this book demonstrates the breadth of new creative approaches and attitudes that now challenge assumptions of the solitary genius and a culture of possessive individualism Drawing upon a multiplicity of perspectives the book builds on a variety of differing creative approaches contrasting ways in which both visual art and the concept of the artist are shifting through engagement with ecologies of place Through examples of specific established practices in the UK Australia and the USA and other emergent practices from across the world it provides the reader with a rich illustration of the ways in which ensemble creative undertakings are reactivating art s relationship with place and transforming the role of the artist This book will be of interest to artists art educators environmental activists cultural geographers place based philosophers and postgraduate students and to all those concerned with the revival of place through creative work in the twenty first century
