The Land And People Of Tanzania:

The Land and People of Tanzania Edna Mason Kaula, 1972-01-01 An introduction to the geography history people industries culture and social progress of the largest country in East Africa Tanzania David Lawrence, 2009 This is a general introduction to Tanzania It s also a look at Tanzania from a contemporary and historical perspective The focus is on Tanzania today Some of the major political economic and social developments which have taken place in the country especially since the seventies also constitute a significant part of the book The book is intended for those who are going to Tanzania for the first time and for anybody else who wants to learn some basic facts about the largest country in East Africa Readers are also going to learn quite a few things about the people of Tanzania and their tribes or ethnic groups and where these groups traditionally live Also covered in the book are the towns and cities in all the provinces of this large country The purpose is to provide a comprehensive picture of the country by focusing on a number of areas including a general background of Tanzania the geography of the country life in Tanzania today and how life was in the seventies and eighties under socialism known as ujamaa which means familyhood in Kiswahili the country s transition from socialism to a free market economy ethnic groups or tribes and their home districts and regions racial minorities who constitute a significant part of Tanzania s population the Swahili people and their culture towns and cities the union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar and its prospects and challenges and life in Tanzania in what was then Tanganyika in the fifties just before independence There are also chapters on Dar es Salaam the nation s largest city and commercial centre and former capital and on the former island nation of Zanzibar Tanzania also is unique in one fundamental respect It s the only union of two independent countries ever formed on the African continent And it s the only one that exists today almost half a century after it was formed The union between Tanganyika and Zanzibar is one of the subjects covered in the book and readers are going to learn about one of the most important events in the history of post colonial Africa on a continent where the quest for unity has remained an elusive dream since independence in the fifties and sixties The book also includes a lot of information on Tanganyika just before independence and how it became one of the first countries in Africa to emerge from colonial rule Also included is some material on one of the most interesting ethnic groups in African history and how it came into being It s the Swahili whose language is also known as Swahili especially among many people around the world who are not native speakers of the language Among the native speakers the language is called Kiswahili It s the main language spoken in Tanzania and Kenya It s also spoken in several other countries in east central Africa And we are going to learn something about this language which transcends ethnicity Kiswahili is not identified with any African tribe making it a truly Pan African language building bridges across ethnicity cultures and nations especially in the eastern part of the continent And as you learn about Tanzania you are also going to learn a few things about an area bigger than Tanzania because of the country s connection to other parts of East Africa and beyond Land, People, and Forests in Eastern and Southern Africa at the Beginning of the 21st Century

Liz Wily, Sue Mbaya, 2001 The Iraqw of Tanzania Katherine A. Snyder, 2018-10-08 In The Iraqw of Tanzania Negotiating Rural Development author Katherine Snyder focuses on how the Iraqw perceive, respond to and affect development in Tanzania. Snyder explores how the ideology of development affects people's actions from what crops to plant to what to wear and do at their weddings and also considers how issues of development play out between elders and juniors, men and women and wealthy and poor. She shows the creativity of local actors in adapting to new ideological shifts and using the rhetoric of development to pursue their own goals. Presenting the author's own fieldwork avoiding jargon and making extensive use of vignettes, stories of people's lives and incidents, The Iraqw of Tanzania illustrates its themes in a manner useful and fascinating to students.

Tanzania John Ndembiwe, 2008 This is a general study of Tanzania, the land and its people and history and a look at contemporary life in the largest country in East Africa and one of the largest on the continent. It is also a general survey of the country's natural resources, crops and minerals and economic potential. The book also includes some details on the East African Community and the proposed East Africa federation of Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania which is supposed to be formed in 2013. Includes maps and photos.

The Case of Himo and Its Region, Northern Tanzania B. D. Diyamett, 2001 The Social Lives of Land Michael Goldman, Nancy Lee Peluso, Wendy Wolford, 2024-06-15 From the shaping of new homelands in the Cherokee Nation to the export of sand from Cambodia to shore up urban expansion in Singapore, The Social Lives of Land reveals the dynamics of contemporary social and political change. The editors of this volume bring together contributions from across multiple disciplines and geographic locations. The contributions showcase novel theoretical and empirical insights analyzing how people are living on with and from their land. From Mozambique to India, Indonesia, Ecuador and the colonial United States, the scholars in this collection uncover histories and retell stories with a focus on the lived experiences of rural and urban land dispossession and repossession. Contributors: Kati Alvarez, Clint Carroll, Flora Lu, Richard Mbunda, Gregg Mitman, Paul Nadasdy, Robert Nichols, Andrew Ofstehage, Laura Schoenberger, Kirsteen Shields, Emmanuel Sulle, Erik Swyngedouw, Gabriela Valdivia, Katherine Verdery, Callum Ward, Ciara Wirth, Emmanuel King, Urey Yarkpawolo.

Tanzania at the Turn of the Century B. J. Ndulu, Charles K. Mutalemwa, 2002-01-01 This report identifies lessons from Tanzania's development experience over the past four decades and assesses how a higher sustained growth and a better livelihood for its citizens in the future can be achieved. The background papers review and evaluate the country's growth and poverty reduction performance, highlight the strategic and institutional imperatives needed for developing sustained growth and reducing poverty, and consider the development of the private sector and its increased role in the growth and modernisation of the Tanzanian economy.

Custodians of the Land Gregory H. Maddox, James L. Giblin, Isaria N. Kimambo, 1996-04-15 Farming and pastoral societies inhabit ever-changing environments. This relationship between environment and rural culture, politics and economy in Tanzania is the subject of this volume, which will be valuable in reopening debates on Tanzanian history. In his conclusion, Isaria N. Kimambo, a founding father of Tanzanian history, reflects on the efforts of successive historians to strike a balance between external causes of change and local initiative in their interpretations of Tanzanian history He shows that nationalist and Marxist historians of Tanzanian history understandably preoccupied through the first quarter century of the country's post colonial history with the impact of imperialism and capitalism on East Africa tended to overlook the initiatives taken by rural societies to transform themselves Yet there is good reason for historians to think about the causes of change and innovation in the rural communities of Tanzania because farming and pastoral people have constantly changed as they adjusted to shifting environmental conditions Africa 2013

Enabling legal frameworks for sustainable land-use investments in Tanzania: Legal assessment report Robert Kibugi,D. Andrew Wardell,Marie-Claire Cordonier Segger,Caroline Haywood,Renée Gift,2015-10-08 The International Development Law Organization IDLO and the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR assessed the legal frameworks that govern land use activities and investments in Tanzania The policy institutional and legal frameworks are well developed although implementation and enforcement remains weak due to ambiguities in the law and a general lack of supportive incentives This Legal Assessment report for Tanzania examines four key challenges to the attainment of sustainable land use investments These comprise Enforcement of environmental and social safeguards Tanzania has made progress in implementing the Environmental Management Act by ensuring greater compliance with the Environmental Impact Assessment regulations although exceptions exist in the construction sector and mining legislation that often enables the government to circumvent important land tenure safeguards Incentives for sustainable investments in the legal framework A lack of incentives exists despite the creation of the Tanzania Investment Centre the adoption of an Investment Guide in 2013 and the incorporation of sustainability considerations into laws and policies governing investments in the agriculture energy and forestry and mining sectors Land tenure security Tanzania s land law framework now includes formal recognition of customary title and the reservation of land under the category of village land exclusively for Tanzanians although improvements are still needed in terms of processes of consultation and compensation Public awareness and lack of access to information Awareness of natural resources and investment policies legislation and regulations is generally low amongst rural communities as well as Ward executive officers village leaders and village land committee members Rural radio represents their most important source of information Tanzania in Pictures Bev Pritchett,2007-12-15 Presents a photographic introduction to the land history government economy people and culture of the African nation of Tanzania
