Keillor, 2007-07-30 Marketing is the crucial connection between company and customer no enterprise can expect to succeed without a substantial investment in its marketing efforts Not surprisingly marketing is one of the core areas of study in the hundreds of business schools and

MBA programs around the world and a vital department of virtually every business. This dynamic set showcases the most current trends, issues, ideas, and practices in marketing, especially as the field evolves in the context of globalization and advances in technology. From branding to public relations, e-tailing to customer retention strategies, overseas expansion to promoting sports products, Marketing in the 21st Century covers the full spectrum of marketing-related issues in their business and cultural contexts. Written by leading academic thinkers and business practitioners, the four volumes highlight emerging and innovative practices illustrated through examples from around the world.

Volume 1: New World Marketing provides insights and tools for conducting business internationally with emphasis on market research, market entry, and distribution strategies and coverage of emerging markets including China, India, and Eastern Europe.

Volume 2: Interactive and Multi-Channel Marketing explores the impact of new technologies on acquiring and retaining customers, including discussion of direct and interactive marketing techniques, customer data analysis, and ethics in marketing.

Volume 3: Company and Customer Relations deals with such issues as reputation and trust building, relationship marketing, sales management, and customer privacy.

Volume 4: Integrated Marketing Communication covers consumer demographics, multi-media communication strategies, and micromarketing.

Collectively, these volumes represent the state of the art in the field. They are an essential resource for anyone studying, teaching, researching, or practicing the art and science of marketing.

The Routledge Companion to Ethnic Marketing Ahmad Jamal, Lisa Peñaloza, Michel Laroche, 2015-06-19

The globalization of marketing has brought about an interesting paradox: as the discipline becomes more global, the need to understand cultural differences becomes all the more crucial. This is the challenge in an increasingly international marketplace and a problem that the world's most powerful businesses must solve. From this challenge has grown the exciting discipline of ethnic marketing, which seeks to understand the considerable opportunities and challenges presented by cultural and ethnic diversity in the marketplace. To date, scholarship in the area has been lively but disparate. This volume brings together cutting-edge research on ethnic marketing from thought leaders across the world. Each chapter covers a key theme reflecting the increasing diversity of the latest research, including models of culture change, parenting and socialization, responses to web and advertising, role of space and social innovation in ethnic marketing, ethnic consumer decision making, religiosity, differing attitudes to materialism, acculturation, targeting, and ethical and public policy issues. The result is a solid framework and a comprehensive reference point for consumer researchers, students, and practitioners.
