Lady in the Dark Robert Sitton, 2014-04-01 Iris Barry 1895-1969 was one of the first critics to recognize film as an art form The mother of film preservation internationally she founded the film department at New York City's Museum of Modern Art and became its first curator cementing film's critical legitimacy Drawing on letters memorabilia and other documentary sources Robert Sitton reconstructs Barry's remarkable life and work sharing the story of a thoroughly modern muse and mentor to some of the most influential artists of her day Although she had the bearing of a British aristocrat Barry was the self educated daughter of a brass founder and a palm reader from the Isle of Man An aspiring poet her early work attracted the attention of Ezra Pound whose letters to Barry comprise the essence of his thoughts on writing Moving to London at Pound's suggestion in 1917 Barry joined a demimonde of Bloomsbury figures including Ford Maddox Ford T.S. Eliot Arthur Waley Edith Sitwell and William Butler Yeats and fell in love with Pound's eccentric fellow Vorticist Wyndham Lewis During these tumultuous years Barry launched a career as a novelist biographer and critic of motion pictures which were dismissed as lower class amusements She wrote articles for the Spectator positioning film as a new art form and in 1925 cofounded the London Film Society Emigrating to America in 1930 Barry joined the modernist Askew Salon where she met Alfred Barr Jr the director of the new Museum of Modern Art Barr helped Barry establish a film library and convince powerful Hollywood interests to submit their work for exhibition creating a significant new respect for film and prompting the founding of the

International Federation of Film Archives for which Barry served as Life President Barry continued to augment MoMA's film library until World War II when she joined the Office of Strategic Services to develop pro American films with Orson Welles Walt Disney John Houston Samuel Goldwyn and Frank Capra Yet despite these patriotic efforts Barry's foreignness and association with such filmmakers as Luis Buñuel made her the target of an anticommunist witch hunt She eventually left for France working for MoMA only as consultant Barry died in obscurity her contribution to film and cultural history largely forgotten Sitton reclaims her phenomenal achievements while recasting the political involvement of artistic institutions in the early twentieth century
