Are you ready to stop just dreaming and start doing The God Who Makes Things Happen Samuel A Elder,2007-02 Written in a popular style by a longtime college physics professor and Bible teacher this book is designed to strengthen the faith of those who believe in an inerrant Bible against false teaching by secular educators Casting a physicist's light on the old earth young earth controversy a new paradigm is presented The author invokes Einstein's theory to show that the six 24 hour days model of creationists and the physicist's 13.7 billion year model are not logically inconsistent That's because the God Who inspired Genesis One exists in three Persons each capable of distinct spacetime reference frames allowing creation to be observed multi perspective Furthermore citing Heisenberg's uncertainty principle the basis of quantum mechanics he points out that this allows God to control the universe moment by moment since it is clearly taught in Scripture that God alone is sovereign over chance The Law of Entropy sometimes called time's arrow shows that the history of salvation was intended to take place only once Jesus Christ is the anchor of time The unifying theme of the Old and New Testaments is the story of redemption from the penalty of original sin as God in His sovereignty calls members of His invisible church out from the world Disastrous Floods from the Severe Winter Storms in California, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, and Idaho United States. National Weather Service. Western Region,1997 When Will These Things Happen? Alistair I.

Wilson,2007-01-01 Was the historical Jesus a preacher of imminent apocalyptic judgment or altogether a non eschatological teacher Despite the popularity of both of these extreme portraits in contemporary scholarship Wilson demonstrates a via media in which Jesus viewed especially through the window of Matthew 21:25 is both prophet and sage but preeminently a judge during his ministry in his invisible coming against Jerusalem in AD70 and at God's final assize An important contribution Craig Blomberg Distinguished Professor of New Testament Denver Seminary In the crowded field of Matthean studies this book offers something new a discussion of the theme of judgment in Matthew 21:25 the account of Jesus' confrontation with the Jerusalem authorities Dr Wilson is well abreast of current scholarship but not afraid to take an independent line not least in his robust defense of the view that reference to the coming of the Son of Man refers not to the parousia but to the imminent vindication of the rejected Messiah This exegesis enables him to link ch 24 closely with the preceding dialogue and diatribe and to offer a satisfyingly coherent interpretation of the whole Jerusalem section of the gospel which precedes the passion narrative Over against Marcus Borg's non eschatological Jesus Wilson shows convincingly that Matthew's Jesus had a clear eye to the future looking both to coming events in Palestinian history for his own vindication on the world stage and also to a more ultimate judgment in which he would play the leading role Whether or not other scholars agree with Wilson's conclusions this is the sort of careful exegetical scholarship which is needed to carry constructive discussion forward R T France formerly Principal Wycliffe Hall Oxford Alistair Wilson has written a study that reveals first class scholarship He demonstrates that he is fully abreast of issues that are currently being discussed In his interactions he is tactful serene and persuasive While applauding the views of others he nevertheless shows his difference from them by carefully demonstrating on the basis of Matthew's Gospel that Jesus indeed is judge both in the first century and at the consummation. This book is an excellent addition to evangelical research that champions a high view of Scripture.

Simon J. Kistemaker, Professor of New Testament Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary.

Alistair Wilson's monograph goes right to the heart of contemporary debate concerning the role of Jesus by drawing attention to the motif of judgment in his role as prophet and sage that so impressed the Evangelist Matthew. His fresh study of judgment in this Gospel shows that the early church was far removed from seeing in him the non-eschatological teacher of the late twentieth century Jesus seminar. This is an important scholarly contribution to the ongoing study of how Jesus was seen and understood by his contemporaries with considerable significance for how we ought to understand him today.

I. Howard Marshall, Emeritus Professor of New Testament Exegesis and Honorary Research Professor, University of Aberdeen.

Alistair Wilson is a minister of the Free Church of Scotland. He has taught New Testament at Highland Theological College in Dingwall, Scotland, and currently serves as Principal of Dumisani Theological Institute in South Africa.

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way Through My Bible Study Bruce T. Morris, 2008-05

Have you felt failure in forgiving? Do you know how your justices and legislators should be acting upon critical decisions affecting the family? Does your marriage need a boost? Or even your divorce? Would you like to know more about how to please God and support your friends in marital status? Have other authors avoided the controversial issues from the Bible? Perhaps you need a little help identifying and using your spiritual gift? Do a few passages of Scripture completely baffle you? Mr. Morris' walk through his Bible studies will surely help you in one or more of your challenges. Why not take your walk with him? Mr. Morris was saved as a 7-year-old. He felt the call to preach as an 11-year-old. He became a pretty serious Bible student right after salvation and felt that desire grow for years. He graduated from Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, TX, with a major in Bible. He then spent most of his elective credits in pursuit of the New Testament as he earned a Master of Divinity at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, TX. He served 27 months in the US Army. He retired from the pastorate after 11 3/4 years as assistant to the pastor and almost 29 years as senior pastor of four other churches. Whether in school, in pastoral ministry, in secular work, or in retirement, Bible reading and Bible study remain an important part of his life. He lives in retirement in Abilene, Texas, with his wife of 52 years, Betty Martin Morris. They have three children, seven grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. Among other pursuits, he is at work on his second book, a Commentary on Romans, and his next book on additional Biblical issues.

How Words Make Things Happen David Bromwich, 2019-04-04 Sooner or later our words take on meanings other than we intended How Words Make Things Happen suggests that the conventional idea of persuasive rhetoric which assumes a speaker's control of calculated effects and the modern idea of literary autonomy which assumes that poetry makes nothing happen together have produced a misleading account of the relations between words and human action Words do make things happen But they cannot be counted on to produce the result they intend This volume studies examples from a range of speakers and writers and offers close readings of their words Chapter 1 considers the theory of speech acts propounded by J L Austin Speakers Who Convince Themselves is the subject of chapter 2 which interprets two soliloquies by Shakespeare's characters and two by Milton's Satan The oratory of Burke and Lincoln come in for extended treatment in chapter 3 while chapter 4 looks at the rival tendencies of moral suasion and aestheticism in the poetry of Yeats and Auden The final chapter a cause of controversy when first published in the London Review of Books supports a policy of unrestricted free speech against contemporary proposals of censorship Since we cannot know what our own words are going to do we have no standing to justify the banishment of one set of words in favour of another Such
