The Last Neanderthal Pitt Poetry Series:

The Last Neanderthal Michael Van Walleghen, 1999-01-01 The Last Neanderthal is the fifth collection by the Lamont Award winner Michael Van Walleghen. Many of these poems find their occasions in the remembered past although they resonate in their metaphorical implications far beyond the parameters of personal history. The last Neanderthal of the title poem for instance is at once a fanciful and humorous projection of the speaker's own felt circumstance and a figure for the shared extinction that awaits us all. In free verse distinguished by uncommon precision and formal elegance these poems explore the labyrinth of memory as it exists in both the personal realm and in the larger human history we share in common.

The title poem about the death of the poet's father sets the tone for the book. In poem after poem the experience of loss gives way to something paradoxically approaching its opposite that lifting spirit we feel in the presence of exuberant formal invention in the luminous order of metaphor and metaphysical insight From Anthropology to Social Theory Arpad Szokolczai, Bjørn Thomassen, 2019-01-17 Presenting a ground breaking revitalization of contemporary social theory this book revisits the rise of the modern world to reopen the dialogue between anthropology and sociology. Using concepts developed by a series of maverick anthropologists who were systematically marginalised as their ideas fell outside the standard academic canon such as Arnold van Gennep Marcel Mauss Paul Radin Lucien Lévy-Bruhl and Gregory Bateson the authors argue that such concepts are necessary for understanding better the rise and dynamics of the modern world including the development of the social sciences in particular sociology and anthropology. Concepts discussed include liminality imitation schismogenesis and trickster which provide an anthropological toolkit for readers to develop innovative understandings of the underlying power mechanisms of globalized modernity Aimed at graduate students and researchers the book is clearly structured Part I introduces the maverick anthropologists while Part II applies the maverick tool kit to revisit the history of sociological thought and the question of modernity
