Written Reliquaries Leslie K. Measurement Error in Longitudinal Data Alexandru Cernat, Joseph W. Sakshaug, 2021-03-18 Longitudinal data is essential for understanding how the world around us changes Most theories in the social sciences and elsewhere have a focus on change be it of individuals of countries of organizations or of systems and this is reflected in the myriad of longitudinal data that are being collected using large panel surveys This type of data collection has been made easier in the age of Big Data and with the rise of social media Yet our measurements of the world are often imperfect and longitudinal data is vulnerable to measurement errors which can lead to flawed and misleading conclusions Measurement Error in Longitudinal Data tackles the important issue of how to investigate change in the context of imperfect data It compiles the latest advances in estimating change in the presence of measurement error from several fields and covers the entire process from the best ways of collecting longitudinal data to statistical models to estimate change under uncertainty to examples of researchers applying these methods in the real world This book introduces the essential issues of longitudinal data collection such as memory effects panel conditioning or mere measurement effects the use of administrative data and the collection of multi mode longitudinal data It also presents some of the most important models used in this area including quasi simplex models latent growth models latent Markov chains and equivalence DIF testing Finally the use of vignettes in the context of longitudinal data and estimation methods for multilevel models of change in the presence of measurement error are also discussed

Revolution, Rebellion, Resistance Professor Eric Selbin, 2013-04-04 Why do revolutions happen Decades of social science research have brought us little closer to understanding where when and amongst whom they occur In this groundbreaking book Eric Selbin argues that we need to look beyond the economic political and social structural conditions to the thoughts and feelings of the people who make revolutions In particular he argues we need to understand the stories people relay and rework of past injustices and struggles as they struggle in the present towards a better future Ranging from the French Revolution to the Battle for Seattle via Russia China Cuba Vietnam and Nicaragua Selbin makes the case that it is myth memory and mimesis which create maintain and extend such stories Revolution Rebellion Resistance identifies four kinds of enduring revolutionary story Civilizing and Democratizing The Social Revolution Freedom and Liberation and The Lost and Forgotten which do more than report on events they catalyse changing the world

Humankind Andreas Höfele, Stephan Laqué, 2011-05-04 Anthropology is a notoriously polysemous term Within a continental European academic context it is usually employed in the sense of philosophical anthropology and mainly concerned with exploring concepts of a universal human nature By contrast Anglo American scholarship almost exclusively associates anthropology with the investigation of cultural and ethnic differences cultural anthropology How these two main traditions and their derivations such as literary anthropology historical anthropology ethnology ethnography intercultural studies relate to each other is a matter of debate Both however have their roots in the path breaking changes that occurred within sixteenth and early seventeenth century culture and scientific discourse It was in fact during this period that the term anthropology first acquired the meanings on which its current usage is based The Renaissance did not invent the human But the period that gave rise to humanism witnessed an unprecedented diversification of the concept that was at its very core The question of what defines the human became increasingly contested as new developments like the emergence of the natural sciences religious pluralisation as well as colonial expansion were undermining old certainties The proliferation of doctrines of the human in the early modern age bears out the assumption that anthropology is a discipline of crisis seeking to establish sets of common values and discursive norms in situations when authority finds itself under pressure

An annual friend Almanacs Astrology The liturgy of popular culture Death Authority Religion Non Protestants Catholics Others From Perverts to Fab Five Rodger Streitmatter, 2008-11-19 From Perverts to Fab Five tracks the dramatic change in how the American media have depicted gay people over the last half century. Each chapter illuminates a particular media product that served as a milestone on the media's journey from demonizing homosexuals some fifty years ago to celebrating gay people or at least some categories of gay people today. The media Streitmatter argues have not merely reflected the American public's shift to a more enlightened view of gay people but they have been instrumental in propelling that change. The book spans the breadth of communication venues. Individual chapters focus on major news stories entertainment television programs and mainstream motion pictures that captured the public imagination while at the same time sending powerful messages about gay men and lesbians. Ideal for any reader interested in the changing depiction of gay men and lesbians in the media over time or as required reading in media courses.
