The Maritime World of Early Modern Britain Richard Blakemore, James Davey, 2025-10-01 Britain's emergence as one of Europe's major maritime powers has all too frequently been subsumed by nationalistic narratives that focus on operations and technology This volume by contrast offers a daring new take on Britain's maritime past It brings together scholars from a range of disciplines to explore the manifold ways in which the sea shaped British history demonstrating the number of approaches that now have a stake in defining the discipline of maritime history The chapters analyse the economic social and cultural contexts in which English maritime endeavour existed as well as discussing representations of the sea The contributors show how people from across the British Isles increasingly engaged with the maritime world whether through their own lived experiences or through material culture The volume also includes essays that investigate encounters between English voyagers and indigenous peoples in Africa and the intellectual foundations of imperial ambition

Hunting the Collectors Susan Cochrane, Max Quanchi, 2014-11-10 This volume investigates Pacific collections held in Australian museums art galleries and archives and the diverse group of 19th and 20th century collectors responsible for their acquisition The nineteen essays reveal varied personal and institutional motivations that eventually led to the conservation preservation and exhibition in Australia of a remarkable archive of Pacific Island material objects art and crafts photographs and documents Hunting the Collectors benchmarks the importance of Pacific Collections in Australia and is a timely contribution to the worldwide renaissance of interest in Oceanic arts and cultures The essays suggest that the custodial role is not fixed and immutable but fluctuates with the perceived importance of the collection which in turn fluctuates with the level of national interest in the Pacific neighbourhood This cyclical rise and fall of Australian interest in the Pacific Islands means many of the valuable early collections in state and later national repositories and institutions have been rarely exhibited or published But as the authors note enthusiastic museum anthropologists curators collection managers and university based scholars across Australia and worldwide have persisted with research on material collected in the Pacific This volume is a very important one for anyone studying the art and material culture of the Pacific It focuses on collections now in Australia Even those well versed in museum collections from the Pacific will learn about many important but little known collectors as well as better known figures like the anthropologists F E Williams and Thomas Farrell the husband of Queen Emma This will be a treat for
