This Thing Called Life Jeff Tucker, Ramona Tucker, 2001-09-18 Wisdom for Bad Days and Hard Times It used to be you could count on someone else to make important decisions for you But now that you're getting older more and more choices even the hard ones are up to you. It isn't always easy to know how to act or what to say whether you're faced with minor hassles like getting a zit before your first date or major crises like a friend's alcohol abuse. In this 31-day devotional you'll find stories about teens who are going through the same things you are, solid advice to help you make good decisions in tough times, space to scribble your thoughts and prayers, and things to think and pray about, all to help you get to know the God who's right by your side no matter what life brings.

Invisible for Young Women Jennifer Rothschild, 2016-02-01 Author Jennifer Rothschild knows how easy it is for young women to feel overlooked and invisible. Through the Bible's most unusual love story found in the book of Hosea, Jennifer helps young women see that God loves and cares for them in whatever situation they find themselves in. They will discover that if you wander off, He will find you. If you are afraid, He will calm you. If you give up on Him, He will not give up on you. No matter where you are, God sees who you are and loves you faithfully. Through the story of Hosea and Gomer, God reaches out to you and says, "You are mine, and that makes you lovely. You matter, and are never invisible to me."

Seeding Buddhism with Multiculturalism D. Mitra Barua, 2019-05-13 Immigrants often face considerable challenges when it comes to preserving their cultural and religious teachings. D. Mitra Barua argues that the Sri Lankan Buddhist community in Toronto has maintained its coherence and integrity not despite but because of the need for cultural adaptations. Drawing on survey data over fifty in-depth interviews with temple monks, educators, parents, and children, and fieldwork conducted in Toronto and Colombo, Sri Lanka, Seeding Buddhism with Multiculturalism examines how a religious tradition is transmitted from one generation to the next in a new cultural setting and what happens during that process of transmission. Barua demonstrates that Buddhists have passed on Buddhist beliefs, attitudes, and practices to their Canadian-born youth, who in turn have constructed their own distinct Buddhist identity influenced by the individualistic, egalitarian, and secular cultural ambience in Toronto. Through creative fieldwork and translocal analysis, taking into account migrants' geographical, cultural, and familial ties to multiple locales, this book further explains that pre-migration experiences often shape and determine the success or failure of intergenerational transmission. An ethnographic religious study with an uncommon depth of perspective, Seeding Buddhism with Multiculturalism shows that first and second generation Sri Lankan Buddhists in Toronto are successfully practising Theravada Buddhism within a Canadian context.

Muslim Americans Nahid Afrose Kabir, 2016-08-12 With Islamophobia on the rise in the US since 9/11, Muslims remain the most misunderstood people in American society. Taking as its point of departure the question of the compatibility of Islam and democracy, this book examines Muslims' sense of belonging in American society. Based on extensive interview data across seven states in the US, the author explores the question of what it means to be American or un-American amongst Muslims, offering insights into common views of community, culture, and wider society. Through a combination of interviewees' responses and discourse analysis of print media, Muslim Americans also raises the question of whether media coverage of the issue might itself be considered un-American. An empirically grounded study of race and faith based relations this book undertakes a rigorous questioning of what it means to be American in the contemporary US As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and political science with interests in race ethnicity religion and national identity Art, Identity and Devotion in Fourteenth-century England Kathryn Ann Smith,2003-01-01 Examines the De Lisle hours of Margaret de Beauchamp the De Bois hours Dubois hours of Hawisia de Bois and the Neville of Hornby hours of Isabel de Byron My Music, My War Lisa Gilman,2016-04-05 In the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq recent technological developments in music listening enabled troops to carry with them vast amounts of music and easily acquire new music for themselves and to share with their fellow troops as well as friends and loved ones far away This ethnographic study examines U S troops musical listening habits during and after war and the accompanying fear domination violence isolation pain and loss that troops experienced My Music My War is a moving ethnographic account of what war was like for those most intimately involved It shows how individuals survive in the messy webs of conflicting thoughts and emotions that are intricately part of the moment to moment and day to day phenomenon of war and the pervasive memories in its aftermath It gives fresh insight into musical listening as it relates to social dynamics gender community formation memory trauma and politics Foundations for Youth Ministry Dean Borgman,2013-10-01 Dean Borgman a nationally known youth ministry expert offers a new edition of his influential classic Reaching a broadly ecumenical audience this book challenges readers to think about the theological nature of youth ministry Questions for discussion and reflection are included This thoroughly updated edition was previously published as When Kumbaya Is Not Enough Praise for the first edition Writing with the lens of a theologian the heart of a pastor and welcome doctrinal breadth Borgman has provided a field book of pastoral theologies that takes seriously the social systems shaping the lives of adolescents This book is a significant step toward the long awaited conversation about theology and youth ministry in postmodern culture Kenda Creasy Dean Princeton Theological Seminary author of Almost Christian In this excellent work Borgman brings theological integrity depth and years of wisdom like nothing else I have seen in our field Jim Burns author of Teenology The Art of Raising Great Teenagers
