The Political Economy of the Agri-Food System in Thailand Prapimphan Chiengkul, 2017-05-08 This book adopts a neo Marxist and Gramscian approach to studying the political economy of the agricultural and food system in Thailand 1990 2014 The author argues that hegemonic forces have many measures to co-opt dissent into hegemonic structures and that counter hegemony should be seen as an ongoing process over a long period of time where predominantly counter hegemonic forces constrained by political economic structural conditions may at times retain some hegemonic elements Contrary to what some academic studies suggest the author argues that localist inspired social movements in Thailand are not insular and anti globalisation

The Politics of Uneven Development Richard F. Doner, 2009-02-09 Why do some middle income countries diversify their economies but fail to upgrade to produce world class products based on local inputs and technological capacities Why have the little tigers of Southeast Asia such as Thailand continued to lag behind the Newly Industrializing Countries of East Asia Richard Doner goes beyond political will by emphasizing institutional capacities and political pressures development challenges vary upgrading poses tough challenges that require robust institutional capacities Such strengths are political in origin They reflect pressures such as security threats and resource constraints which motivate political leaders to focus on efficiency more than clientelist payoffs Such pressures help to explain the political institutions veto players through which leaders operate Doner assesses this argument by analyzing Thai development historically in three sectors sugar textiles and autos and in comparison with both weaker and stronger competitors Philippines Indonesia Taiwan Brazil and South Korea
