S. Lewis and His Circle Roger White, Judith Wolfe, Brendan Wolfe, 2015-06-01 C S Lewis and His Circle is an edited volume of the best essays and memoirs culled from archives of over two hundred recordings presented at the Oxford University C S Lewis Society in the past three decades English Spirituality Gordon Mursell, 2001-01-01 This wide ranging historical survey provides an indispensable resource for those interested in exploring teaching or studying English spirituality In two stand alone volumes it traces the history from Roman times until the year 2000 The main Christian traditions and a vast range of writers and spiritual themes from Anglo Saxon poems to late modern feminist spirituality are included These volumes present the astonishing richness and variety of responses made by English Christians to the call of the divine during the past two thousand years Unisa English Studies University of South Africa. Department of English, 1975 From Gibbon to Auden G.W. Bowersock, 2009-03-25 For several decades G W Bowersock has been one of our leading historians of the classical world This volume collects seventeen of his essays each illustrating how the classical past has captured the imagination of some of the greatest figures in modern historiography and literature The essays here range across three centuries the eighteenth to the twentieth and are divided chronologically The great Enlightenment historian Edward Gibbon is in large part the unifying force of this collection as he appears prominently in the first four essays beginning with Bowersock's engaging introduction to the methods and genius behind The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. Gibbon's profound influence is revealed in subsequent essays on Jacob Burckhardt, the nineteenth century scholar famous for his history of the Italian Renaissance but whose work on late antiquity is only now being fully appreciated; the modern Greek poet Constantine Cavafy whose annotations on Gibbon's Decline and Fall tell us much about his own historical poems; and finally W. H. Auden whose poem and little known essay The Fall of Rome were in quirky ways tributes to Gibbon. The collection reprints Auden's poem and essay in full. The result is a rich survey of the early modern and modern uses of the classical past by one of its most important contemporary commentators.

In Solitude, for Company Wystan Hugh Auden, 1995. The third volume of Auden Studies presents Auden in maturity and includes a large amount of previously unpublished prose by him. The book concentrates on the relatively unexplored area of Auden's post 1940 writings and the letters, essays and lectures printed here demonstrate the Goethean scope of his intellect which ranged easily from psychoanalysis to theology, archaeology to politics. In Solitude for Company contains two hitherto unpublished and little known lectures. The first of these introduced by Nicholas Jenkins is on the theme of vocation delivered during the troubled war years when Auden was examining his own vocation. The second lecture was given near the end of the poet's life on the subject of the value of the work of Sigmund Freud. Katherine Bucknell precedes this with the first full length examination of Auden's intensely ambivalent relation to Freud. Auden's correspondence with his close friends James and Tania Stern reveals much new and important biographical information and Edward Mendelson's further supplement to the Auden Bibliography provides an extensive listing of all published letters by Auden. In addition distinguished literary critics including David Bromwich, Lawrence Lipking, Edna Longley and Michael Wood together with the nonagenarian communist Edward Upward contribute to a symposium on one of this century's most famous poems In Praise of Limestone.

Auden, The Psalms, and Me J. Chester Johnson, 2017-09-01. A first person narrative key to the work and prayer of the current Book of Common Prayer. Appeal to those interested in literature or in the history of the BCP. In the nearly 40 years since the advent of the 1979 Book of Common Prayer, the retranslation of the Psalter created for that book has become a standard used not only by Episcopalians but adopted by others into their own worship service books and liturgies. Now J. Chester Johnson, one of the two surviving members of the Committee that produced the retranslation, has agreed for the first time to call to tell the story of this Psalter and the little known but vital part played in it by acclaimed poet W. H. Auden whom Johnson replaced on the committee when Auden decided to return to live in England. Despite Auden's ambivalence about changes in the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer, he wrote associated articles and poems, authored many letters, some of special liturgical and spiritual significance, and attended Psalter drafting committee meetings. Auden, The Psalms, and Me not only illuminates this untold part of the Episcopal Psalter story but also describes the key elements that drove the creation of this special retranslation.
