Indigenous Futures and Learnings Taking Place Ligia (Licho) López López, Gioconda Coello, 2020-12-09

Singularizing progressive time binds pasts presents and futures to cause effect chains overdetermining existence in education and social life more broadly Indigenous Futures and Learnings Taking Place disrupts the common sense of futures in education or knowledge for the future by examining the multiplicity of possible destinies in coexistent experiences of living and learning Taking place is the intention this book has to embody and world multiplicity across the landscapes that sustain life The book contends that Indigenous perspectives open spaces for new forms of sociality and relationships with knowledge time and landscapes Through Goanna walking and caring for Country conjuring encounters between forests humans and the more than human dreams dream literacies and planes of existence the spirit realm taking place ancestral luchas Musquem h n q min m Land pedagogies and resoluteness and gratitude for atunhetsla the spirit within the chapters in the collection become politicocultural and historical statements challenging the singular order of the future towards multiple encounters of all that is to come In doing so Indigenous Futures and Learnings Taking Place offers various points of departure to history educational futures more responsive to the multiplicities of lives in what has not yet become The contributors in this volume are Indigenous women women of Indigenous backgrounds Black Red and Brown women and women whose scholarship is committed to Indigenous matters across spaces and times Their work in the chapters often defies prescriptions of academic conventions and at times occupies them to enunciate ontologies of the not yet As people historically fabricated women their scholarly production critically intervenes on time to break teleological education that births patriarchalized and masterized forms of living What emerges are presences that undiscipline education and educationalized social life breaking futures out of time This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Indigenous studies future studies post colonial studies in education settler colonialism and colonality diversity and multiculturalism in education and international comparative education

Native American Rhetoric Lawrence W. Gross, 2021-12-15 Native American Rhetoric is the first book to explore rhetorical traditions from within individual Native communities and Native languages The essays set a new standard for how rhetoric is talked about written about and taught The contributors argue that Native rhetorical practices have their own interior logic which is grounded in the morality and religion of their given traditions Once we understand the ways in which Native rhetorical practices are rooted in culture and tradition the phenomenological expression of the speech patterns becomes clear The value of Native communities and their languages is underlined throughout the essays Lawrence W Gross and the contributors successfully represent several but not all Native communities across the United States and Mexico including the Haudenosaunee Anishinaabe Choctaw Nahua Chickasaw and Chicana Tohono O odham Navajo Apache Hupa Lower Coast Salish Koyukon Tlingit and Nez Perce Native American Rhetoric will be an essential resource for continued discussions of Native American rhetorical practices in and beyond the discipline of rhetoric

Thanksgiving Address John

Stokes,1996-11 These traditional Native American words of thanksgiving come from the people of the Six Nations the Mohawk Oneida Onondaga Cayuga Seneca and Tuscarora also known as the Iroquois or Haudenosaunee who live in upstate New York Wisconsin and Canada Spoken as a spiritual address to the powers of the natural world these words are used to open gatherings in order to bring the minds of the people together as one and align the gathered minds with Nature The roots of these words reach back thousands of years to the very origins of the Haudenosaunee as a people Publisher s description Boundless Lisa A.
