Something Borrowed, Something Learned? David Finegold, William Richardson, 1993 Examines how the British government borrowed ideas from the US for education and training reforms during the last years of the Thatcher government Describes the transplanting of magnet schools school choice experiments business education compacts and the federal student loan program Also considers the problems of grafting such innovations onto a different education structure and predicts further interchange in the future The 11 papers are from a July 1990 conference location not noted No index Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Reforming Education Benjamin Levin, 2004-06-02 Ambitious programs of education reform have been introduced by many governments around the world Reforming Education is an important study of large scale education reform in five different settings England New Zealand the Canadian provinces of Alberta and Manitoba and the US state of Minnesota The book looks at a variety of reforms covering school choice charter schools increased testing of students stricter curriculum guidelines and local school management Drawing from theoretical and empirical work in education political theory organizational theory and public administration Reforming Education provides a clearly developed conceptual framework of analyzing reform programs The author reviews the political origins of the reforms the process of adoption into law the implementation processes used to support the reforms and the results of the reforms for students schools and communities Encyclopedia of the Social and Cultural Foundations of Education: A-H ; 2, I-Z ; 3, Biographies, visual history, index Eugene F. Provenzo, John P. Renaud, Asterie Baker Provenzo, 2009 The Encyclopedia provides an introduction to the social and cultural foundations of education The first two volumes consist of A Z entries featuring essays representing the major disciplines including philosophy history and sociology and a third volume is made up of documentary photographic and visual resources Resources in Education, 1995 Policy Learning from Canada Trygve Ugland, 2018-03-01 Focusing on the three Scandinavian countries Denmark Norway and Sweden Policy Learning from Canada is a systematic study of the international relevance of the Canadian immigration and integration policy model To reveal how the Canadian immigration model has shaped the reform process in Scandinavia Trygve Ugland critically examines public documents including government proposals documents from parliamentary debates and reports by ad hoc expert commissions as well as letters from consulted agencies Ugland s intensive studies on Canada s immigration and integration policies depict Canada not only as a model and inspiration to Scandinavian policy makers but in particular as an intellectual stimulus for the rediscovery of labour immigration in Scandinavia during the 2000s The study demonstrates that the Canadian model often perceived as a product of unique circumstances can be relevant in other countries Discourse Formation in Comparative Education Jürgen Schriewer, 2009 New theories and theory based methodological approaches have found their way into Comparative Education just as into Comparative Social Science more generally in increasing number in the recent past The essays of this volume express and critically discuss quite a range of these positions such as inter alia the theory of self organizing social systems and the morphogenetic approach the theory of long waves in economic development and world systems analysis historical sociology and the sociology of knowledge as well as critical hermeneutics and post modernist theorizing With reference to such theories and approaches the chapters written by scholars from Europe the USA and Australia outline alternative research agendas for the comparative study of the social and educational fabric of the modern world In so doing they also expound frames of reference for re considering the intellectual shaping or Discourse Formation of Comparative Education as a field of study
