Something To Be Desired 1st Edition:

The Death of Desire M. Guy Thompson, 2016-07-07 A stunning exploration of the relation between desire and psychopathology The Death of Desire is a unique synthesis of the work of Laing Freud Nietzsche and Heidegger that renders their often difficult concepts brilliantly accessible to and usable by psychotherapists of all persuasions In bridging a critical gap between phenomenology and psychoanalysis M Guy Thompson one of the leading existential psychoanalysts of our time firmly re situates the unconscious what Freud called the lost continent of repressed desires in phenomenology In so doing he provides us with the richest most compelling phenomenological treatment of the unconscious to date and also makes Freud's theory of the unconscious newly comprehensible In this revised and updated second edition to the original published in 1985 M Guy Thompson takes us inside his soul searching seven year apprenticeship with radical psychiatrist R D Laing and his cohorts as it unfolded in counterculture London of the 1970s This rite de passage culminates with a four year sojourn inside one of Laing's post Kingsley Hall asylums where Laing's unorthodox conception of treatment dispenses with conventional boundaries between doctor and patient In this unprecedented exploration Thompson reveals the secret to Laing's astonishing alternative to the conventional psychiatric and psychoanalytic treatment schemes Movingly written and deeply personal Thompson shows why the very concept of mental illness is a misnomer and why sanity and madness should be understood instead as inherently puzzling stratagems that we devise in order to protect ourselves from intolerable mental anguish The Death of Desire offers a provocative and challenging reappraisal of depth psychotherapy from an existential perspective that will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychotherapists philosophers social scientists and students of the human condition

Men Beyond Desire David Greven, 2025-01-10 This book explores the construction of male sexuality in nineteenth century American literature and overturns longstanding views Far from desiring heterosexual sex and wishing to bond with other men through fraternity the male protagonists of classic American literature mainly want to be left alone Greven makes the claim that American men eschewing both marriage and male friendship strive to remain emotionally and sexually inviolate Examining the work of traditional authors Hawthorne Poe Melville Cooper Irving Stowe Greven discovers consistently resistant portrayals of male characters who defend their individuality through a lockdown on sexuality Objects of desire from both women and other men the inviolate males discussed in this study disrupt established gendered and sexual categories inspiring fresh analysis of the era and its literary depiction of American manhood This second edition of Men Beyond Desire 2005 expands the analysis of male sexuality to include discussions of developments in the field of masculinity studies It includes a new introduction that introduces the complementary figure of the victim monster and revisits the work of Leslie Fiedler and a new chapter that focuses on Melville's tale Bartleby the Scrivener 1856 Chapter 4 expands the analysis of the intersections among free love health reform and male sexuality in The Blithedale Romance 1852 and chapter 9 expands the discussion of Billy Budd Sailor to address questions of race and the role of the Handsome Sailor

Discourses of Desire

Linda Kauffman, 2019-06-30 In Discourses of Desire Linda S Kauffman looks at a neglected genre the love letters written by literary heroines Tracing the development of the genre from Ovid to the twentieth century novel Kauffman explores through provocative and incisive readings the important implications of these amatory discourses for an understanding of fictive representation in general Among the texts Kauffman treats are Ovid's Heroides Heloise's letters to Abelard The Letters of a Portuguese Nun Clarissa Jane Eyre The Turn of the Screw Absalom Absalom and The Three Marias New Portuguese Letters Drawing on the work of such theorists as Todorov Genette Barthes Bakhtin Lacan and Derrida Kauffman demonstrates how the codes of love shape intertextual dialogues among these works in which each innovation in the genre is simultaneously a response to and a departure from the one preceding it Throughout she pays particular attention to the unsettling questions that the genre's shared thematic preoccupations and formal characteristics pose for concepts of gender authorship genre and mimesis Drawing on poststructuralism and psychoanalytic criticism to extend the boundaries of feminist theory Kauffman makes a significant contribution to contemporary critical discussions of writing and gender mimesis and narrative discourse and poetics and politics Her book broad in its scope and far reaching in its implications will be valuable reading for anyone interested in feminist criticism literary theory and literary history

An American Dictionary of the English Language Noah Webster, 1841 The Publishers Weekly, 1928 Actions and Objects from Hobbes to Richardson Jonathan Kramnick, 2010-08-30 How do minds cause events in the world How does wanting to write a letter cause a person's hands to move across the page or believing something to be true cause a person to make a promise In Actions and Objects Jonathan Kramnick examines the literature and philosophy of action during the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries when philosophers and novelists poets and scientists were all concerned with the place of the mind in the world These writers asked whether belief desire and emotion were part of nature and thus subject to laws of cause and effect or in a special place outside the natural order Kramnick puts particular emphasis on those who tried to make actions compatible with external determination and to blur the boundary between mind and matter He follows a long tradition of examining the close relation between literary and philosophical writing during the period but fundamentally revises the terrain Rather than emphasizing psychological depth and interiority or asking how literary works were understood as true or fictional he situates literature alongside philosophy as jointly interested in discovering how minds work

Emblems of Desire Maurice Scève, 2003 Introduced and annotated by the prize winning translator Richard Sieburth this bilingual selection from Scève's Dieux d'Amour are love poems for the intellectual Oscar Wilde, Wilfred Owen, and Male Desire James Campbell, 2015-09-08 This book reads Oscar Wilde as a queer theorist and Wilfred Owen as his symbolic son. It centers on the concept of male procreation or the generation of new ideas through an erotic but non physical connection between two men and it sees Owen as both a product and a continuation of this Wildean tradition. Thinking without Desire Panu Minkkinen, 1999-09-01 The book is an attempt to evaluate the reception of Continental philosophy phenomenology hermeneutics deconstruction etc within mainstream jurisprudence. The book claims that the reduction of philosophy to social theory can only be accomplished by impoverishing the impetus of philosophical thinking and consequently by transforming critique into criticism and the philosophy of law into legal theory. The response developed in this book is the creation of a metaphysical understanding of law or in other words what Aristotle called a first philosophy. In addition to philosophy proper the classics of Antiquity the great German philosophers contemporary French thinking the book covers a wide range of jurisprudential literature. These include the neo Kantian philosophers of law whose thinking is allegedly at the root of legal positivism but special emphasis is also given to existential philosophers of law deeply inspired by the hermeneutical phenomenology of Martin Heidegger. Lastly the book encourages specifically philosophical approaches in law to the thinking of French contemporaries whose work has inspired critical legal scholarship during the past ten years.
