Son of Alyandabu Joe McGinness,1991 Autobiography of Joe McGinness early life at the Lucy Claim mine and Kahlin Compound traditional food gathering work and wages under the Aboriginal Protection Law 1930 s Depression beche de mer fishing Caledon Bay Massacre Xavier Herbert and the Half Castes Association Northern Territory Aboriginal Ordinance 1918 1933 amendment Cairns Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders Advancement League the Hope Vale case formation and actions of the Federal Council for the Advancement of Aborigines North Australian Workers Union and Bagot and Berrimah Reserve strikes All Australian Trade Union Congress 1951 including text of speech by Jack McGinness activities of the council for Aboriginal Rights Social justice social and health services 1967 Referendum Aboriginal Trust Fund repatriation benefits equal wages and employment Broken Dreams Bill Dodd,2012-08-01 When eighteen year old Bill Dodd dived into the Maranoa River his life changed in an instant This young larrikin had enjoyed many adventures as a stockman on a remote cattle station now he was a quadriplegic His boxing running and football days were over and he would never ride his beloved horses again Bill s story begins with a high spirited childhood in small town Queensland a time of youthful humor and energy The sudden death of his stockman father affects Bill deeply and he rebels before himself choosing the exciting life of an apprentice stockman Waking up in the intensive care spinal unit he faces the consequences of his accident and slowly builds a new life Winner of the 1991 David Unaipon award for first time Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors Bill s story was written with the aid of a specially designed finger splint and a typewriter donated by the people of Mitchell his hometown Histories of Fascism and Anti-Fascism in Australia Evan Smith,Jayne Persian,Vashti Jane Fox,2022-12-30 Histories of Fascism and Anti Fascism in Australia provides a history of fascist movements and anti fascist resistance in Australia over the past century In recent years the far right has become a resurgent force across the globe resulting in populist parties securing electoral victories social movements organising on the streets and acts of right wing terrorism Australia has not been immune to this However this is not merely a recent phenomenon it has a long history of fascist and far right groups and individuals These groups have attempted to situate themselves within the wider settler colonial political landscape often portraying themselves as the inheritors of a violent and exclusionary colonial past Concurrently these groups have linked into globalised anti communist and white supremacist networks At the same time Australia has often seen resistance to fascism and the far right from the political centre to the far left Covering the period from the 1920s to the present day and featuring insights from historians sociologists and political scientists this book provides the most detailed account of this fascinating and important topic This book will be of interest to students and activists with an interest in the extreme right and anti fascism as well as Australian history politics and society Commemorating War Graham Dawson,2017-07-12 War memory and commemoration have had increasingly high profiles in public and academic debates in recent years This volume examines some of the social changes that have led to this development among them the passing of the two world wars from survivor into cultural memory Focusing on the politics of war memory and commemoration the book illuminates the struggle to install particular memories at the center of a cultural world and offers an extensive argument about how the politics of commemoration practices should be understood Commemorating War analyzes a range of forms of remembrance from public commemorations orchestrated by nation states to personal testimonies of war survivors and from cultural memories of war represented in films plays and novels to investigations of wartime atrocities in courts of human rights It presents a wide range of international case studies encompassing lesser known national histories and wars beyond the well trodden terrain of Vietnam and the two world wars in Europe Emerging from this book is an important critique of both state centered approaches to war memory and those that regard commemoration primarily as a human response to loss and grief Offering a wealth of empirical research material this book will be important for cultural and oral historians sociologists researchers in international relations and human rights and anybody with an interest in the cultural construction of memory in contemporary society

A Human Right to Culture and Identity Janne Mende, 2016-06-15 Is it desirable or even necessary to have distinct human rights for cultural identities Do different conceptions of culture and identity and their potential to frame human rights violations as culturally appropriate complicate the question How should a human right to collective identity be outlined Claims to human rights as applying to a whole ethnic religious or cultural group instead of the individual prove to be complex This book reveals the pitfalls benefits and demands that surround the debate for and against culture and identity in human rights It connects a continuous and nuanced theoretical debate with highly topical empirical findings about collective rights for indigenous groups which for centuries have been suppressed and marginalized and now stand at the forefront of successfully demanding a human right to their own culture and distinct identity This book shows the ambivalences of those demands and discusses solutions so that human rights neither exclude marginalized cultural groups nor reproduce rigid distinctions between seemingly exclusive cultures

Rights for Aborigines Bain Attwood, 2020-07-24 We cannot help but wonder why it has taken the white Australians just on 200 years to recognise us as a race of people Bill Onus 1967 Aboriginal people were the original landowners in Australia yet this was easily forgotten by Europeans settling this old continent Labelled as a primitive and dying race by the end of the nineteenth century most Aborigines were denied the right to vote to determine where their families would live and to maintain their cultural traditions In this groundbreaking work Bain Attwood charts a century long struggle for rights for Aborigines in Australia He tracks the ever shifting perceptions of race and history and how these impacted on the ideals and goals of campaigners for rights for indigenous people He looks at prominent Aboriginal and non Aboriginal campaigners and what motivated their involvement in key incidents and movements Drawing on oral and documentary sources he investigates how they found enough common ground to fight together for justice and equality for Aboriginal people Rights for Aborigines illuminates questions of race history political and social rights that are central to our understanding of relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal Australians

Better Britons

Nadine Attewell, 2014-02-05 In 1932 Aldous Huxley published Brave New World his famous novel about a future in which humans are produced to spec in laboratories Around the same time Australian legislators announced an ambitious experiment to breed the colour out of Australia by procuring white husbands for women of white and indigenous descent In this study Nadine Attewell reflects on an assumption central to these and other policy initiatives and cultural texts from twentieth century Britain Australia and New Zealand that the fortunes of the nation depend on controlling the reproductive choices of citizen subjects Better Britons charts an innovative approach to the politics of reproduction by reading an array of works and discourses from canonical modernist novels and speculative fictions to government memoranda and public debates that reflect on the significance of reproductive behaviours for civic national and racial identities Bringing insights from feminist and queer theory into dialogue with work in indigenous studies Attewell sheds new light on changing conceptions of British and settler identity during the era of decolonization      Seeking Racial Justice Jack Horner, 2004 The author's personal account of his developing consciousness as a white player in the black theatre of Indigenous Australian affairs and in particular his work with FCAATSI The book is also a tribute to the diverse Aboriginal and non Aboriginal individuals and groups who dedicated themselves to the cause from 1938 to 1978      The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature      A Higher Authority: Indigenous Transnationalism and Australia Ravi De Costa, 2012 This important book recovers the long tradition of indigenous transnationalism contact with external people institutions ideas throughout Australia's history from before white settlement to the present
