FROM ITS PUBLISHER

ALL PAPER, including the paper on which books are printed, as well as the materials which go into the manufacture of paper, is absolutely essential to the prosecution of the war. Because of this, book publishers are now seriously restricted in the amount of paper which is available for books.

☞ This means that unless we economize in the use of paper in every way possible, we shall not be able to print anything like all of the books readers will demand of us. This is particularly important because our libraries in good books published as long as twenty years ago (the Boston was founded in 1630) for which there is still a steady demand and which we do not wish to let go out of print.

☞ We are therefore reducing the size of our books and their thickness, and have made an effort, without sacrificing readability, to reduce the number of pages by giving more ground matter on each page. For this we must beg your indulgence, though I think that in many ways the smaller and thinner books are more convenient to handle and no read than their larger and heavier fellows. On the other hand, despite the shortage of all materials that go into the making of books and the actual manpower shortage among all printers and binders, we saved in every way possible to preserve those physical qualities that have long made Boston Books outstanding. We will use cloth of as good quality as we can procure and will maintain the same high standards of typographical and binding design.
