The 39 Steps Criterion Collection:

Situating the Feminist Gaze and Spectatorship in Postwar Cinema Marcelline Block, Angela Laflen, 2009-01-14 Marcelline Block's Situating the Feminist Gaze and Spectatorship in Postwar Cinema breaks new ground in exploring feminist film theory. It is a wide-ranging collection re-visiting important theoretical questions as well as offering close analyses of films produced in the United States, France, England, Belgium, and Russia. This anthology investigates exciting areas of research for critical inquiry into film and gender studies as well as feminist, queer, and postfeminist theories and treats film texts from Marguerite Duras to 21st-century horror films from Agnès Varda's 2007 installation at the Pantheon to the post-Soviet Russian filmmakers Aleksei Balabanov and Valerii Todorovskii from Quentin Tarantino's Death Proof to Sofia Coppola's postfeminist trilogy from Chantal Akerman's transhistorical transgressive and transgendered gaze to the quantum gaze in Steven Spielberg's Jurassic Park from Hitchcock's good-looking blondes to the career woman in peril thriller among others. According to the semiotician Marshall Blonsky of the New School University in New York, given the breadth of the editor's choices, this volume makes a splendid contribution to feminist and cinematic fields as well as cultural and media studies, postmodernism, and postfeminism. It lends readers new eyes to view canonical and other film texts. David Sterritt, chairman of the National Society of Film Critics, states that this anthology should be required reading for students and scholars among other readers interested in the interaction of cinema with contemporary culture. Situating the Feminist Gaze and Spectatorship is prefaced by Jean Michel Rabat's brilliant essay Mulvey was the First. Hitchcock & the Anxiety of Authorship Leslie H. Abramson, 2016-04-08 Hitchcock and the Anxiety of Authorship examines issues of cinema authorship engaged by and dynamized within the director's films. A unique study of self-reflexivity in Hitchcock's work from his earliest English silents to his final Hollywood features, this book considers how the director's releases constitute ever-shifting meditations on the conditions and struggles of creative agency in cinema. Abramson explores how located in literal and emblematic sites of dramatic production, exhibition, and reception and populated by figures of directors, actors, and audiences, Hitchcock's films exhibit a complicated, often disturbing vision of authorship, one that consistently problematizes rather than exemplifies the director's longstanding auteurist image. Viewing Hitchcock in a striking new light, Abramson analyzes these allegories of vexed agency in the context of his concepts of and commentary on the troubled association between cinema artistry and authorship as well as the changing cultural, industrial, theoretical, and historical milieus in which his features were produced. Accordingly, the book illuminates how Hitchcock and his cinema register the constant dynamics that constitute film authorship. Hitchcock and Humor Wes D. Gehring, 2019-05-13 Woody Allen's Manhattan Murder Mystery has been described as a kind of Rear Window for retirees. As this quote suggests, an analysis of Alfred Hitchcock's methodical use of comedy in his films is past due. One of Turner Classic Movies' on-screen scholars for their summer 2017 online Hitchcock class, the author grew tired of misleading throwaway references to the director's comic relief. This book examines what should be obvious Hitchcock systematically incorporated assorted types of comedy black humor parody farce screwball comedy and romantic comedy in his films to entertain his audience with comic thrillers

Shakespeare's Histories on Screen Jennie M. Votava, 2023-06-29 This volume reframes the critical conversation about Shakespeare's histories and national identity by bringing together two growing bodies of work early modern race scholarship and adaptation theory Theorizing a link between adaptation and intersectionality it demonstrates how over the past thirty years race has become a central and constitutive part of British and American screen adaptations of the English histories Available to expanding audiences via digital media platforms these adaptations interrogate the dialectic between Shakespeare's cultural capital and racial reckonings on both sides of the Atlantic and across time By engaging contemporary representations of race ethnicity gender sexuality disability and class adaptation not only creates artefacts that differ from their source texts but also facilitates the conditions in which race and its intersections in the plays become visible At the centre of this analysis stand two landmark 21st century history adaptations that use non traditional casting the British TV miniseries The Hollow Crown 2012 2016 and the American independent film H4 2012 an all Black Henry IV conflation In addition to demonstrating how the 21st century screen history illuminates both past and present constructions of embodied difference these works provide a lens for reassessing two history adaptations from Shakespeare's 1990s box office renaissance when actors of colour were first cast in cinematic versions of the plays As exemplified by these formal adaptations reappropriations of race in history non traditional Shakespearean casting practices are also currently shaping digital culture's conversations about race in non Shakespearean period dramas such as Bridgerton

Classical Myth in Alfred Hitchcock's Wrong Man and Grace Kelly Films Mark William Padilla, 2018-12-12 Mark Padilla's classical reception readings of Alfred Hitchcock features some of the director's most loved and important films and demonstrates how they are informed by the educational and cultural classicism of the director's formative years The six close readings begin with discussions of the production histories so as to theorize and clarify how classicism could and did enter the projects Exploration of the films through a classical lens creates the opportunity to explore new themes and ideological investments The result is a further appreciation of both the engine of the director's storytelling creativity and the expressionism of classicism especially Greek myth and art in British and American modernism The analysis organizes the material into two triptychs one focused on the three films sharing a wrong man pattern wrongly accused man goes on the run to clear himself the other treating the films starring the actress Grace Kelly Chapter One on The 39 Steps 1935 finds the origins of the wrong man plot in early 20th century British classicism and demonstrates that the movie utilizes motifs of Homer's Odyssey Chapter Two on Saboteur 1942 theorizes the impact of the director's memories of the formalism and myths associated with the Parthenon sculptures housed in the British Museum Chapter Three on North by Northwest participates in the myths of the hero Oedipus as associated with early Greek epic Freud Nietzsche and Sophocles Chapter Four on Dial M for Murder 1954 returns to Homer's Odyssey in the interpretive use of the lay of Demodocus a story about the sexual triangle of Hephaestus Aphrodite and Ares Chapter Five on Rear Window 1954 finds its narrative archetype in The Homeric Hymn to Aphrodite the erotic theme of Sirius the Dog Star also marks the film Chapter Six on To Catch a Thief 1955 offers the opportunity to break from mythic analogues and to consider the film's philosophical resonances Plato and Epicurus in the context of motifs coalesced around the god Dionysus Bacchus
