The Secret Lives of Buildings Edward Hollis,2009-11-10 A strikingly original beautifully narrated history of Western architecture and the cultural transformations that it represents Concrete marble steel brick little else made by human hands seems as stable as immutable as a building Yet the life of any structure is neither fixed nor timeless Outliving their original contexts and purposes buildings are forced to adapt to each succeeding age To survive they must become shape shifters In an inspired refashioning of architectural history Edward Hollis recounts more than a dozen stories of such metamorphosis highlighting the way in which even the most familiar structures all change over time into something rich and strange The Parthenon that epitome of a ruined temple was for centuries a working church and then a mosque the cathedral of Notre Dame was restored to a design that none of its original makers would have recognized Remains of the Berlin Wall meanwhile which was once gleefully smashed and bulldozed are now treated as precious relics With The Secret Lives of Buildings Edward Hollis recounts the most enthralling of these metamorphoses and shows how buildings have come to embody the history of Western culture Hollis exposes the surprisingly motley histories of some of the world s great landmarks The chapter on the Parthenon actually brought me to tears Jenna Russell The Boston Globe What a happy tingle of discovery to come across a book that differs sharply from all the others in its field Hollis thinks with such originality and writes with such flair that he is a pleasure to read Stanley Abercrombie The American Scholar

The Struggle for Jerusalem's Holy Places Wendy Pullan,Maximilian Sternberg,Lefkos Kyriacou,Craig Larkin,Michael Dumper,2013-11-20 The Struggle for Jerusalem s Holy Places investigates the role of architecture and urban identity in relation to the political economy of the city and its wider state context seen through the lens of the holy places Reflecting the broad disciplinary backgrounds of the authors this book provides perspectives from architecture urbanism and politics and provides in depth investigations of historical ethnographic and policy related case studies The research is substantiated by fieldwork carried out in Jerusalem over the past ten years as part of the ESRC Large Grants project Conflict in Cities By analysing new dynamics of radicalisation through land seizure the politicisation of parklands and tourism the strategic manipulation of archaeological and historical narratives and material culture and through examination of general appropriation of Jerusalem's varied rituals memories and symbolism for factional uses the book reveals how possibilities of co-existence are seriously threatened in Jerusalem Shedding new light on the key role played by everyday urban life and its spatial settings for any future political agreements about the city and its religious sites this book is a useful reference work for students and scholars of Middle East Studies Architecture Religion and Urban Studies

The Politics of Sacred Space Michael Dumper, 2002 Dumper explores how religious and political interests compete for control of the Old City of Jerusalem and how this competition affects the Middle East conflict as a whole

The City After The Automobile Moshe Safdie, Wendy

Kohn, 2018-02-23 In an age of virtual offices urban flight and planned gated communities are cities becoming obsolete In this passionate manifesto Moshe Safdie argues that as crucibles for creative social and political interaction vital cities are an organic and necessary part of human civilization If we are to rescue them from dispersal and decay we must first revise our definition of what constitutes a city Unlike many who believe that we must choose between cities and suburbs between mass transit and highways between monolithic highrises and panoramic vistas Safdie envisions a way to have it all Effortless mobility throughout a region of diverse centers residential communities and natural open spaces is the key to restoring the rich public life that cities once provided while honoring our profound desire for privacy flexibility and freedom With innovations such as transportation nodes elevated moving sidewalks public utility cars and buildings designed to maximize daylight views and personal interaction Safdie's proposal challenges us all to create a more satisfying and humanistic environment

Holocaust Memory Reframed Jennifer Hansen-Glucklich, 2014-03-31 Holocaust memorials and museums face a difficult task as their staffs strive to commemorate and document horror On the one hand the events museums represent are beyond most people's experiences At the same time they are often portrayed by theologians artists and philosophers in ways that are already known by the public Museum administrators and curators have the challenging role of finding a creative way to present Holocaust exhibits to avoid clichéd or dehumanizing portrayals of victims and their suffering In Holocaust Memory Reframed Jennifer Hansen Glucklich examines representations in three museums Israel's Yad Vashem in Jerusalem Germany's Jewish Museum in Berlin and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington D C She describes a variety of visually striking media including architecture photography exhibits artifact displays and video installations in order to explain the aesthetic techniques that the museums employ As she interprets the exhibits Hansen Glucklich clarifies how museums communicate Holocaust narratives within the historical and cultural contexts specific to Germany Israel and the United States In Yad Vashem architect Moshe Safdie developed a narrative suited for Israel rooted in a redemptive Zionist story of homecoming to a place of mythic geography and renewal in contrast to death and suffering in exile In the Jewish Museum in Berlin Daniel Libeskind s architecture broken lines and voids emphasize absence Here exhibits communicate a conflicted ideology torn between the loss of a Jewish past and the country s current multicultural ethos The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum presents yet another lens conveying through its exhibits a sense of sacrifice that is part of the civil values of American democracy and trying to overcome geographic and temporal distance One well know example the pile of thousands of shoes plundered from concentration camp victims encourages the visitor to bridge the gap between viewer and victim Hansen Glucklich explores how each museum s concept of the sacred shapes the design and choreography of visitors experiences within museum spaces These spaces are sites of pilgrimage that can in turn lead to rites of passage
