The 2000 Prune Book John H. Trattner, 2010-12-01 A Brookings Institution Press and the Council for Excellence in Government publication Written primarily for incoming presidential appointees and those in the White House Senate and media who must identify appoint confirm and report on them Prune Books address the appointment and transition processes in their various dimensions The 2000 edition explores at length the evolving leadership challenge for presidential appointees and like its five predecessors profiles 45 of the toughest leadership jobs in government responsibilities issues and necessary professional credentials The book is based on interviews with current and former appointees other veterans of the executive branch and Congress journalists and political consultants

The 2004 PRUNE Book John H. Trattner, 2004-12-07 A Brookings Institution Press and the Council for Excellence in Government publication The 2004 Prune Book serves as a valuable resource for presidential appointees who manage the federal government on a daily basis Introduced in 1988 Prune Books describe the positions appointees hold and the challenges they face The books are distinguished by essays that give firsthand insight into such complex realities as managing the federal government for results and the appointments process itself This 2004 edition offers fresh approaches to the management aspects of an appointed position One chapter for example provides a tool kit designed for and essential to incoming senior federal appointees It examines the management dimensions of their jobs helping them manage for results and advising on what is required for survival and success as an appointee Senior civil servants will also value the discussion of coordinating strategies and mechanisms that embody the current approach to federal government management This overall approach is aimed at increasing the return on investment of taxpayer dollars This version of the Prune Book is specifically geared to help new senior political appointees grasp today's coordinated government wide agenda for improving federal management In addition it will be instructive to anyone who is considering federal employment or is interested in finding out more about how government works

Science and Technology for America's Progress Institute of Medicine, National Academy of Engineering, National Academy of Sciences, Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, Committee on Science and Technology in the National Interest: Ensuring the Best Presidential Appointments, 2008-12-05 The new Obama administration and the 110th Congress elected in November 2008 will face immediate challenges Events will not permit a leisurely leadership transition The prompt appointment of a Presidential science adviser and the nomination of top officials in the new administration with the knowledge and experience to address complex problems will be essential The concerns of the nation regarding jobs and economic growth health care national security energy and the environment demand informed action Each of these concerns from national security economic development health care and the environment to education energy and natural resources is touched in essential ways by the nation's science and technology enterprise This is the fourth in a series of books from the National Academies on the presidential appointment process each delivered during a presidential election year with the goal of providing recommendations to the President elect about appointing his senior science and technology leadership and pursuing sustained improvements in the appointments process

Science and Technology in the National Interest
 Institute of Medicine, National Academy of Engineering, National Academy of Sciences, Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, Committee on Ensuring the Best Presidential and Federal Advisory Committee Science and Technology Appointments, 2005-03-23 In 2004 an ad hoc committee was charged with preparing this third report examining the most senior S T appointments to federal government positions and updating the accompanying list of the most urgent S T presidential appointments Sufficient changes have occurred since the National Academies 2000 report on presidential appointments including the 2001 terrorist attacks the anthrax deaths the reorganization of homeland security activities in the federal government new developments in S T and concerns about the politicization of S T decision making and advice to warrant this new edition In contrast with previous reports on the subject this one covers not only presidential appointments to top S T leadership positions but also the appointment of scientists engineers and health professionals to serve on federal advisory committees that focus on science based policy or on the review of research proposals The committee recognizes that other areas of federal responsibility are as important as S T but S T appointments are the only ones within its purview

The Accountable Juggler Beryl Radin, 2002-01-01 PUBLIC AFFAIRS AND POLICY ADMINISTRATION SERIES Edited by Donald Kettl How should a manager handle different accountability expectations While a commonplace term in government lexicon accountability has escaped precise definition leaving managers at a disadvantage when trying to monitor the performance of their programs Including more than 300 programs over 60 000 employees and a budget of over 400 billion the U S Department of Health and Human Services is an ideal canvas for starkly illustrating competing accountability demands With a bird s eye view of the agency s inner workings Radin tackles big issues such as strategies of centralization and decentralization coordination with states and localities leadership and program design while using the apt analogy of a juggler to show how managers must keep in the air disparate demands and developments

An Insider's Guide to Political Jobs in Washington William T. Endicott, 2003-05-13 Praise for An Insider s Guide to POLITICAL JOBS IN WASHINGTON Bill Endicott has written a remarkable description of what Washington political jobs entail how you get them and where they lead a public service Gerald Ford 38th President of the United States Former Minority Leader U S House of Representatives Public service is essential to our democracy Bill Endicott s book is the best primer I have read to help those interested in serving in our nation s capital For those of us who have had the opportunity to work in political jobs this experience benefits both the individual and the country Leon Panetta Former U S Representative Director of the Office of Management and Budget and White House Chief of Staff A view of the process from the inside from someone who s been there many times No other source puts all the critical tips into one place as this book does The perspective on the process is unique The personal anecdotes and interviews are invaluable We plan to recommend it to everyone who walks in the door hoping
