Bodies Elena Castellani,2020-12-08 Bewildering features of modern physics such as relativistic space time structure and the peculiarities of so called quantum statistics challenge traditional ways of conceiving of objects in space and time Interpreting Bodies brings together essays by leading philosophers and scientists to provide a unique overview of the implications of such physical theories for questions about the nature of objects The collection combines classic articles by Max Born Werner Heisenberg Hans Reichenbach and Erwin Schrodinger with recent contributions including several papers that have never before been published The book focuses on the microphysical objects that are at the heart of quantum physics and addresses issues central to both the foundational and the philosophical debates about objects Contributors explore three subjects in particular how to identify a physical object as an individual the notion of invariance with respect to determining what objects are or could be and how to relate objective and measurable properties to a physical entity The papers cover traditional philosophical topics common sense questions and technical matters in a consistently clear and rigorous fashion illuminating some of the most perplexing problems in modern physics and the philosophy of science The contributors are Diederik Aerts Max Born Elena Castellani Maria Luisa Dalla Chiara Bas C van Fraassen Steven French Gian Carlo Ghirardi Roberto Giuntini Werner Heisenberg Decio Krause David Lewis Tim Maudlin Peter Mittelstaedt Giulio Peruzzi Hans Reichenbach Erwin Schrodinger Paul Teller and Giuliano Toraldo di Francia Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item Barcode

Station New York State College of Agriculture,1919 The Great Cat and Dog Massacre Hilda Kean,2017-03-14 In 1939

400 000 cats and dogs were massacred in Britain their corpses heaped up outside veterinarians offices Fear of the imminent German blitz led the government to urge pet owners to spare their animal companions so that they would not suffer in the bombing raids Hilda Kean s gripping narrative of this little known event includes tales of smuggling pets into bomb shelters trading bits of cat food on the black market and preemptively killing thousands of pets at the start of the war to save the food supplies in England Kean is able to show vividly how pets were an important part of British wartime experience She pays close attention to animals both symbolic and actual arguing that after the pet massacre human animal bonds became stronger and closer In the process of telling this history Kean necessary complicates the picture of World War II as the good war fought by a nation of good animal loving people Her close use of primary materials diaries personal sources contemporary newspapers collective public reports on daily life etc gives palpable reality to the animals and their fate at this time This forgotten aspect of Britain s history makes us rethink accepted accounts of the War and shows the ways in which animal and human histories are inextricably linked We are also constrained to rethink our assumptions about ourselves and the animals with whom we share our homes Pets, People, and Pragmatism Erin McKenna,2013-03 This book examines human relationships with pets without assuming that such relations are either unnatural and to be avoided or benign We need to find ways to relate respectfully For respectful relationships to be a real possibility though humans must make the effort to understand the beings with whom they live work and play The New Natural Cat Anitra Frazier,Norma Eckroate,1990-11-01 Here is the definitive handbook for concerned cat lovers everywhere now thoroughly revised and updated with an all new health encyclopedia Offers basic tips on choosing a vet dealing with litter box problems selecting a scratching post proper grooming and diet caring for sick cats and much more 20 line drawings
