

A photograph of a diverse group of children, likely of elementary school age, huddled together in a circle. They are all looking upwards with expressions of joy and excitement, some with their mouths open as if laughing or shouting. Their hands are raised in the air, and they are wearing various colorful clothing. The background is a bright, clear blue sky. The overall mood is one of happiness and social interaction.

Social And Personality Development By Shaffer 5th Edition:

Social and Personality Development David Reed Shaffer, 2005 The success of this best selling text lies in the author's belief that a good text talks with rather than at its readers Shaffer does an extraordinary job of anticipating students' interests, questions and concerns while treating them as active participants in the process of learning about social and personality development The Fifth edition of SOCIAL AND PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT features clearly written current coverage of social and personality development that aids students in discovering the causes, processes and complexities that underlie developmental change Students learn why biological and environmental factors, contextual factors such as cross cultural, familial, neighborhood, school and peer group influences cause change in children Shaffer also explores the approaches that researchers use to test their theories and answer important questions about developing children and adolescents This book's effective coverage of field research stands out from other texts not only for its accuracy and currency but because Shaffer consistently juxtaposes classic research with the latest breakthroughs in a way that helps students appreciate how knowledge builds on earlier findings This edition features a much stronger emphasis on cultural influences on development Important Notice: Media content referenced within the product description or the product text may not be available in the ebook version

Tasman's Psychiatry Allan Tasman, Michelle B. Riba, Renato D. Alarcón, César A. Alfonso, Shigenobu Kanba, Dusica Lecic-Tosevski, David M. Ndeti, Chee H. Ng, Thomas G. Schulze, 2024-09-04 Authored by over 500 internationally acclaimed expert editors and chapter authors from around the world Completely updated and expanded with almost 40 new chapters Significantly increased attention to the role of culture in all aspects of evaluation and care New sections on Digital Mental Health Services and Technologies, Treatment Issues in Specific Populations and Settings and on Prevention Systems of Care and Psychosocial Aspects of Treatment address key advances This edition is the first comprehensive reference work to cover the entire field of psychiatry in an updateable format ensuring access to state-of-the-art information Earlier editions were called the best current textbook of psychiatry by the New England Journal of Medicine and the gold standard by the American Journal of Psychiatry Tasman's Psychiatry 5th Edition builds on the initial vision in prior editions of approaching psychiatric evaluation and care from an integrative bio-psycho-social-cultural perspective It is designed to be an essential and accessible reference for readers at any level of experience This editorial approach encompasses the importance of the first encounter between patient and clinician followed by the complex task of beginning to develop a therapeutic relationship and to develop and implement a treatment plan in collaboration with the patient The importance of increasing attention to the role of culture and social determinants of mental health is reflected both in specific chapters and in components of many chapters throughout the book especially in those pertaining to clinical evaluation, the therapeutic alliance and treatment The global scope of this edition is reflected throughout the book including the section on psychiatric disorders where evaluation using both ICD-11 and DSM-5 TR is discussed Most chapters are authored by experts from at least two different countries or continents adding a critically important dimension which often is missing in major psychiatric textbooks Tasman s Psychiatry 5th Edition is an essential reference for all medical professionals and students who need a trusted reference or learning tool for psychiatry psychology clinical research social work counseling therapy and all others

Susan Goodwyn, Ph.D., Linda Acredolo, Ph.D., 2007-12-18 Who says your baby can't talk about his or her feelings? In fact, babies' actions often speak louder than words. Understanding those actions and responding appropriately to them is the key to giving your child a head start to a healthy and happy future. Now the authors of the bestselling Baby Minds and Baby Signs translate the latest research on the rich inner life of babies into practical fun activities that will foster your child's emotional skills during the most critical period between birth and age three. This comprehensive guide will help you help your child express emotions effectively, develop empathy, form healthy friendships, and cope with specific challenges. Learn how to talk with your child about emotions in order to help him recognize and control his own. Use face-to-face interaction, tone of voice, song, and touch to make your infant feel safe and secure. Start a gratitude journal to help your child appreciate the good things in life. Nurture self-esteem with try-again activities and simple chores. Create a "What are they feeling?" deck of cards to help your child understand and practice emotions. Use games and songs to help your child practice self-control. Overcome temper tantrums, aggression, shyness, separation anxiety, and other challenges. Whether your child is as easy to raise as a sunflower or as difficult as the prickly holly bush, requires the patience of the delicate orchid, or is as active as the exuberant dandelion, Baby Hearts helps you provide the emotional support that may be the most important gift a parent can give.

Learning in Adulthood Sharan B. Merriam, Rosemary S. Caffarella, Lisa M. Baumgartner, 2012-03-21 In this updated landmark book, the authors have gathered the seminal work and most current thinking on adult learning into one volume. Learning in Adulthood addresses a wide range of topics, including: Who are adult learners? How do adults learn? Why are adults involved in learning activities? How does the social context shape the learning that adults are engaged in? How does aging affect learning ability? Ethics vol III Henry Epps, 2012-08-21 Ethics vol III discusses the many doctrines of ethics from bioethics to military ethics. Society needs good ethics in order to fully maintain a well-ordered society.

A Case for Kindness Steve Broidy, 2019-08-06 Simple acts of kindness are not so simple. Broidy argues both for the complexity of kindness in action and for the value of an approach to teachers' relationships with their students and other clients that is rooted in a sensibility of kindness. Broidy's case for kindness begins by disentangling the concept of kindness from its many near relations. He traces the role of kindness and related concepts in both American educational history and in modern organizations promoting their versions of kindness. Broidy explores the ways we decide ethical questions, focusing on the complex of perceptions, emotions, dispositions, and priorities that form our ethical sensibilities. He argues that a sensibility oriented toward kindness is the best foundation for a teaching ethic and shows how new and working teachers can develop and employ such a teaching ethic. Finally, he connects a kindness-oriented teaching ethic to the societal need to maintain and develop a long-term democratic ideal. Perfect for courses such as Foundations, Philosophy of Education, Introduction to Education, Methods, Professional Ethics, Teacher Education.

Intersectionality in Action Peter Felten, Brooke Barnett, 2023-07-03 Colleges and universities silo diversity and inclusion by creating specific courses to address them or programs to welcome and support people with a range of identities whereas in reality students faculty and staff do not encounter diversity in the fractured ways that match the organizational structures of our institutions We all simultaneously embody a variety of identities with different saliency in different circumstances and times This book offers models for institutions to move intentionally toward intersections of study abroad and multiculturalism of race and gender and religion and of other essential aspects of our educational programs and our students identities to open doors to new possibilities that better prepare our students for life in a diverse world and that allow our institutions to become more efficient and effective as we strive to not simply do things better in our own separate spheres but to do better things by working together across difference Each chapter offers action oriented analysis focusing on particular campus intersections rather than attending to specific demographic groups Chapter authors also build on their own local expertise of doing this work on campuses that often do not have deep pockets or rich histories of such efforts The book is organized into three sections People focuses on diversity broadly defined considering questions about how we recruit and engage the students faculty and staff in the campus community and how we work with governing boards and others to promote inclusive excellence Environment focuses on inclusion including residence life the local community the working and learning environment and external factors and events such as national and international news or town gown relationships Learning focuses on perspective taking and learning about difference in the core curriculum the disciplines and the co curriculum as well as professional development for faculty and staff This ground reaking book helps readers no matter what position they occupy on campus to develop the knowledge and capacities necessary to create inclusive classrooms and is premised on the understanding that identity oppression power and marginalization cannot be addressed by looking solely at single identities
