Sri Lanka Improving The Rural Urban:

Empowering Education in Cambodia and Sri Lanka: Quality Improvement in Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century

Sandra Hummel, 2024-03-31 The anthology offers a distinctive perspective on a European Union funded capacity building initiative aimed at enhancing contemporary teaching competencies with a specific emphasis on Sri Lanka and Cambodia. It discusses the augmentation of pedagogical skills and its consequential effects on both individual and societal levels. Furthermore, the anthology scrutinizes the collaborative efforts in international education, elucidating the strategies adopted to confront the challenges and leverage the opportunities encountered by higher education institutions.

Innovative Strategies in Higher Education for Accelerated Human Resource Development in South Asia Asian Development Bank, 2016-06-01 This publication is part of a series of six country reports on technical and vocational education and training (TVET) and higher education in Bangladesh, Nepal, and Sri Lanka. Each report presents current arrangements and initiatives in the respective country's skills development strategies. These are complemented by critical analyses to determine key issues, challenges, and opportunities for innovative strategies toward global competitiveness, increased productivity, and inclusive growth. The emphasis is to make skills training more relevant, efficient, and responsive to emerging domestic and international labor markets. The reports were finalized in 2013 under the Australian AID supported Phase 1 of Subproject 11 Innovative Strategies for Accelerated Human Resource Development of Regional Technical Assistance 6337 Development Partnership Program for South Asia.

Sri Lanka Human Capital Development Harsha Aturupane, World Bank, 2021-08-31 Human capital is a central determinant of economic well-being and social advancement in the modern world economy. The concept of human capital covers the knowledge, skills, nutrition, and health that people accumulate over their lives, enabling them to realize their potential as productive members of society. Because of the vital importance of human capital for economic growth, the World Bank has launched the Human Capital Project (HCP), which includes the Human Capital Index (HCI). The objective of the HCP is to accelerate human capital development around the world. The HCI is a cross-country metric designed to measure and forecast a country's human capital. Sri Lanka is a lower middle income country seeking to become an upper middle income country. Developing human capital to a new and higher level will be central to achieving this development goal. After the country's 26-year secessionist conflict ended in 2009, Sri Lanka's economy enjoyed rapid growth at an average rate of almost 6 percent between 2010 and 2017, reflecting a peace dividend and a determined policy thrust toward reconstruction and growth. However, in more recent years, there have been signs of a slowdown. The economy is transitioning from a predominantly rural economy to a more urbanized one. In the context of the HCP and the HCI, Sri Lanka Human Capital Development analyzes the main achievements and challenges of human capital development in this East Asia and Pacific island country in health and nutrition, including stunting, and in education, including the challenges posed by Sri Lankans' low participation in higher education. The report concludes with a look at the importance of building a consensus among the public and other stakeholders to launch an ambitious human capital development program in Sri Lanka

Resilient Cities urban nutrition profile: Sri Lanka Margolies, Amy, Craig, Hope, Namara, Rebecca, Sehgal, Mrignyani, Hemachandra, Dilini, Olney, Deanna, 2025-04-28 Key Messages Child stunting has declined in both rural and urban areas since 2016 but still affects a third of children on estates Wasting prevalence has increased dramatically since 2016 reaching an alarming prevalence of 20 percent in urban areas There is insufficient intake of nutritious foods particularly in rural areas and diet quality is negatively influenced by obesogenic food environments as the urbanization process continues The cost of a healthy diet increased from 3 58 to 4 77 per person per day from 2017 to 2022 and 41 percent of the population is unable to afford a healthy diet The prevalence of overweight obesity and noncommunicable diseases is increasing nationally with higher burdens of overweight and obesity in urban populations and among women National nutrition policies reference urban areas but do not adequately address the dual challenges of undernutrition such as wasting and overnutrition such as overweight obesity and NCDs common to urban contexts Evidence is lacking on how to effectively address the double burden of malnutrition yet clearly double duty actions to address all forms of malnutrition will be essential

Population and Development Tim Dyson, 2013-07-04 The demographic transition and its related effects of population growth fertility decline and ageing populations are fraught with controversy When discussed in relation to the global south and the modern project of development the questions and answers become more problematic Population and Development offers an expert guide on the demographic transition from its origins in Enlightenment Europe through to the rest of the world Tim Dyson examines how while the phenomenon continues to cause unsustainable population growth with serious economic and environmental implications its processes have underlain previous periods of sustained economic growth helped to liberate women from the domestic domain and contributed greatly to the rise of modern democracy This accessible yet scholarly analysis will enable any student or expert in development studies to understand complex and vital demographic theory

Development Under Stress Saman Kelegama, 2006-11-14 Sri Lanka is credited with being the pioneer of economic liberalisation in South Asia Why then is economic progress painfully slow with the outcome being far below the country s potential This book examines the process of development and the implementation of reforms in Sri Lanka after the economic liberalisation of 1977 The author shows that while part of the story lies in the ongoing conflict in the North East which has lasted over 20 years there are a number of other factors which have impeded economic progress thereby designating it development under stress The book describes the key features of the Sri Lankan socio political and economic system that prevented the country from achieving higher levels of economic growth It explains why the country could not match the economic achievements of South Korea and Malaysia countries that had similar per capita income levels to that of Sri Lanka in the 1950s The author focuses on five core themes Economic development since Independence The debate on economic liberalisation Macroeconomic management Sectoral policy Employment and poverty

Sri Lanka International Monetary Fund. Asia and Pacific Dept,2018-06-20 This 2018 Article IV Consultation highlights that the Sri Lankan economy is expected to normalize gradually Following subdued growth in 2017 owing to the lingering effects of weather related shocks a recovery is under way as agriculture has started to rebound and growth in exports remains robust Real GDP growth is expected to reach 4 percent in 2018 and about 5 percent over the medium term The Central Bank of Sri Lanka has effectively curbed credit growth and stabilized inflation despite recent pressures However the economy remains vulnerable to adverse domestic and external shocks given the still sizable public debt large refinancing needs and low external buffers

Water, sanitation, hygiene, environmental cleaning and waste management in health care facilities World Health Organization,United Nations Children's Fund,2025-03-21 This data update assesses the coverage of WASH services water sanitation hygiene environmental cleaning and health care waste management in in health care facilities There were enough national data to make global estimates for basic water and hygiene services in 2022 with 78% and 57% of health care facilities meeting basic service levels Due to ageing data such estimates could not be produced for 2023 the main reference year of the report Instead the report focuses on the situation in the 60 countries areas and territories categorized by OECD as fragile contexts where populations are particularly vulnerable and WASH service coverage is relatively poor The report has a special focus on primary health care PHC and explores how adopting the PHC approach is critical to improving WASH services and how WASH is essential to advancing PHC

Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia Peter Ellis,Mark Roberts,2015-11-13 The number of people in South Asia s cities rose by 130 million between 2000 and 2011 more than the entire population of Japan This was linked to an improvement in productivity and a reduction in the incidence of extreme poverty But the region s cities have struggled to cope with the pressure of population growth on land housing infrastructure basic services and the environment As a result urbanization in South Asia remains underleveraged in its ability to deliver widespread improvements in both prosperity and livability Leveraging Urbanization in South Asia is about the state of South Asia s urbanization and the market and policy failures that have taken the region's urban areas to where they are today and the hard policy actions needed if the region's cities are to leverage urbanization better. This publication provides original empirical and diagnostic analysis of urbanization and related economic trends in the region. It also discusses in detail the key policy areas the most fundamental being urban governance and finance where actions must be taken to make cities more prosperous and livable. Routledge Handbook of Environment and Society in Asia Paul G. Harris, Graeme Lang, 2014-09-19. Nowhere is the connection between society and the environment more evident and potentially more harmful for the future of the world than in Asia. In recent decades rapid development of Asian countries with very large populations has led to an unprecedented increase in environmental problems such as air and water pollution, solid and hazardous wastes, deforestation, depletion of natural resources and extinction of native species. This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural, social and policy contexts of environmental change across East Asia. The team of international experts critically examine a wide range of environmental problems related to energy, climate change, air, land, water, fisheries, forests and wildlife. The editors conclude that with nearly half of the human population of the planet and several rapidly growing economies, most notably China, Asian societies will determine much of the future of human impacts on the regional and global environments. As climate change-related threats to society increase, the book strongly argues for increased environmental consciousness and action in Asian societies. This handbook is a very valuable companion for students, scholars, policy makers and researchers working on environmental issues in Asia. Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations for 1996 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs, 1995. Population Redistribution and Development in South Asia L.A. Kosinski, K.M. Elahi, 2012-12-06. The mutual relationship between change in population distribution and its determinants and consequences on one hand and social and economic development on the other is becoming an increasingly important area of concern for researchers, policy makers and planners alike. During the last several years the International Geographical Union Commission on Population Geography has devoted much of its attention to this problem and organized a series of international meetings focusing on population redistribution and its ramifications in different parts of the world. During one such meeting held in 1980 in Karachi, Pakistan, some thirty papers were submitted by participants coming mostly from five countries in South Asia: Bangladesh, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka. The present volume is an outcome of that symposium but it should not be regarded merely as a report of proceedings; these have been published separately by the Commission. Furthermore, all Pakistani papers were published in their original version in a separate volume edited by M. I. Siddiqi who coordinated local arrangements for the meeting on behalf of Karachi University. This present volume offers only a selection of the original papers, all substantially edited and thoroughly revised, and brings them together with additionally solicited texts. All original figures have been redrawn and tables and references have been updated and standardized as much as possible. The
