Sri Lanka Past And Present:

Sri Lanka Past and Present L. R. Reddy, 2003 Sri Lanka, Past and Present Manfred Domrös, Helmut Roth, 1998

Sri Lanka at the Crossroads of History Zoltán Biedermann, Alan Strathern, 2017-06-07 The peoples of Sri Lanka have participated in far flung trading networks religious formations and Asian and European empires for millennia This interdisciplinary volume sets out to draw Sri Lanka into the field of Asian and Global History by showing how the latest wave of scholarship has explored the island as a crossroads a place defined by its openness to movement across the Indian Ocean Experts in the history archaeology literature and art of the island from c 500 BCE to c 1850 CE use Lankan material to explore a number of pressing scholarly debates They address these matters from their varied disciplinary perspectives and diverse array of sources critically assessing concepts such as ethnicity cosmopolitanism and localisation and elucidating the subtle ways in which the foreign may be resisted and embraced at the same time The individual chapters and the volume as a whole are a welcome addition to the history and historiography of Sri Lanka as well as studies of the Indian Ocean region kingship colonialism imperialism and early modernity Governance issues for sustainable management of village irrigation in the Dry Zone of Sri Lanka

Imbulana, Upali, Aheeyar, Mohamed, Amarasinghe, Upali A., Amarnath, Giriraj, 2023-12-01 Village irrigation systems ViSs are vital in rural livelihood food and water security ViSs include small minor tanks and diversions anicuts The hydrologically linked tanks with natural drainage patterns form cascades and beyond food and water security they play a significant role in mitigating flood and drought impacts on communities in river basins With anthropogenic changes many cascades are in depilated states now This paper finds that policy support with legal recognition to cascade based community level institutions promote bottom up water and natural resources management approaches They also facilitate investigations of ill defined subject areas in cascade management and complex socio political and economic issues and challenges constraining sustainable cascade based ViSs operations Marriage in Past, Present and Future Tense Janet Carsten, Hsiao-Chiao Chiu, Siobhan Magee i, Eirini Papadaki, Koreen M. Reece, 2021-09-01 Marriage globally is undergoing profound change provoking widespread public comment and concern Through the close ethnographic examination of case studies drawn from Africa Asia Europe and North America Marriage in Past Present and Future Tense places new and changing forms of marriage in comparative perspective as a transforming and also transformative social institution In conditions of widespread socio political inequality and instability how are the personal the familial and the political co produced How do marriages encapsulate the ways in which memories of past lives present experience and imaginaries of the future are articulated Exploring the ways that marriage draws together and distinguishes history and biography ritual and law economy and politics in intimate family life this volume examines how familial and personal relations and the ethical judgements they enfold inform and configure social transformation Contexts that have been partly shaped through civil wars cold war and colonialism as well as other forms of violent socio political rupture offer especially apt opportunities for tracing the interplay between marriage and politics But rather than taking intimate family life and gendered practice as simply responsive to wider socio political forces this work explores how marriage may also create social change Contributors consider the ways in which marital practice traverses the domains of politics economics and religion while marking a key site where the work of linking and distinguishing those domains is undertaken Sri Lanka Jonathan Spencer,2002-09-11 In the past decade Sri Lanka has been engulfed by political tragedy as successive governments have failed to settle the grievances of the Tamil minority in a way acceptable to the majority Sinhala population The new Premadasa presidency faces huge economic and political problems with large sections of the island under the control of the Indian Peace Keeping Force IPKF and militant separatist Tamil groups operating in the north and south This book is not a conventional political history of Sri Lanka Instead it attempts to shed fresh light on the historical roots of the ethnic crisis and uses a combination of historical and anthropological evidence to challenge the widely held belief that the conflict in Sri Lanka is simply the continuation of centuries of animosity between the Sinhalese and the Tamils The authors show how modern ethnic identities have been made and re made since the colonial period with the war between Tamils and the Sinhala dominant government accompanied by rhetorical wars over archeological sites and place name etymologies and the political use of the national past The book is also one of the first attempts to focus on local perceptions of the crisis and draws on a broad range of sources from village fieldwork to newspaper controversies Its interest extends beyond contemporary politics to history anthropology and development studies

"Ravanisation": The Revitalisation of Ravana among Sinhalese Buddhists in Post-War Sri Lanka Deborah de Koning,2022-01-05 This book discusses Ravanisation the revitalisation of Ravana among Sinhalese Buddhists in post war after 2009 Sri Lanka The Hindu Ramayana generally portrays Ravana as a cruel king How and why then has Ravana gained the interest of Sinhalese Buddhists This study takes an ethnographic perspective to answer these questions The book discusses multiple Ravana representations that have emerged at an urban Buddhist site the Sri Devram Maha Viharaya and a rural site Lakegala and discloses how Ravanisation relates to Sinhalese Buddhist ethno nationalism In addition the material ritual and spatial perspectives offer unique insights in the personal and local relevance of Ravana Dr Deborah de Koning holds a PhD degree in Religious Studies Tilburg University research funded by the Dutch Research Council and currently works as lecturer Intercultural Communication and Hinduism and Buddhism at the Christian University of Applied Sciences CHE The Netherlands

New Zealand And The World: Past, Present And Future Robert G Patman,Iati Iati,Balazs Kiglics,2017-12-28 The aim of this book is to provide the reader with an overview of New Zealand s international relations It is a country that has often shown an international presence that is out of proportion to the modest spectrum of national economic military and diplomatic capabilities at its disposal In this volume the editors have called upon a range of specialists representing a range of views drawn from the worlds of academia policy making and civil society It is an attempt to present a rounded picture of New Zealand s place in the world one that does not rely exclusively on any particular perspective The book does not claim to be exhaustive But it does seek to present a more wide ranging treatment of New Zealand s foreign relations than has generally been the case in the past Five broad themes help shape and organize the contributions to the text Abiding by Sri Lanka Qadri Ismail, Ismail demonstrates that the problems in Sri Lanka raise fundamental concerns regarding the relationship between democracies and minorities He redefines the concept of minority not as numerical insignificance but as conceptual space where distinction without domination can be achieved

Sri Lanka Walter Nubin,2002 This book provides an overview of the development of a small country which on the one hand is unique and on the other hand is also an interesting reflection and microcosm of the global economy Sri Lanka s development is one of the contrasts complicated by social conflicts and ethnic tensions Social political economic and constitutional developments are considered This is in accordance with the Sri Lankan tradition of seeing the world as a connected whole The Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka formerly known as Ceylon is an island in the Indian Ocean approximately 18 miles off the south eastern coast of India with a population of about 19 million Density is highest in the south west where Colombo the country s main port and industrial centre is located Sri Lanka is ethnically linguistically and religiously diverse Sri Lanka follows a non aligned foreign policy It participates in multilateral diplomacy particularly at the United Nations where it seeks to promote sovereignty independence and development in the developing world

Arranged Marriage Péter Berta,2023-03-17

Arranged Marriage The Politics of Tradition Resistance and Change shows how arranged marriage practices have been undergoing transformation as a result of global and other processes such as the revolution of digital technology democratization of transnational mobility or shifting significance of patriarchal power structures The ethnographically informed chapters not only highlight how the gendered and intergenerational politics of agency autonomy choice consent and intimacy work in the contexts of partner choice and management of marriage but also point out that arranged marriages are increasingly varied and they can be reshaped reinvented and reinterpreted flexibly in response to individual family religious class ethnic and other desires needs and constraints The authors convincingly demonstrate that a nuanced investigation of the reasons complex dynamics and consequences of arranged marriages offers a refreshing analytical lens that can significantly contribute to a deeper understanding of other phenomena such as globalization modernization and international migration as well as patriarchal value regimes intergenerational power imbalances and gendered subordination and vulnerability of women

Agricultural Research for Sustainable Food Systems in Sri Lanka Buddhi Marambe,Jeevika Weerahewa,Warshi S. Dandeniya,2020-03-30 A food system comprises the entire range of actors and interlinked activities related to food production processing distribution marketing and trade preparation consumption and disposal When a food system operates without compromising the needs of future generations it is considered to be a Sustainable Food System The present day food systems in Sri Lanka are diverse and the natural and physical environment infrastructure institutions society and culture and policies and regulations within which the food systems operate as well as the technologies employed have shaped their outcomes Agricultural research is a key factor in terms of innovation and technological advances Innovation has been the main driver of food systems transformation over the past few decades and will be critical to addressing the needs of a rapidly growing population in a context of climate change and scarcity of natural resources In addition agricultural research must help meet the rising demand for food at affordable prices Comprising 17 chapters written by specialists in their respective subject areas this Contributed Volume on Agricultural Research for Sustainable Food Systems in Sri Lanka A Historical Perspective shares the scientific knowledge accumulated by the National Agricultural Research System of Sri Lanka including universities and offers recommendations on how to make food systems more sustainable in order to address the current needs of Sri Lankan society It presents perspectives on four key thematic areas namely i Crop and animal production management and improvement ii Agro product processing technologies iii Natural resource management and iv Socio economic development and agri business management

Plant Breeding: Past, Present and Future John E. Bradshaw, 2016-03-08 This book aims to help plant breeders by reviewing past achievements currently successful practices and emerging methods and techniques Theoretical considerations are also presented to strike the right balance between being as simple as possible but as complex as necessary The United Nations predicts that the global human population will continue rising to 9.0 billion by 2050 World food production will need to increase between 70-100 per cent in just 40 years First generation bio fuels are also using crops and cropland to produce energy rather than food In addition land area used for agriculture may remain static or even decrease as a result of degradation and climate change despite more land being theoretically available unless crops can be bred which tolerate associated abiotic stresses Lastly it is unlikely that steps can be taken to mitigate all of the climate change predicted to occur by 2050 and beyond and hence adaptation of farming systems and crop production will be required to reduce predicted negative effects on yields that will occur without crop adaptation Substantial progress will therefore be required in bridging the yield gap between what is currently achieved per unit of land and what should be possible in future with the best farming methods and best storage and transportation of food given the availability of suitably adapted cultivars including adaptation to climate change My book is divided into four parts Part I is an historical introduction Part II deals with the origin of genetic variation by mutation and recombination of DNA Part III explains how the mating system of a crop species determines the genetic structure of its landraces Part IV considers the three complementary options for future progress use of sexual reproduction in further conventional breeding base broadening and introgression mutation breeding and genetically modified crops examines and analyses electoral politics in Sri Lanka through the theoretical framework of manipulation. The following questions guided the study: how do political actors manipulate elections and what are the salient features of electoral politics in Sri Lanka? Primary and secondary data formed the basis of the analysis examining eight presidential elections. The research findings indicated that Sri Lankan governments, political parties and political leaders have taken advantage of six types of electoral manipulation including constitutional tinkering, field fixing, time fixing, vote suppression, process manipulation and resource manipulation. Through a close examination of eight presidential elections, research carried out for the volume found that elections are often associated with violence; presidential elections are mainly a majoritarian affair in which minority communities play only a marginal role; there is a significant gender imbalance as women's participation in the electoral process is very limited; despite the presence of a large number of candidates contesting the election, it always remains a two-way race; and amid extensive manipulation and other problems, voter participation tends to be high. This volume will be a valuable resource for students, academics and researchers who focus on democracy, good governance, electoral studies and South Asian politics and history, and will enhance the conceptual foundation of democracy advocates and activists.

Displacement Among Sri Lankan Tamil Migrants Diotima Chatteraj, 2021-02-14. This book focuses on the concept of home or place of origin expressed in Tamil as Ur and its various dimensions in turn related to issues of belonging, attachment, detachment and commonality among the war-affected population in the post-war era of Sri Lanka. Little research has been undertaken on displacement and forced migration since the end of the war and so this book provides new insight into the intersections between externally and internally displaced people and notions of home in relation to gender, age, caste and class. It excavates the roots of the problem of not being able to return due to combinations of uncertainty, unemployment and the loss of people and property. The author shows that notions of home vary considerably depending on multiple variables and this is particularly pronounced between the different generations. The book also confronts how the migration from Sri Lanka over the border to India has brought on discernible changes to the lives of women in particular in transforming their identities in multiple re-invented cultural manifestations and cultivating a new kind of attachment towards their new homes. Interdisciplinary in tenor, this book will be of interest to scholars in development studies with a focus on South Asia as well as graduate students and researchers in the fields of migration, conflict studies, Sri Lanka studies and sociology. It may also have an impact on policymakers owing to its comprehensive empirically based analysis of the consequences of the Sri Lankan civil war for Tamils.
