Carnival and Other Christian Festivals Max Harris,2010-01-01 With a riotous mix of saints and devils street theater and dancing and music and fireworks Christian festivals are some of the most lively and colorful spectacles that occur in Spain and its former European and American possessions That these folk celebrations with roots reaching back to medieval times remain vibrant in the high tech culture of the twenty first century strongly suggests that they also provide an indispensable vehicle for expressing hopes fears and desires that people can articulate in no other way In this book Max Harris explores and develops principles for understanding the folk theology underlying patronal saints day festivals feasts of Corpus Christi and Carnivals through a series of vivid first hand accounts of these festivities throughout Spain and in Puerto Rico Mexico Peru Trinidad Bolivia and Belgium Paying close attention to the signs encoded in folk performances he finds in these festivals a folk theology of social justice that however obscured by official rhetoric by distracting theories of archaic origin or by the performers own need to mask their resistance to authority is often in articulate and complex dialogue with the power structures that surround it This discovery sheds important new light on the meanings of religious festivals celebrated from Belgium to Peru and on the sophisticated theatrical performances they embody Aztecs, Moors, and Christians Max Harris,2010-01-01 In villages and towns across Spain and its former New World colonies local performers stage mock battles between Spanish Christians and Moors or Aztecs that range from brief sword dances to massive street theatre lasting several days The festival tradition officially celebrates the triumph of Spanish Catholicism over its enemies yet this does not explain its persistence for more than five hundred years nor its widespread diffusion In this insightful book Max Harris seeks to understand Mexicans puzzling and enduring passion for festivals of moros y cristianos He begins by tracing the performances roots in medieval Spain and showing how they came to be superimposed on the mock battles that had been a part of pre contact Aztec calendar rituals Then using James Scott s distinction between public and hidden transcripts he reveals how in the hands of folk and indigenous performers these spectacles of conquest became prophecies of the eventual reconquest of Mexico by the defeated Aztec peoples Even today as lively descriptions of current festivals make plain they remain a remarkably sophisticated vehicle for the communal expression of dissent Journal of Hispanic/Latino Theology ,1999 Blessing La Política Carlos Vargas-Ramos,Anthony M. African Migrations M. Black Mecca Zain Abdullah, 2010-09-30 The changes to U.S. immigration law that were instituted in 1965 have led to an influx of West African immigrants to New York creating an enclave Harlem residents now call Little Africa These immigrants are immediately recognizable as African in their wide sleeved robes and tasseled hats but most native born members of the community are unaware of the crucial role Islam plays in immigrants' lives Zain Abdullah takes us inside the lives of these new immigrants and shows how they deal with being a double minority in a country where both blacks and Muslims are stigmatized Dealing with this dual identity Abdullah discovers is extraordinarily complex Some longtime residents embrace these immigrants and see their arrival as an opportunity to reclaim their African heritage while others see the immigrants as scornful invaders In turn African immigrants often take a particularly harsh view of their new neighbors buying into the worst stereotypes about American born blacks being lazy and incorrigible And while there has long been a large Muslim presence in Harlem and residents often see Islam as a force for social good African born Muslims see their Islamic identity disregarded by most of their neighbors Abdullah weaves together the stories of these African Muslims to paint a fascinating portrait of a community's efforts to carve out space for itself in a new country 'With One Heart and One Voice' Fred
