Stabilization And Structural Adjustment In Poland:

Stabilization and Structural Adjustment in Poland Henryk Kierzkowski, Marek Okólski, Stanislaw H. Wellisz, 2013-04-15 The Solidarity led government which came into power in Poland in Autumn 1989 faced two enormous tasks First to stabilize an economy prone to hyperinflation Second to replace a crumbling command system in favour of a market mechanism in a country whose market institutions had been destroyed under forty years of communist rule This book recounts the events of this period and the course taken by the new government and analyzes the significance of this for the transition process in Poland and elsewhere

Stabilization and Privatization in Poland K. Poznanski, 2012-12-06 Stabilization and Privatization An Economic Evaluation of the Shock Therapy Program is the first comprehensive account of Poland's economic transition since mid 1989 Monetary stabilization trade liberalization including convertibility and privatization of state capital assets are discussed Sources of economic recession which have accompanied the post 1989 transition are analyzed The role of demand side factors i.e. monetary contraction is weighed against that of supply side factors i.e. credit availability The prevailing view is that the recession has been supply type rather than demand type Economic performance has been impacted by the lack of a proper institutional framework e.g. a segmented banking sector diluted property rights Arguments in favor of evolutionary reforms and market enhancing measures are presented Stabilization and Privatization examines the main components of Poland's shock therapy program implemented in 1990 Post shock recession lasting at least through 1992 is examined to establish whether a sharp decline in output was caused by excessive demand contraction or lack of accommodating credit policies The merits of an evolutionary approach and a more proactive state are debated

Capital, Coercion, and Postcommunist States Gerald Easter, 2012-10-15 The postcommunist transitions produced two very different types of states The contractual state is associated with the countries of Eastern Europe which moved toward democratic regimes consensual relations with society and clear boundaries between political power and economic wealth The predatory state is associated with the successors to the USSR which instead developed authoritarian regimes coercive relations with society and poorly defined boundaries between the political and economic realms In Capital Coercion and Postcommunist States Gerald M. Easter shows how the cumulative result of the many battles between state coercion and societal capital over taxation gave rise to these distinctive transition outcomes Easter's fiscal sociology of the postcommunist state highlights the interconnected paths that led from the fiscal crisis of the old regime through the revenue bargains of transitional tax regimes to the eventual reconfiguration of state society relations His focused comparison of Poland and Russia exemplifies postcommunism's divergent institutional forms The Polish case shows how conflicts over taxation influenced the emergence of a rule of law contractual state social market capitalism and civil society The Russian case reveals how revenue imperatives reinforced the emergence of a rule by law predatory state concessions style capitalism and dependent society

Democracy under Construction Ursula J. van Beek, 2005-09-12 The book compares five newly emerged democracies in Europe South East Asia Latin America and Africa Cutting across vastly different historical and cultural backgrounds it tells the story of how societies come to terms with a painful past and how politics culture and the economy intertwine in the process of creating new democratic nations Legislation on Foreign Relations Through 2002, V. 1B, Current Legislation and Related Executive Orders, October 2003 , Legislation on Foreign Relations Through ... United States,2003
