Staging Subversions The Performance Within A Play In French Classical Theater:

Staging Subversions Kimberly Cashman, 2005 Staging Subversions The Performance within a Play in French Classical Theater defines a new type of metadrama using Le Tartuffe as its paradigm and explores the complex ambiguous and enlightening relationships that metadrama maintains with the social and political orders While metadramatic scenes are most often concerned with theater itself the performance within a play adopts an important function in the play's plot and consequently in the social world of the play The performance within a play is particularly associated by the classical playwrights with the family structure with the class system with women's social roles and with the politics of absolutism

Dramas of the Past on the Twentieth-century Stage Alexander Feldman, 2013 This book defines and exemplifies a major genre of modern dramatic writing termed historiographic metatheatre in which self-reflexive engagements with the traditions and forms of dramatic art illuminate historical themes and aid in the representation of historical events and in doing so formulates a genre Historiographic metatheatre has been and remains a seminal mode of political engagement and ideological critique in the contemporary dramatic canon Locating its key texts within the traditions of historical drama self-reflexivity in European theatre debates in the politics and aesthetics of postmodernism and currents in contemporary historiography this book provides a new critical idiom for discussing the major works of the genre and others that utilize its techniques Feldman studies landmarks in the theatre history of postwar Britain by Weiss Stoppard Brecht Wertenbaker and others focusing on European revolutionary politics the historiography of the World Wars and the effects of British colonialism The playwrights under consideration all use the device of the play within the play to explore constructions of nationhood and of Britishness in particular Those plays performed within the framing works are produced in places of exile where Feldman argues the marginalized negotiate the terms of national identity through performance Publisher's website

Drama and "Ideenschmuggel" K. Scott Baker, 2008 This monograph details Gutzkow's recurring use of performance within the play as a means of encouraging an active political response by the audience He incorporates an internal audience viewing a performance on stage in order to model an ideal of dramatic reception for the audiences of his own play Gutzkow structures the narrative contextualization of these performances as reflections of specific issues in the German states of the Vormärz Beginning with an overview of theoretical and literary texts from the 1830s this study traces Gutzkow's transferral of self-reflexive structures from his novels of this decade into his first staged play Richard Savage 1839 and on through Das Urbild des Tartuffe 1844 and Uriel Acosta 1845 It concludes by portraying Der Königsleutnant 1849 as a transitional work that shows Gutzkow's decision to return to the novel as a consequence of the failure of his plays to attain the reception he intended By using the coherency of the communicated message instead of fealty to aesthetic norms as the evaluative criteria for discussing Gutzkow's plays the book exposes an innovative mode of specifically literary social criticism in these works that complements their traditional assessment as documentation of the cultural history of Liberalism in this period The

Spatiality of Emotion in Early Modern China Ling Hon Lam, 2018-05-15 Emotion takes place Rather than an interior state of mind in response to the outside world emotion per se is spatial at turns embedding us from without transporting us somewhere else or putting us ahead of ourselves In this book Ling Hon Lam gives a deeply original account of the history of emotions in Chinese literature and culture centered on the idea of emotion as space which the Chinese call emotion realm qingjing Lam traces how the emotion realm underwent significant transformations from the dreamscape to theatricality in sixteenth to eighteenth century China Whereas medieval dreamscapes delivered the subject into one illusory mood after another early modern theatricality turned the dreamer into a spectator who is no longer falling through endless oneiric layers but pausing in front of the dream Through the lens of this genealogy of emotion realms Lam remaps the Chinese histories of morals theater and knowledge production which converge at the emergence of sympathy redefined as the dissonance among the dimensions of the emotion realm pertaining to theatricality The book challenges the conventional reading of Chinese literature as premised on interior subjectivity examines historical changes in the spatial logic of performance through media and theater archaeologies and ultimately uncovers the different trajectories that brought China and the West to the convergence point of theatricality marked by self deception and mutual misreading A major rethinking of key terms in Chinese culture from a comparative perspective The Spatiality of Emotion in Early Modern China develops a new critical vocabulary to conceptualize history and existence

Philippe Quinault, Dramatist William Brooks, 2009 Much work has been done in recent years on Quinault s librettos but no major study of his spoken plays has appeared since the monumental thesis by Etienne Gros published in 1926 Moreover he has never been the subject of a monograph in English There is a need to re assess the influence of his life on his plays and to re evaluate Gros s findings in the light of eighty years research into seventeenth century French theatre in general This book rejects the deterministic approach that sees his plays as apprentice pieces for the greater achievement that is his corpus of librettos as well as the implicit comparative approach that pigeon holes his work in passing by borrowing from the pithy judgements of Boileau To what extent does Quinault s steady move away from comedy and light tragi comedy to tragedies that combine love and menace go hand in hand with his search for greater integrity better characterisation and ever more credible plotting How did he come to create and retain a tremendously faithful audience that even the withering mockery of Boileau failed to discourage And is there any purpose in retaining the time worn comparison between the author of Andromaque and the author of Astrate

Women's Comedic Art as Social Revolution Domnica Radulescu, 2014-01-10 Though comic women have existed since the days of Baubo the mythic figure of sexual humor they have been neglected by scholars and critics This pioneering volume tells the stories of five women who have created revolutionary forms of comic performance and discourse that defy prejudice The artists include 16th century performer Isabella Andreini 17th century improviser Caterina Biancolelli 20th century Italian playwright Franca Rame and contemporary performance artists Deb Margolin and Kimberly Dark All create humor that subverts patriarchal

Production 1550 - 1700 Alison Findlay,Gweno Williams,Stephanie Wright,2014-09-25 There is a traditional view that women were absent from the field of dramatic production in the early modern period because of their exclusion from professional theatre Women and Dramatic Production 1550 1700 challenges this view and breaks new ground in arguing that far from writing in closeted retreat a select number of women took an active part in directing and controlling dramatic self representations Examining texts from the mid sixteenth century through to the end of the seventeenth the chapters trace the development of a women centred aesthetic in a variety of dramatic forms Plays by noblewomen such as Mary Sidney Elizabeth Cary Mary Wroth Rachel Fane and the women of the Cavendish family form an alternative dramatic tradition centred on the household The powerful directorial and performative roles played by queens in royal progresses and masques are explored as examples of women s dramatic production in the royal court The book also highlights women s performances in alternative venues such as the courtroom and the pulpit arguing that the practices of martyrs like Margaret Clitherow or visionaries like Anna Trapnel call into question traditional definitions of theatre The challenges faced by women who were admitted to the professional theatre companies after 1660 are explored in two chapters which deal with the plays of Katherine Philips Elizabeth Polwhele Aphra Behn and Mary Pix among others By considering the theatrical dimensions of a wide range of early modern women s writing this book reveals the breathtaking panorama of women s dramatic production and will be essential reading for students of women s writing and renaissance drama Deutsche Nationalbibliografie
