Sri Lankas Tea Industry Succeeding In The Global Market:

Sri Lanka's Tea Industry Ridwan Ali,1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 367 Many developing countries enforce seed regulations and other policies that obstruct private companies from operating and delivering new technology This volume presents recommendations and selected papers from an international workshop organized by the World Bank in 1995 to review seed policies and to develop recommendations on ways of easing entry barriers for certain varieties of seeds in developing countries The papers and discussions identified reforms to speed the flow of private seed technology to these countries with a particular focus on reforms and their impacts in Bangladesh India Peru and Turkey The Tea Industry Nick Hall,2000-06-02 In recent years the international tea industry has changed dramatically with the closure of the London Terminal Auction in 1998 in favour of auctions at source in both Africa and Asia and the evolution of a wide range of value added products This major new looseleaf provides a guide to the complex and multifaceted tea industry Never before has there been a single reference containing the entire range of industry information from history through to health The Tea Industry s comprehensive nature will promote better understanding of the industry for everyone involved throughout the supply chain as well as providing ideal material for those who are new to the industry The Tea Industry begins with a review of the history and origins of the trade from its Chinese origins The author goes on to look at the growing and processing of tea including a detailed country by country analysis of world production consumption exporting and importing There are detailed sections on markets marketing and quality control of tea including a look at auctions branding and blending of tea Finally there is a review of current thinking on tea and health which includes recent research in the area Overall The Tea Industry has been developed to provide the most thorough account ever produced of this fascinating industry The ultimate desktop reference source for all your information needs Comprehensive looseleaf resource and ideal training material Extensive commentary on the tea market and marketing A Guide to the World Bank ,2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world s largest sources of development assistance In 2002 the institution provided US 19 5 billion in loans to its client countries This guide reviews the organisation s history objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development IBRD the International Development Association IDA the International Finance Corporation IFC the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency MIGA and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID

Trade, Global Policy, and the Environment Per Fredriksson,1999-01-01 QUOTEWe live in an increasingly interconnected world Trade flows worldwide are growing rapidly and global production patterns are shifting as countries follow their comparative advantage in production via trade At the same time however there is growing concern about potential adverse environmental impacts from increasing trade QUOTE John A Dixon Lead Economist The Environment Department World BankInterest in the trade and environment debate has intensified as a result of international trade agreements and because many proposed solutions to the climate change problem have potential implications for the global trading system. Clearly more empirical work is needed to inform the debate, guide policymakers toward solutions and help set priorities. This volume is an attempt to further our understanding of the empirical links between trade and the environment. Thirteen chapters, which were presented as papers at a World Bank conference in April 1998, focus on three main themes: 1. Effects of trade liberalization and growth on the environment; 2. The "pollution haven" hypothesis; 3. Economic instruments for resolving global environmental problems. The papers address a number of different issues within each of the themes, offering new data or new questions and approaches. They are devoted to deepening our understanding and empirical knowledge of the various effects of trade liberalization. Only through a firm understanding of the linkages involved can well-founded policy advice be formulated.

Market-based Instruments for Environmental Policymaking in Latin America and the Caribbean

Richard M. Huber, H. Jack Ruitenbeek, Ronaldo Seroa da Motta, 1998. To preserve the environment with the lowest possible cost to the social sector means that private costs should be aligned with social costs. Many governments in the Latin American and Caribbean Region are doing this now using market-based instruments (MBIs). This publication investigates the use of MBIs in the Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC) context. The investigation covers a sample of eleven countries in the region and a cross section of environmental issues in an urban setting.

Ecological restoration of abandoned tea plantations Chetan H C, 2019-02-28. Globally, millions of hectares of tropical forests have been cleared and replaced with commercial plantations. Many of these plantations are abandoned or put to alternative use. Abandoned plantations provide opportunities that compensate to an extent forest cover depletion in the tropics. However, restoration of such abandoned land to natural forests involves a complex interplay of ecological, socio-economic, and legal issues. Apart from ecological issues of colonisation, there are social issues of rehabilitating people once they lose their livelihood, legal rights of the landowner, economics of abandonment, and finally legal issues such as protected areas (PAs), acts, and legislation that can lead to abandonment. In the Western Ghats, tea plantations were established in the rainforest during the colonial rule and are owned by individuals or large companies. During the globalisation process, the demand for tea decreased, and many small owners could not maintain their plantations due to labour and other issues, which led to the abandonment of many such plantations. In addition, plantations established during the British rule are now inside PAs, and they face closure once the lease on the land expires. In the Trivandrum division alone, which has a large number of plantations, almost 55% have been abandoned. In areas that lie within PAs, forest managers are keen that the plantations should be annexed to the PA, but such large-scale abandonment of land provides a challenge to restoration of native species. This book addresses the ecological aspects of colonisation by native tree species in the abandoned plantations within a PA and suggests restoration activities from ecological and social perspectives helpful to forest and plantation managers.

World Bank HIV/AIDS Interventions

Julia Dayton, 1998-01-01. The AIDS epidemic is one of the greatest development challenges of the 20th century. Since 1986, the World Bank has supported member countries efforts to fight the epidemic in many ways including committing over US 550 million to HIV AIDS prevention and mitigation efforts This paper the first comprehensive study of all World Bank HIV AIDS related activities assesses the appropriateness of Bank interventions from the perspective of public economies and reviews the economic evaluation and implementation of projects

Fostering Competition in China's Power Markets

Noureddine Berrah,Ranjit Lamech,Jianping Zhao,2001-01-01 This book compares the recent evolution of the structure of inputs and expenditure in Armenia s general education with international norms and practice In the context of the government s sectoral reform strategy it also outlines various proposals for restructuring the system The purpose of this study is to clarify what the inefficiencies might mean for future costs and performance of the system highlight the trade offs involved and identify measures needed to overcome constraints to rationalization

Gender-related Legal Reform and Access to Economic Resources in Eastern Africa Gita Gopal,1999 The impetus for change in African legal reform is coming primarily from African women themselves as they respond to their personal and practical experiences with the law Top down imposition of norms has not worked if legal reform is to lead to sustainable equity for women the voices of these women must be heard Given that previous efforts to ensure greater equity in personal laws have not been fully successful in eastern African countries any new legal initiatives must not repeat the mistakes of the past Law must not again remain merely on the books as a legitimizing tool that reinforces or supports gender discrimination but must actively protect and guard the interests of both men and women This paper attempts to draw out some possible lessons from past experience to inform new efforts at legal reform in these countries It examines the laws related to allocation of economic resources within households in the broader historical social and cultural context in some of these countries and examines the effectiveness of these laws in challenging gender relationships

Russian Trade Policy Reform for WTO Accession

Harry G. Broadman,1998-01-01 Russia has manifested considerable interest in accession to the World Trade Organization WTO This volume contains four policy papers that focus on the most prominent topics during the ongoing WTO accession process 1 the dispersion of Russia s tariff structure 2 trade and investment in the service sectors 3 the treatment of state trading enterprises and 4 the policy regime governing foreign direct investment Bringing the Russian Federation into the rules based WTO system is an objective broadly shared by the world community Accession to the WTO comes at a critical juncture for the Russian government to focus on many important policy issues to stimulate growth As part of the process of making liberalization commitments as required by the existing members of the WTO accession provides an opportunity to lock in reforms

Russian Enterprise Reform Harry G. Broadman,1998-01-01 To enhance and sustain economic prosperity Russian authorities must improve the business climate so that firms restructure and the private sector thrives within a market environment Meeting this challenge requires actions on several fronts The Russian government asked the World Bank to write policy papers to address this issue This volume contains those policy papers which were then presented at a high level workshop in Moscow The topics include removing impediments to robust interfirm competition such as structural concentration arbitrary regulatory practices and entry barriers strengthening corporate governance incentive systems enhancing the nascent institutional framework for the exercise of creditor rights and implementation of enterprise bankruptcy procedures reducing barter and other nonmonetary forms of business transactions and fostering enterprise restructuring The volume also contains formal comments on these papers presented by senior Russian officials at the workshop

Choices in Financing Health Care and Old Age

Security Nicholas Prescott,1998 In November 1997 the World Bank and Singapore's Institute of Policy Studies sponsored a conference Financing Health Care and Old Age Security to assess and identify potential solutions to these concerns It addressed a topic of concern to nearly every country developing and industrial that is how to deal with the implications of financing medical care and income security for rapidly aging populations The issues identified and the solutions proposed can provide insight and guidance for policymakers researchers and others interested in addressing these challenges now Of special interest are the contributors analyses of Singapore's unique integrated approach to managing social risk which is based on mandatory individual savings accounts

Global Champions of Sustainable Development Patricia Flynn,Milenko Gudić,Tay Keong Tan,2019-11-19 The 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs embody the collective aspirations of the world's peoples peace freedom development and sustainability The challenges associated with the struggle for attainment of these goals and objectives are as diverse and complex as the variety of human societies national conditions and natural ecosystems worldwide The problems to be addressed range from extreme poverty and pandemics to racism and refugee crises Some of the best strategies and solutions to these problems emerged from unlikely places ranging from the corporate boardrooms and halls of administration to the fields of civic engagement and the vortices of crises Often a single person is the dauntless driving force behind these innovative programs and courageous experiments that made all the difference to the poorest and most disadvantaged social groups Somehow they were able to turn the abstract goals and principles of sustainability into concrete programs and effective action This book the first of its kind offers a platform that shares the individual experiences and personal studies of champions around the world that make sustainability work in different contexts In the trenches of practice results are far from guaranteed while sacrifice and obstacles are inevitable These champions forge the paths forward advocating ideas mobilizing support and exercising leadership in diverse nations organizations and communities In their struggle they develop plans and solutions that inevitably involve adaptation sacrifice trade offs and compromises that address the concerns of competing groups

Land Reform and Farm Restructuring in Moldova Zvi Lerman,Csaba Csáki,Victor Moroz,1998-01-01 Agricultural reforms including privatization of land and farm restructuring are an important cornerstone for overall transformation of the economies of the former socialist world This paper summarizes the current status of land reform in Moldova and shows how there has been clear progress in creating a market based agriculture and food sector in Moldova The results of this study indicate that genuine restructuring and transition to full fledged private farming have resulted in improved profitability and higher incomes for private farmers than those achieved by traditional collectives

School Enrollment Decline in Sub-Saharan Africa Joseph W. B. Bredie, Girindre K. Beeharry, 1998-01-01 The overarching objective of the World Bank's assistance to Sub-Saharan African countries is poverty reduction through sustained economic growth at a high level and improved social services Past experience shows that a minimum level of educational attainment has been a prerequisite for the success of such a strategy The current level of education development has been low and the development of primary education has stagnated and even declined in some countries since the early 1980s This paper examines the likely causes for deteriorating enrollment rates in Africa It looks at the constraints in the demand for schooling and gives possible reasons for stagnation

Evolution of Agricultural Services in Sub-Saharan Africa Venkatachalam Venkatesan, Jacob Kampen, 1998-01-01 This paper traces the evolution of World Bank support to agricultural services particularly agricultural extension and research in Sub-Saharan Africa It describes the Bank's experience with the implementation of national programs in agricultural extension and research and how these are evolving to face the problems of the future The paper concludes that participation of the beneficiaries in the design and implementation of programs is critical and will ensure the programs convergence towards rural development

China Robert Prescott Taylor, V. Susan Bogach, 1998-01-01 Action is urgently needed to develop China's market infrastructure improve information access and commercial renewable energy capabilities and implement policies necessary to enable expansion of commercial markets This report summarizes recommended priority areas for international support to strengthen China's renewable energy development effort

Unleashing Russia's Business Potential Harry G. Broadman, 2002-01-01 Russia needs to continue to assess and improve its business environment in order to ensure continuing investment and sustained growth Currently many of the new businesses are being established in the larger urban areas but similar new businesses need to develop at the regional level This book based on in depth case studies of more than 70 companies across 13 regions in Russia examines four areas key to institutional development and formulates policy recommendations Topics include the determinants of inter enterprise competition and market structure at the local level the regulatory regime governing the price supply and access to local infrastructure services access to corporate finance in regional markets and the legal system for resolution of commercial disputes

Facets of Globalization Shahid Yusuf, Simon J. Evenett, Weiping Wu, 2001-01-01 Since 1985 national economies have become increasingly integrated into a global network At the same time both population and production in developing countries are becoming concentrated in urban regions This in turn has generated demands for more local autonomy shifting more decision making to sub national levels Globalization is expected to continue leading to greater openness and international mobility of capital and people There are few reasons to believe that these trends will abate if anything they are likely to intensify the focus on cities and sharpen competition among these for international and local resources This volume underscores the transformative role of globalization and urbanization and shows the interplay between the two forces      Free Trade Area Membership as a Stepping Stone to Development Emiko Fukase, Will Martin, 2001 The ASEAN free trade area AFTA was created in 1992 This book presents an overview of the mechanisms of AFTA as well as individual country reports of the costs and benefits of membership The final chapter looks at the potential impact on economic growth
