St John Damascene Tradition And Originality In Byzantine Theology:

St John Damascene Andrew Louth, 2002-07-05 John Damascene one time senior civil servant in the Umayyad Arab Empire became a monk near Jerusalem in the early years of the eighth century He never set foot in the Byzantine Empire yet his influence on Byzantine theology was ultimately determinative and beyond that his theological work became a key resource for Western theology from Scholasticism to Romanticism His searching criticism of Imperial Byzantine iconoclasm earned him harsh condemnation from the Byzantine iconoclasts This is the first book to present an overall account of John's life and work it makes use of recent scholarship about the transformation of the former Byzantine territories of the Middle East after the seventh century Arab Conquest and the new critical edition of the Damascene's prose works It sets John's theological work in the context of the process of preserving defining defending and also celebrating the Christian faith of the early synods of the Church that took place in the Palestinian monasteries during the first century of Arab rule John's own contribution is explored in detail his amazing three part Fountain Head of Knowledge which provided the logical tools for arguing theologically outlined the multifarious forms of heresy and set out with clarity and learning the fundamental doctrines of Orthodox Christianity as well as his treatises against iconoclasm his preaching for which he was famous in his lifetime and the work for which he is most renowned in the Orthodox world his sacred poetry that still graces the liturgy of the Orthodox Church The life and thought of this subject of the Arab Caliphs a Christian monk who thought of himself as a Byzantine poses intriguing questions about identity in a rapidly changing world and the deeply traditional nature of his presentation of Christian theology calls for reflection about the relationship between tradition and originality in theology

Defending Christian Faith Abjar Bahkou, 2014-01-01 The book by Abjar Bakhou presents Medieval Christian author Gerasimus and his discussion with Islam His aim was to show that Christian teachings are not irrational but rather subtle and complex As a Christian philosopher and theologian Gerasimus used the experiences of those of the past to facilitate his own response to critics However two important differences separated him from earlier apologists which demand his own insight and innovation First the new language of intellectual discourse was Arabic which was not accommodating for expressing traditional Christian doctrine and required the development of a vocabulary out of terms already heavily influenced by the Qur'anic worldview Second the new religion challenging Christianity was one of absolute monotheism which shared neither a common scriptural nor cultural heritage and rejected the very possibility of a Trinity and Incarnation Although a common theme in early Christian apologetics was the refutation of Judaism the debate generally centered on the interpretation of the Old Testament showing that Jesus was indeed the Messiah The Qur'an while acknowledging Jesus as the Messiah explicitly rejects the Christian doctrines of the Incarnation and the Trinity and presents itself as the revelation which supersedes all previous revelation Thus although Christians and Muslims share certain themes and figures such as Creation and the Last Judgement Abraham Moses Mary and Jesus Muslims refuse evidence contrary to the Qur'an leaving Christians without recourse to traditional scripture based arguments Gerasimus as a Christian apologist and mutakallim accepted these challenges and began the process of explaining and translating his faith in the new milieu to make it coherent and rational In his treatise Gerasimus reveals himself to be a full participant in this important period of intellectual history he sets down the basic points of controversy and outlines a response to them in a form that would be an excellent introduction to Christian theology written for the Muslim environment Gerasimus was also a mutakallim in his own right the Christian counterpart to those Islamic scholars who sought to defend their faith through rational arguments In an effort to argue the legitimacy of Christianity Gerasimus attempts to create a common language that influences the meaning of terminology and concepts of intellectual development in Muslim Christian debates Such language would set the stage for centuries to come This is certainly his greatest contribution
