Staffing Higher Education Meeting New Challenges:

Staffing Higher Education Maurice Kogan, 1994      Staffing Higher Education Maurice Kogan, Ingrid Moses, Elaine El-Khawas, 1994      International Handbook of Higher Education James J.F. Forest, Philip G. Altbach, 2008-01-18 This book provides a central authoritative source of reference on the most essential topics of higher education The International Handbook of Higher Education combines a rich diversity of scholarly perspectives with a wide range of internationally derived descriptions and analyses Chapters in the first volume cover central themes in the study of higher education while contributors to the second volume focuses on contemporary higher education issues within specific countries or regions Together these volumes provide a centralized easily accessible yet scholarly source of information      EBOOK: Towards Strategic Staff Development in Higher Education Richard Blackwell, Paul Blackmore, 2003-07-16 This book focuses on strategic staff development in higher education a sector in which it has been largely viewed as an operational activity with little organizational relevance The book demonstrates how staff development needs to be based on modern theories of organizational learning aligning itself with institutional and departmental needs as well as the wants and needs of individual staff The book takes a broad definition of staff development and seeks to cover all aspects of the academic role and the interests of all staff The traditional focus on teaching and learning is covered but not to the exclusion of other aspects or the interface between different roles In order to achieve a strategic focus authors are drawn from a range of backgrounds including senior staff with strategic leadership roles The book is therefore directed to a wider readership than the community of staff development professionals and designed partly to challenge the dominant discourse and established priorities of staff developers Towards Strategic Staff Development in Higher Education seeks to combine scholarly review of relevant literature with practical strategies and suggestions for the intended readership principally senior staff heads of department and staff development professionals      Universities and Their Leadership William G. Bowen, Harold T. Shapiro, 2016-06-28 On the occasion of the 250th anniversary of Princeton University leading educators and commentators participated in a symposium jointly sponsored by Princeton and The Andrew W Mellon Foundation Universities and Their Leadership is a collection of original essays from presenters at the Princeton Conference on Higher Education Individually these essays discuss aspects of contemporary higher education in the U S Taken together they offer a useful perspective on issues that face American universities as they enter the twenty first century The opening essay The University and Its Critics by Frank Rhodes confronts criticisms of the American university examines how universities have changed over recent decades and suggests a plan of action to restore public confidence and strengthen bonds of community within universities On the Accountability of Higher Education in the United States by Martin Trow deals with the critical issue of responsibility Harold Shapiro s essay University Presidents Then and Now blends personal insights with a historical account of changes over time in the roles of university presidents In commenting on Shapiro s paper Hanna Gray draws on her experiences as a university president and her training as a historian to demonstrate that university presidents have always operated under constraints Henry Rosovsky and Inge Lise Ameer collaborate in the essay A Neglected Topic Professional Conduct of College and University Teachers to which Amy Gutmann responds in an essay entitled How Can Universities Teach Professional Ethics Oliver Fulton contributes a cross cultural perspective in Unity or Fragmentation Convergence or Diversity The Academic Profession in Comparative Perspective in the Era of Mass Higher Education Daniel J Kevles s essay A Time for Audacity What the Past Has to Teach the Present about Science and the Federal Government considers the historical partnership between the scientific community and the government In reaction Frank Press in New Policies for New Times comments on the shifting actions of major political parties in supporting research and Maxine Singer in her essay On the Future of America s Scientific Enterprise surveys opportunities and problems that have been created by recent scientific advances

Professors as Academic Leaders Linda Evans,2018-02-22 What is the role of a professor How does someone achieve professorial status What do non professorial colleagues think about professors How do professors themselves perceive their roles What are the bases of these perceptions and what are their implications for the professoriate s evolving role both within the neoliberal university and in the approaching post neoliberal era Professors as Academic Leaders draws on a wealth of data not only to explore what it is to be a professor but also to consider how professors are perceived by others Linda Evans presents the findings from four studies with a combined data base of over 2 400 questionnaire responses and over 90 interview transcripts and discusses their implications for the future development of the UK based professoriate and academic leadership in higher education She analyses the concepts of leadership and of professionalism and illustrates how in trying to meet people s expectations of them professors enacted professionalism is shaped by the professionalism that others demand of them Professorship is revealed to be demanding at times stressful and morale sapping and at times exhilarating and rewarding Linda Evans questions whether universities are making best use of their most senior academics and proposes ways of refashioning professorship      The American Academic Profession Stephen Steinberg, 2017-11-30 This book covers well the issues and problems of the U S academic profession in the second half of the twentieth century Contemporary Science The tale of the American academic profession that large company of men and women unprecedented in its size and diversity needs to be written A large historical literature on America s colleges and universities exists but much of it is unashamedly hagiographic On the other hand more critical works see American universities as being in dire need of massive reform This charge is not sustained by the contributors to The American Academic Profession who hope to shatter the code of silence that passes for discretion by focusing on the forces that have conspired to create the American academic profession Graubard includes contributions from important scholars around the world How the Academic Profession is Changing by Arthur Levine Small Worlds Different Worlds The Uniqueness and Troubles of American Academic Professions by Burton R Clark The Elusive Academic Profession Complexity and Change by Francis Oakley Uncertainties in the Changing Academic Profession by Walter E Massey Stewards of Opportunity America s Public Community Colleges by Patrick M Callan Public Universities as Academic Workplaces by Patricia J Gumpert Survival of the Fittest Postgraduate Education and the Professoriate at the Fin de Sicle by R M Douglas Reflections on the Culture Wars by Eugene Goodheart A Blow Is Like an Instrument by Charles Bernstein The Science Wars and the Future of the American Academic Profession by Jay A Labinger The Scientist as Academic by Cheryl B Leggon The Place of Knowledge in the American Academic Profession by Sheldon Rothblatt Border Crossings Organizational Boundaries and Challenges to the American Professoriate by Theodore R Mitchell The Development of Information Technology in American Higher Education by Martin Trow and An International Academic Crisis The American Professoriate in Comparative Perspective by Philip G Altbach The American Academic Profession is not sanguine about what is currently happening in higher education or what it imagines the future portends It simply asks the question Can a society truly understand its universities and colleges when it has moved too quickly from uncritical admiration to uniformed and ungenerous complaint This volume intends to dispel some long persistent myths in favor of objective truth It is a must for anyone interested in academic problems for those who work in higher education and for everyone interested in American ideas traditions and social and intellectual history Stephen R Graubard is editor of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and its journal Daedalus and professor of history emeritus at Brown University work and academic labour markets issues of power leadership ageing human resource management practices and mobility

From the Eye of the Storm B.W. Jongbloed, P.A. Maassen, G. Neave, 2013-03-14 In order to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary the third lustrum of our Center we at CHEPS decided to collectively write a book on the issue of how higher education institutions deal with the demand for change Institutional change is without any doubt one of the burning issues for researchers in higher education and policy studies in general but even more so for administrators at the institutional level institutional leadership deans and planners of higher education in public life government agencies intermediary organisations international organisations Whereas the lustrumbook we wrote for our second lustrum concentrated on comparative policy studies many of them focusing on comparisons between different national higher education systems this time the object of our analyses is the institution itself Today's higher education institutions are faced by demands from a multitude of actors from inside the institution students staff as well as from the institution's environment governments employers research councils sponsors These demands require changes in policy practice systems and culture The ways in which institutions respond to these demands and how their behaviour may be understood and predicted is the challenge tackled by the authors of this volume each from their own perspective and each looking at different aspects of the educational organisation

Governing Knowledge Maurice Kogan, 2005-04-25 Draws on social theory and comparative empirical research to analyse developments and their implications This work contains contributions that focus on different levels of higher education the system the institution and the academic practitioner in different national and international contexts

New Voices in Higher Education Research and Scholarship Ribeiro, Filipa M., Politis, Yurgos, Culum, Bojana, 2014-11-30 Higher Education systems and universities worldwide are constantly being transformed due to ever changing practices and policies Recent research reveals the challenges between society and higher education continue to grow New Voices in Higher Education Research and Scholarship explores the role of higher education in today's society It discusses the rapidly changing nature of higher education around the globe especially the relationship between higher education and social development This reference book will be of use to policymakers academicians researchers students and government officials

Universities in Crisis Eric Lybeck, Catherine O'Connell, 2023-01-26 This book goes beyond now familiar analyses of neoliberal governmentality which tend to characterise academics as passive subjects or as strategic actors drawing on and cynically exploiting metrics as a form of capital exchangeable across different fields Instead Universities in Crisis draws on newer paradigms by drawing on processual post critical and phenomenological approaches that leave room for new spaces of negotiation discursive and practical for understanding and advancing academic professionalism in this rapidly changing context Contributors reflect various manifestations of the changing political and public climate as well as the unease that surrounds contemporary debates which position the academy in troubling ways Unifying concepts such as academic work jurisdiction and transdisciplinarity are deployed to transcend functional divisions within and between academics administrators managers and students Drawing on these theoretical and conceptual resources contributors engage in critical consideration of whether the potential for push back lies both in re emphasising the specialness of academic professionalism and in defining the commonalities with other professional groups of knowledge workers The book offers an unflinching analysis on the conditions which frame the darker side of professionalism and which are associated with increased precarity and reduced autonomy The contributors explore the dilemmas challenges and possibilities of professionalism for both early career academics and senior academic leaders

The Higher Education Managerial Revolution? Alberto Amaral,V.L. Meek,Waelgaard Lars,2012-12-06 Hedda founded on 1 January 2001 is a consortium of nine European centres and institutes devoted to research on higher education see web site www.uv.uio.no/hedda The consortium aims to strengthen the relationship between higher education research and practice organise and support available academic expertise and further knowledge on higher education in Europe in such a way that it becomes more accessible and visible at the supranational and international levels To contribute to the consortium's objectives CIPES one of its member institutes and Hedda have taken a new initiative in the field of research on higher education that is an annual seminar focused on one specific topic of research The topic is determined by the Hedda Board from among the most burning issues of present day higher education policies The first seminar was a four day scientific event on Governance Structures in Higher Education Institutions The seminar was held along the banks of the Douro River Portugal on 13-17 October 2001 The second seminar focused on the Emergence of Managerialism in Higher Education Institutions and took place at the same location on 4-9 October 2002 The theme of the third seminar is Markets in Higher Education to be held 2-6 October 2003 Participation in the seminars is limited to select Hedda researchers and invited researchers of international standing all of whom are active in the research theme of each particular seminar

Academic and Professional Identities in Higher Education Celia Whitchurch,George Gordon,2009-12-04 The latest volume in the Routledge International Studies in Higher Education Series Academic and Professional Identities in Higher Education The Challenges of a Diversifying Workforce reviews the implications of new forms of academic and professional identity which have emerged largely as a result of a broadening disciplinary base and increasing permeability between higher education and external environments The volume addresses the challenges faced by those responsible for the wellbeing of academic faculty and professional staff International perspectives examine current practice against a background of rapidly changing policy contexts focusing on the critical people dimension of enhancing academic and professional activity while also addressing national socio economic and community agendas Consideration is given to mainstream academic faculty and professional staff researchers library and information professionals people with an interest in teaching and learning and those involved in individual projects or institutional development The following provide the key themes of Academic and Professional Identities in Higher Education The Challenges of a Diversifying Workforce The implications of diversifying academic and professional identities for the functioning of higher education institutions and sectors The pace and nature of such change in different institutional systems and environments The challenges to institutional systems and structures from emergent identities and possible tensions and how these might be addressed The implications of blurring academic and professional identities with a shift towards mixed or blended roles for individual careers and institutional development

Academic Staff in Europe Jürgen Enders, 2001-08-30 Higher education is going through a turbulent period of change Based on a research project coordinated by J Durgen Enders at the University of Kassel in Germany the book highlights the changes taking place in higher education and examines the working conditions of academic staff in fourteen European countries All countries in the study have seen changes regarding the actors and procedures relevant for the regulation of the employment relationships of academic staff Academic staff are higher education s most important asset and most costly resource Employment and working conditions of academic staff are therefore not only influenced by these developments but seen as an important tool for adaptation to the new circumstances higher education faces Thus it is not only of interest to demonstrate and compare variations across and within countries but also to analyze the outcomes of the changing academic environment on the academic labor market and the conditions of working life

Crisis and Change in Vocational Education and Training Geoffrey Elliott, 1996 In this volume Dr Geoffrey Elliot provides a critical account of the nature extent and impact of government policy for the further education sector He explores a range of responses to policy exposing both intended and unintended consequences of the increased development of Human Resources Management and Quality Assurance system and sets these in the context of competing lecturer and manager perspectives He bases his theoretical focus on a study of a large urban FE college coming to terms with increasing pressures from market forces in vocational education At a time of rapid change in FE this book offers useful and relevant information on the impact of government policy and college procedures upon lecturers practice the effects of the introduction of formal quality systems and quantitative performance indicators into the college the conflict of professionals trying to balance the demands of students and managers the resulting tensions between lecturers and senior college managers over resourcing management styles and practices

Higher Education in a Globalising World J. Enders, Oliver Fulton, 2012-12-06 This Festschrift is dedicated to Ulrich Teichler who is celebrating his sixtieth birth day in 2002 Ulrich Teichler has been a central actor in the development of the field of research on higher education in Germany Europe and beyond Not only has he dedicated his professional career to studying a large number of higher education topics through national and international research projects He was also in the fore front of the efforts to strengthen the structure and profile of higher education re search for example through his involvement in the establishment of the Consortium of Higher Education Researchers CHER In addition he has contributed to many important scholarly works reflecting on the state of the art and the nature of the field The conventional wisdom is that working in a university or college makes you an expert on higher education Consequently while academics like to do research on every possible topic they are in general reluctant to examine their own social institution Within the European context Ulrich Teichler is one of the main exceptions to this rule Already in his student days he has recognised the unique characteristics of higher education institutions and systems and he understood that special efforts are needed to improve our knowledge on higher education      Towards the Virtuous University Jon Nixon, 2008-05-13 Written for higher education academics staff developers policy makers and leaders this book aims to tackle a subject that is at the heart of higher education today the nature of a good university
