Stakeholders Governmentngo Partnerships For International Development:

Stakeholders Ian Smillie, 2013-11-05 This unique study from the OECD Development Centre presents a comprehensive review by independent experts of the relationships and division of responsibility between the 22 member governments of the OECD Development Assistance Committee DAC and NGOs from these donor countries working in international development. Additional chapters cover the roles of the European Union and the World Bank. Among other themes the book looks at two very significant issues. First at the way in which an overemphasis on evaluation may be leading NGOs to focus purely on measuring their output thus choosing activities which are easily accountable. Second it examines the important impacts of the evolution in the funding relationship between governments and NGOs from matching grants to contracts where NGOs must increasingly compete for contracts.

The Rise of Japanese NGOs Kim D. Reimann, 2009-12-04 Over the past two decades non governmental organizations NGOs have exploded in number and emerged as a new force in international and transnational politics. Why however do some countries nonetheless have more active NGO sectors than others? Using the case of Japan this book uncovers patterns of convergence and divergence in levels of activism across industrialized countries and offers a two level political explanation for the rise of NGOs as a global phenomenon. The author argues that activism has been cultivated from above and shows the ways in which political structures and processes at the domestic and international level have either encouraged or discouraged activism. Japan a late developer in terms of its number of NGOs provided a poor political environment for NGO activism for most of the post war period. In the past two decades however as this situation has changed NGOs have become a visible player as both critics and partners of the government. Using the concepts of international political opportunity norm socialization and transnational diffusion Reimann traces the ways in which domestic and international politics interact and promote the rise of NGOs globally. This book will be of interest to postgraduate students and academics working in political science international relations sociology policy studies Asian studies international development and environmental politics.

NGOs as Advocates for Development in a Globalising World Barbara Rugendyke, 2007-12-12 This book traces the recent historical shift in the policies and practises of development NGOs towards increased advocacy activity as a means of achieving poverty alleviation and increased global equity and through case studies illustrates the impacts of the advocacy activities of a range of international NGOs at different geographical scales.

NGOs and Political Change Patrick Kilby, 2015-08-13 The Australian Council for International Development is the peak body of Australian international development NGOs. This book explores ACFID's history since its founding in 1965 drawing on current and contemporary literature as well as extensive archival material. The trends and challenges in international development are seen through the lens of an NGO peak body from the heady optimism of the first Development Decade of the 1960s through the growth in government support of NGOs in the 1980s to the challenges of the 2010s. The major themes of ACFID are presented: human rights gender justice humanitarianism NGO codes of conduct and influencing government policy both broadly and as it relates to NGOs Each of these themes is placed in a global context and in relation to what other NGO networks are doing internationally Stakeholders Andrew L. Friedman, Samantha Miles, 2006 Stakeholders includes a discussion of the concept of the stakeholder in fields such as management corporate governance accounting and finance strategy sociology and politics and in public policy debate Practical examples are used to examine a range of stakeholders European Civil Society and International Development Aid Balázs

Szent-Iványi, 2022-10-26 This book explains how and why European non governmental development organisations NGDOs engage in advocacy towards the European Union EU It analyses the heterogenous structure of the sector with examples ranging from large multinational networks to essentially single person NGDOs The book provides a detailed map of the topics which have featured in NGDO advocacy since 2006 arguing that NGDOs have generally been reactive in their advocacy towards the EU The author explains how they have contested a number of policy issues on the agendas of the EU institutions especially around the diversion of aid to manage migration and leverage private sector investments Furthermore some NGDOs have used the COVID 19 pandemic as an opportunity to re package their pre existing policy demands Based on an analytical framework focused around three variables namely moral vision funding concerns and the need to build maintain a good reputation the book explains these advocacy choices and argues that much of NGDO advocacy seems to be consistent with funding motivations The author highlights the importance of moral vision and reputational concerns in moderating how far NGDOs will go with funding driven advocacy arguing that motivations need to be looked at in their complexity and within the specific policy context Drawing on a range of quantitative and qualitative data sets to provide a rich and varied picture of the advocacy work of European development NGOs European Civil Society and International Development Aid is a key reference for researchers and practitioners working in the field , Public-Private Partnerships Stephen

Strategic Management And Policy Issues Of Ngos O.P. Goel, 2004 The book as its title suggests deals with management related policy issues of NGOs NGOs today have a great importance and carry huge responsibilities in the global society Their role in sustainable development of society is crucial Today good governance needs support of NGOs Different NGOs have different mission and their management challenges need different kind of approach Another issue of significance attached with functioning of NGOs is related to finances Donors are funding agencies are liberal in their approach but policies need to focus on the fact that funds are channeled in the direction and their utilisation brings in the benefits to those for whom they are mentioned All these issues from the nucleus of this work The book is aimed at being useful to NGOs policy planners social activist and others concerned with social work

NGOs and Governance in the Arab World Sarah Ben Néfissa, Carlos Milani, 2005 Most non governmental organizations NGOs in the Arab world have traditionally been active in the areas of social work and charity often within a religious or communal framework But recently many of these organizations have become the forum for conflicts between different political trends while others tackle political problems such as human rights or democratic issues Facing the rejuvenated NGO scene in the Arab world public authorities remain torn between support for the concerns of civil society and the traditional mode of management which does not delegate consult or decentralize Can NGOs in the Arab world be considered full fledged actors of governance and of national and local development Is the relationship between NGOs and public authorities at the national and local level one of partnership or opposition and competition Are NGOs perceived to be palliatives to the shortcomings of the public authorities How is the relationship between NGOs and society to be defined Do Arab NGOs highlight the issues that remain undetected by the classical methods of action of the public authorities The studies in this collection arising out of the Conference on NGOs and Governance in the Arab World held in Cairo in March 2000 attempt to answer these and other areas of concern Contributors Sylvia Chiffolleau Dina Craissati Guilain Denoeux Mona Fawaz Vivian Fouad Sari Hanafi Karam Karam Samir Marcos Nicola Pratt Nadia Refat Pierre Jean Roca Muhamad Al Sayyid Said Salma Aown Shawa Abd Al Ghaffar Shukr Human Rights Education and the Politics of Knowledge Joanne Coysh, 2017-02-24

Around the world there are a myriad of NGOs using human rights education HRE as a tool of community empowerment with the firm belief that it will help people improve their lives One way of understanding these processes is that they translate universal human rights speak using messages and symbols which make them relevant to people s daily lives and culturally resonant However an alternative more radical perspective is that these processes should engage individuals in modes of critical inquiry into the ways that that existing power structures maintain the status quo and control not only how we understand and speak about social inequality and injustice but also act on it This book is a critical inquiry into the production distribution and consumption of HRE and how the discourse is constructed historically socially and politically through global institutions and local NGO practice The book begins with the premise that HRE is composed of theories of human rights and education both of which are complex and multifaceted However the book demonstrates how over time a dominant discourse of HRE constructed by the United Nations institutional framework has come to prominence and the ways it is reproduced and reinforced through the practice of intermediary NGOs engaged in HRE activities with community groups Drawing on socio legal scholarship it offers a new theoretical and political framework for addressing how human rights pedagogy knowledge and power can be analysed between the global and local by connecting the critical but well trodden theories of human rights to insights on critical pedagogy It uses critical discourse analysis and ethnographic research to investigate the practice of NGOs engaged in HRE using contextual evidence and findings from fieldwork with NGOs and communities in Tanzania The European Union and the Developing Countries Olufemi Babarinde, Gerrit Faber, 2005-02-01 The relationships between the European Union and developing countries in Africa the Caribbean and the Pacific or ACP countries have been called a model for North South development cooperation The Lom Conventions were the embodiment of this model After 25 years the European Union and the ACP group signed a new partnership agreement the Cotonou Agreement Given the disappointing results of the former conventions this book investigates the innovations in the EU ACP relationship Authors from different backgrounds including law political science and economics analyze the forces that gave rise to the new agreement as well as the negotiating process of the new agreement and the negotiations that are taking place to produce the planned Economic Partnership Agreements

EPA that are to replace the existing non reciprocal trade preferences that are incompatible with WTO law The potential benefits of EPAs are discussed as is the alternative in the shape of an improved and general preferential system The amended mechanism for aid delivery the increased stress on political dialogue between the partners and the introduction of more civil society participation in the cooperation are extensively analyzed and discussed The effects of the introduction of the Euro and the effect of the planned stimuli on Direct Foreign Investment in ACP economies make this volume very complete in coverage of the ACP EU relations Its relevance extends far beyond the ACP EU relationship as it shows and discusses particular solutions for problems that occur in North South relations in general Globalization Jan Aart

Scholte, 2017-03-16 This highly acclaimed bestselling textbook quickly established itself as one of the leading texts on the subject worldwide in its 1st edition Now substantially revised and updated Scholte provides students with a comprehensive introduction to globalization and questions why this phenomenon has occurred to what extent it changes the world and whether it is a force for good or ill Accessibly written by a leading authority both as an academic researcher and a policy consultant this second edition draws on the author's research in more than 20 countries over 5 continents Split into 3 parts the text first outlines a critical framework for understanding globalization before exploring its impact on society and the key debates surrounding its normative impact Exploring questions such as what globalization is how it has emerged and what effect it has had on society this text is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students seeking a thorough study of globalization New to this Edition A broader perspective on all the dimensions of globalization Makes use of the extensive new data and research findings since the first edition was released Draws more widely from other fields such as Business Studies Law and Economics The Virtuous Spiral Alan Fowler, 2013-11-05 The Virtuous Spiral is without doubt a most welcome addition to the body of knowledge that will continue to be highly valued in the NGO sector Ezra Limiri Mbogori Director Mwelekeo wa NGO MWENGO Harare Fowler demonstrates how development NGOs can engage in a virtuous spiral of performance based learning that regenerates public trust This is a timely book dealing squarely with the confidence crisis faced by many NGOs in the South and North Louk De La Rive Box Director European Centre for Development Policy Management Maastricht Sustainability is crucial for all institutions involved in international development This work offers practical guidance on how to achieve it There are three main kinds of sustainability and a section of the book is devoted to each making the impact of the organization's work sustainable ensuring continuity of funding and making the organization itself sustainable to remain viable Achieving all three creates a virtuous spiral The book takes an organizational rather than a technical or impact based approach to sustainability It is based on extensive international research and offers many practical examples of sustainability and the difficult trade offs involved
