talent to nurture it and to assess abilities and disabilities in ways that help every individual reach his or her full potential In pursuing that goal decision makers in education industry and government are relying increasingly on standardized tests sets of question with identical directions time limits and tasks for all test takers designed to permit an inference about what someone knows or can do in a particular area CALIBRATING DIFFERENCE Our emphasis on standardized testing rests on a premise that is so basic it often escapes notice that we humans are different from each other in ways that are both meaningful and measurable We differ in terms of cognitive ability aptitude for performing different kinds of mental and physical tasks temperament and interests But somehow without sufficient examination we have taken a great collective leap from that commonplace to the notion that there are precise measurable gradations of innate ability that can be used to direct children to the right classrooms and adults to the right job slots The Materials of Reading Willis Lemon Uhl,1924 Every supervisor and teacher of reading and literature is required to select and organize content for courses Even if a course of study is uniform for a city or state the successful teacher must supplement and reorganize the prescribed content the meet the needs of a specific class The purpose of this book is to facilitate such selection and organization by presenting an interpretation of the experiences of thousands and teachers and the conclusions of many investigators This book is intended for all teachers and prospective teachers of reading and literature
