Summer On Kidds Creeks Boys Want To Read:

On Leatherwood Creek T/Sgt. James Lee Hutchinson EdS, 2016-10-14 Life in the poverty of the Great Depression prior to World War II was a serious time which today s generation can only imagine and could not endure However I have used the short story format humor and a sixth grade vocabulary in many stories to encourage reading for ages twelve to ninety The names of my boyhood pals represent many of my childhood pals and stories are based on real events My sketches and photos help set the scene for each short story which stands alone but is more or less in order of events and seasons The sketches also signify that I qualify as a starving artist The twenty five percent unemployment in our community led to many people living on the edge of starvation Families lived in houses without electricity water or central heating and their lives were not complicated by bathrooms air conditioning television computer games or cell phones The outhouse was on the alley and house water came from well pumps or a neighbor s faucet Schools and parents demanded strict discipline and education was important Most families were striving to survive and rear their children to be law abiding citizens Children spent time in the fresh air organized their own games and roamed the streets fields or woodlands However they were assigned home chores and expected to contribute to the family The Greatest Generation saved our country and the freedom we have enjoyed for three quarters of a century

Reading Shaver's Creek Ian Marshall,2018-02-16 What does it mean to know a place What might we learn about the world by returning to the same place year after year What would a long term record of such visits tell us about change and permanence and our place in the natural world This collection explores these and related questions through a series of reflective essays and poems on Pennsylvania s Shaver s Creek landscape from the past decade Collected as part of The Ecological Reflections Project a century long effort to observe and document changes to the natural world in the central

Pennsylvanian portion of the Appalachian Forest these pieces show how knowledge of a place comes from the information and perceptions we gather from different perspectives over time They include Marcia Bonta s keen observations about how humans knowingly and unknowingly affect the landscape Scott Weidensaul s view of the forest as a battlefield and Katie Fallon describing the sounds of human and nonhuman life along a trail Together these selections create a place based portrait of a vivid ecosystem during the first decade of the twenty first century Featuring contributions by nationally known nature writers and local experts Reading Shaver s Creek is a unique complex depiction of the central Pennsylvania landscape and its ecology We know the land and creatures of places such as Shaver s Creek are bound to change throughout the century This book is the first step to documenting how In addition to the editor contributors to this volume are Marcia Bonta Michael P Branch Todd Davis Katie Fallon David Gessner Hannah Inglesby John Lane Carolyn Mahan Jacy Marshall McKelvey Steven Rubin David Taylor Julianne Lutz Warren and Scott Weidensaul

The Hills Brad Sieg,2014-03-05 Back in the time when creeks were clean the air was fresh fish were found in the creeks and frogs That s when I would run through the woods just to explore and see what would be ahead or climb a tree to see how high I could go so I could see beyond the trees

Up The Creek Stevie Potter,2023-03-27 An Appalachian story of a six year old boy moving to his grandfather s property on Elkhorn Creek in eastern Kentucky where he experiences all the great things about living off the land from fruit trees a garden catching crawdads minnows and tuffies fishing and learning to swim Starting school from first to the third grade Having the teacher in the second grade put him in a special class for slow learners and being bullied Learning how important studying in school is to getting straight As Getting his first bicycle a dog and a horse Losing it all when his parents got a divorce moving to Chicago with his mother and learning to adapt to the big city life then moving to Indiana and going to school with Amish kids and living in the country saying goodbye to his mother when the court grants his dad full custody then moving back to Elkhorn Creek after eighteen months and through all the diversity not letting it trouble him but learning how strong he has become and more determined to live a happy and prosperous life
