Nonviolent Theology of Love Sharon L. Baker Putt,2021-02-02 The impetus behind the ease with which the church has periodically justified violent behavior lies in its conceptual image of God as a violent deity This book emerges out of a passion to think differently albeit biblically about the character of God and articulates a theological construction of a nonviolent God an alternative to any image of God that seems to condone human violence It calls the church to rethink theology as something other than what might be termed redemptive violence and encourages Christians to reinterpret Scripture and traditional theological beliefs in ways that are more faithful to the God disclosed in Jesus of Nazareth Students of theology need a fresh glimpse of the love mercy and redemptive power of God through Jesus As it follows the structure of the Apostles Creed through the various theological topics this book reminds Christians to share in God s desires for peace and love and to recommit themselves to the call of God to be ministers of reconciliation and lovers of both neighbors and enemies even while at times responding to violence with nonviolent resistance The Pink Princess Phone: Dialing Destiny Kristin Alger

RN,2024-10-02 The Pink Princess Phone Dialing Destiny by Kristin Alger is a transformative guide that illuminates the path to manifesting one s desired destiny It explores a unique blend of techniques that empower individuals to shape their future and achieve their dreams The book serves as a guide for readers on a journey to the mystical Pink Princess Nexus Here seekers undergo a profound metamorphosis emerging as sages endowed with ancient wisdom Living in the vibration of the reality they are seeking The Divine Hotline John Babbs,1987 Cosmologies of Pure Realms and the Rhetoric of Pollution Yohan Yoo,James W. Watts,2021-05-30 This collaboration between two scholars from different fields of religious studies draws on three comparative data sets to develop a new theory of purity and pollution in religion arguing that a culture s beliefs about cosmological realms shapes its pollution ideas and its purification practices The authors of this study refine Mary Douglas foundational theory of pollution as matter out of place using a comparative approach to make the case that a culture's cosmology designates which materials in which places constitute pollution By bringing together a historical comparison of Ancient Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions an ethnographic study of indigenous shamanism on Jeju Island Korea and the reception history of biblical rhetoric about pollution in Jewish and Christian cultures the authors show that a cosmological account of purity works effectively across multiple disparate religious and cultural contexts They conclude that cosmologies reinforce fears of pollution and also that embodied experiences of purification help generate cosmological ideas Providing an innovative insight into a key topic of ritual studies this book will be of vital interest to scholars and graduate students in religion biblical studies and anthropology Christ and Culture Graham Ward,2015-11-04 dangerously bodily and too fully involved in sensual and sexual pleasures to be of true worth Feeling Pleasures argues that this tension came to the fore during the English Renaissance and allowed some of the central debates of this period surrounding the nature of human experience of the material world and of the relationship between the human and the divine to proceed through discussions of touch It also argues that the unstable status of touch was of particular import to the poetry of this period By bringing touch to the fore in a period usually associated with the dominance of vision and optics Joe Moshenska offers reconsiderations of major English poets especially Edmund Spenser and John Milton while exploring a range of spheres in which touch assumed new significance These include theological debates surrounding relics and the Eucharist in the work of Erasmus Thomas Cranmer and Lancelot Andrewes the philosophical history of tickling the touching of paintings and sculptures in a European context faith healing and experimental science and the early reception of Chinese medicine in England

Textual Reasonings Peter Ochs, Nancy Levene, 2003 This is a print on demand book and is therefore non returnable Textual reasoning is the name that a group of contemporary Jewish thinkers has given to its overlapping practices of Jewish philosophy and theology This volume represents the most public expression to date of the shared work over a period of twelve years of this society of textual reasoners Although the movement of textual reasoning is diverse and multiform it is characterized at bottom by the pursuit of the claim that there are significant affinities between Jewish forms of reading and reasoning and postmodern thought These affinities are presently being pursued by scholars throughout Jewish studies in fields such as the Bible Talmud Midrash medieval philosophy Kabbalah and the Jewish phenomenology of Rosenzweig and Levinas among others As the essays in this book amply convey their work has stimulated a lively and creative reengagement with the philosophical dimensions of Jewish texts and even more with the textual dimensions of Jewish reasoning In large part this new energy has come from conceiving of the postmodern as a place where some of the most distinctive features of Jewish reasoning can be elucidated as well as challenged A fine addition to the Radical Traditions series Textual reasonings provides a superb review of contemporary Jewish thought Contributors Eugene B Borowitz Tikva Frymer Kensy George Lindbeck Zachary Braiterman Robert Gibbs Shaul Magid Virginia Burrus David Weiss Halivni Jacob Meskin Aryeh Cohen Daniel W Hardy Peter Ochs Michael Fishbane Martin Kavka Randi Rashover David F Ford Steven Kepnes Michael Zank Steven D Fraade Nancy Levene Laurie Zoloth
