Dream of the Red Chamber Riccardo

Moratto, Kanglong Liu, Di-kai Chao, 2022-12-15 This edited volume contains an excellent collection of contributions and presents various informative topics under the central theme literary and translation approaches to China's greatest classical novel Honglouloumeng. Acclaimed as one of the Four Great Classical Novels of Chinese literature Honglouloumeng known in English as The Dream of the Red Chamber or The Story of the Stone epitomizes 18th century Chinese social and cultural life. Owing to its kaleidoscopic description of Chinese life and culture the novel has also exerted a significant impact on world literature. Its various translations either full length or abridged have been widely read by an international audience. The contributors to this volume provide a renewed perspective into Honglouloumeng studies by bringing together scholarship in the fields of literary and translation studies. Specifically the use of corpora in the framework of digital humanities in a number of chapters helps re-address many issues of the novel and its translations from an innovative angle. The book is an insightful resource for both scholars of Chinese literature and for linguists with a focus on translation studies.

Dream of the Red Chamber Cao Xue Qin, 2016-10-20 CAO XUEQIN 1715-1763 was born into a noble and powerful family which was reduced from extreme prosperity to poverty. He contemplated the decline of his family and discovered that the society had grown rotten from the inside. Thus he started to write his novel The Story of the Stone later renamed Dream of Red Chamber regarded as the pinnacle of the Chinese classical novel. Of its 120 chapters the first 80 were written by Cao Xueqin while the last 40 chapters were thought to have been written by Gao E. Though certain difference can be discerned in Gao E's sequel in respect to ideological content and artistic achievement it still basically follows Cao's original plan and makes the novel an integral whole. Dream of the Red Chamber 1791 is a novel with great cultural richness. It depicts a multi-layered and tragic world of humans through the eye of a talentless stone the Goddess used for sky mending.

Dream of the Red Chamber (New Edition) Cao Xueqin, 2020-10-14 Dream of the Red Chamber also called The Story of the Stone or Honglouloumeng simplified Chinese traditional Chinese pinyin Hónglǒuméng composed by Cao Xueqin is one of China's Four Great Classical Novels. It was written some time in the middle of the 18th century during the Qing dynasty. Long considered a masterpiece of Chinese literature the novel is generally acknowledged to be one of the pinnacles of Chinese fiction. Redology is the field of study devoted exclusively to this work. It contains within its pages a sampling of all of the major modes and genres of the Chinese literary tradition. The title has also been translated as Red Chamber Dream and A Dream of Red Mansions. The novel circulated in manuscript copies with various titles until its print publication in 1791. Gao E who prepared the first and second printed editions with his partner Cheng Weiyuan in 1791-92 added 40 additional chapters to complete the novel. Red Chamber is believed to be semi-autobiographical mirroring the rise and decline of author Cao Xueqin's own family and by extension of the Qing dynasty. As the author details in the first chapter it is intended to be a memorial to the damsels he knew in his youth friends relatives and servants. The novel is remarkable not only for its huge cast of characters and psychological scope but also for its precise and detailed observation of the life and social structures typical of 18th century Chinese society
