Grusin,2004-04-22 Richard Grusin s innovative study investigates how the establishment of national parks participated in the production of American national identity after the Civil War The creation of America s national parks is usually seen as an uncomplicated act of environmental preservation Grusin argues instead that parks must be understood as complex cultural technologies for the reproduction of nature as landscape art He explores the origins of America s three major parks Yosemite Yellowstone and Grand Canyon in relation to other forms of landscape representation including photography mapping travel writing and fiction Landscapes of Memory and Experience Jan Birksted,2012-12-06 It has been argued that the history of landscape and of gardens has been marginalized from the mainstream of art history and visual studies because of a lack of engagement with the theories methods and concepts of these disciplines This book explores possible ways out of this impasse in such a way that landscape studies would become pivotal through its theoretical advances since landscape studies would challenge the underlying assumptions of traditional phenomenological theory Thus the history and theory of twentieth century landscape might not only once again share concepts and methods with contemporary art and design history but might in turn influence them A complementary sequel to Relating Architecture to Landscape this volume of essays explores further areas of interest and discussion in the landscape architecture debate and offers contributions from a team of well known researchers teachers and writers The choice of topics is wide ranging and features case studies of modern and contemporary schemes from the USA Far East and Australasia Pamphlets on Forest Recreation ,1929
