The Grand Hotels Of Joseph Cornell Burning Deck Fiction:

The Grand Hotels (of Joseph Cornell) Robert Coover, 2002 Coover takes us through the looking glass of Joseph Cornell's boxes into a world of Grand Hotels we never dreamed of. Rooms are accessed via ferris wheel. They open onto crystal cages, night voyages, sand fountains. They lead us back to childhood, to forgotten games, to sleeping princess who do not await a prince, and finally home, poor heart. Funny and wistful by turns, these brilliant vignettes explore the nature of desire and the melancholy of fulfillment. As the author says, they are also an architectural portrait of the artist with biographical information built into the construction of the text like girders, brickwork, or decor.

Understanding Robert Coover Brian Evenson, 2003 This text takes on the work of Robert Coover, a major figure of postmodern metafiction. In an analysis of Coover's short stories and novels, it demonstrates how Coover writes in several different modes that cross over into one another.

100 Great American Novels You've (Probably) Never Read Karl Bridges, 2007-09-30 From Elizabeth Stoddard's The Morgesons and Anzia Yzierska's The Bread Givers to Laurie Colwin's Shine On Bright and Chet Raymo's The Dork of Cork, here are some of the forgotten gems of American literature. Bridges has compiled a diverse list of 100 American novels published between 1797 and 1997 and worthy of the title 'great.' Although the idea is to bring light to the obscure, these titles are physically accessible to readers either in print or represented in library collections and available through library loan.

Five on Fiction Janet Kauffman, 2004 From her early stories on, Kauffman has redefined terms of literature and of human nature. Here, short paragraphs cut across genres to assemble a poetics of narrative. She shows us fiction's elements grounded in the materiality of language, plot as ground, action as just what it looks like, one word after another. Five on Fiction sets out the bones and flesh of narrative in bits and pieces, evidence of its connections to the physical and natural world supplied by publisher.

Robert Coover and the Generosity of the Page Stephane Vanderhaeghe, 2013-03-05 Robert Coover and the Generosity of the Page is an unconventional study of Robert Coover's work from his early masterpiece The Origin of the Brunists (1966) to the recent Noir (2010). Written in the second person, it offers a self-reflexive investigation into the ways in which Coover's stories often challenge the reader to resist the conventions of sense-making and even literary criticism. By portraying characters lost in surroundings, they often fail to grasp Coover's work; playfully enacts a melo-drama of cognition that mirrors the reader's own desire to interpret and make sense of texts in unequivocal ways. This tendency in Coover's writing is indicative of a larger refusal of the ready-made of the once and for all, or the authoritative celebrating instead in its generosity, the widening of possibilities thus inevitably forcing the reader, critic, to acknowledge the arbitrariness and artificiality of her responses.
