The Green Hotel:

The Green Hotel Jesse Gilmour, 2014 Set in Toronto seedy underbelly The Green Hotel challenges our notions of Toronto the good Rich in detail the book engages us with gritty realism and a startling portrayal of a life steeped in sex drugs and pyromania as a young man tries to cope with the anxiety of co existing with a suicidal father Despite the all enveloping despair the main character through moments of deep reflection and self awareness manages to harvest some light from the darkness

Tourism in the Green Economy Maharaj Vijay Reddy, Keith Wilkes, 2015-06-05 The concept of the green economy has now entered mainstream policy debates and been endorsed by a range of United Nations and other organizations The Rio 20 UN conference specifically drew attention to the green economy approach in the context of sustainable development to move away from business as usual practices act to end poverty address environmental destruction and build a bridge to the sustainable future It is increasingly recognized that the tourism sector can make a major contribution to the green economy through more sustainable practices climate change mitigation and ecotourism The role of tourism sector will continue to be crucial in the post 2015 sustainable development agenda too However there are ambiguities about how tourism and allied industries can maximize their contribution to human well being and ensure environmentally sustainability embracing issues of political economy geography and business ethics In this context this book provides consensus about what the green economy entails what role tourism can play in a green economy early responses from many countries on going and emerging research initiatives that will enable tourism s transition to a green economy The chapters address three key themes understanding the Green Economy concept and the role of tourism responses and initiatives in greening tourism and emerging techniques and research implications A wide range of case studies from around the world and in different contexts is included to demonstrate the extent of the challenge and range of opportunities for the tourism industry

The Green Building Evolution Godwell Nhamo, Vuyo Mjimba, 2019-12-19 The Green Building Evolution illuminates global examples and makes use of case studies mainly from South Africa This book is in five parts Part I is a single introductory chapter centred on the evolution of the green building movement Part II addresses the green building terrain Part III presents selected case studies Part IV focuses on chapters that address pushing the boundaries in the green building space while Part V presents emerging trends and policy perspectives Further details are contained in the main body of the book It is our sincere hope that readers will experience the book as an informative and ground breaking adventure Written by 14 authors from different academic disciplines and areas of specialisation the book comes as the sixth in a series that addresses global and national concerns on climate change sustainable development and the green economy transition agenda The book series is conceptualised and coordinated by the Exxaro Chair in Business and Climate Change led by Prof Godwell Nhamo and hosted by the Institute for Corporate Citizenship ICC at the University of South Africa UNISA The books are published by the Human Sciences Research Council HSRC through the Africa Institute of South Africa

Balancing Development and Sustainability in Tourism Destinations Akhmad Saufi, Imanuella R. Andilolo, Norain Othman, Alan A. Lew, 2016-09-26. This book contains 35 papers from the Tourism Outlook Conference held in Lombok, Indonesia, in July 2015. The book presents comprehensive discussions on sustainability in the tourism industry. It includes research on various constituents of the tourism sector and analyses of each of them from a sustainability standpoint. Case studies that are global in nature are presented to show how sustainable applications can be used and how concerns can be addressed. The book is a response to rapid change in contemporary tourism trends brought about by global economic and social forces such as development pressures, population growth, major resource extraction, industrial fishing, global climate change, and steadily rising sea levels. Balancing Development and Sustainability in Tourism Destinations serves as a platform for students and educators, government agency employees, hospitality and tourism industry practitioners, public and private land managers, community development workers, and others interested in identifying practical solutions, charting new directions, and creating opportunities for sustainable tourism development.

Sustainable Economic Development Vasilii Erokhin, Tianming Gao, Andrei Jean Vasile, 2020-12-15. This book is a pivotal publication that addresses the contemporary challenges of globalization and elaborate policy responses to environmental pollution, climate change, economic disruptions, poverty, hunger, and other threats to sustainable economic development. Many parts of the world, territories, and societies are now changing at an unprecedented pace in ways that fundamentally affect the markets, people, the environment, and biodiversity. Such changes are primarily driven by rapid social and economic developments, economic disparities between countries, the internationalization of production and value chains, and industrialization. Increasingly, frequently, business interests are interfering with sustainable development goals. The issue is how to converge the economic benefits with the urgent need for establishing resilient production chains, social networks, sustainably operating markets, and environmental protection. This publication highlights the need for the balanced economic development and comprehensive coverage of many sustainability business areas. Economic production, financial, and social factors of sustainability are discussed by over 90 contributors representing 40 universities and research institutions from seven countries. Their findings are translated into workable approaches and policies for the benefit of the global economy, people, and the environment.

Presents a collection of practical information on ways to lower energy consumption and live in an ecologically friendly manner.

New Perspectives and Paradigms in Applied Economics and Business William Gartner, 2025-03-02

This book features a collection of high quality and peer reviewed papers from the 2024 8th International Conference on Applied Economics and Business which was held in Munich, Germany during August 23-25, 2024. ICAEB is held annually as a platform for the presentation of new advances and research results in the fields of applied economics and business. This is the third in a series of books based on presented papers. Applied economics is a way of dealing with esoteric economic concepts in practical and analytical ways. It allows for decisions to be made that are underlined by theoretical economic principles but utilized in such a way that they transform into real work applications. Topics of the conference include studies in many fields including environmental development, financial, forensic, information, institutional, international labor, managerial, mathematical, monetary, tourism and many more. Applied economics affects all aspects of life and science and it is brought to the forefront in this collection of papers. The conference with its aim to bring together economists from different fields lends itself to a natural and rich collection of scientific papers all focused on the practical application of economic principles. The scope of this collection of papers will be useful to academics and practitioners who look to economics to help solve problems.
